Big Ten Best 37 Conference Championships

Michigan Stadium

With a capacity of 102,501, Michigan Stadium is the largest collegiate sports facility in the nation and has played host to some of the greatest teams and rivalries ever to play the game.

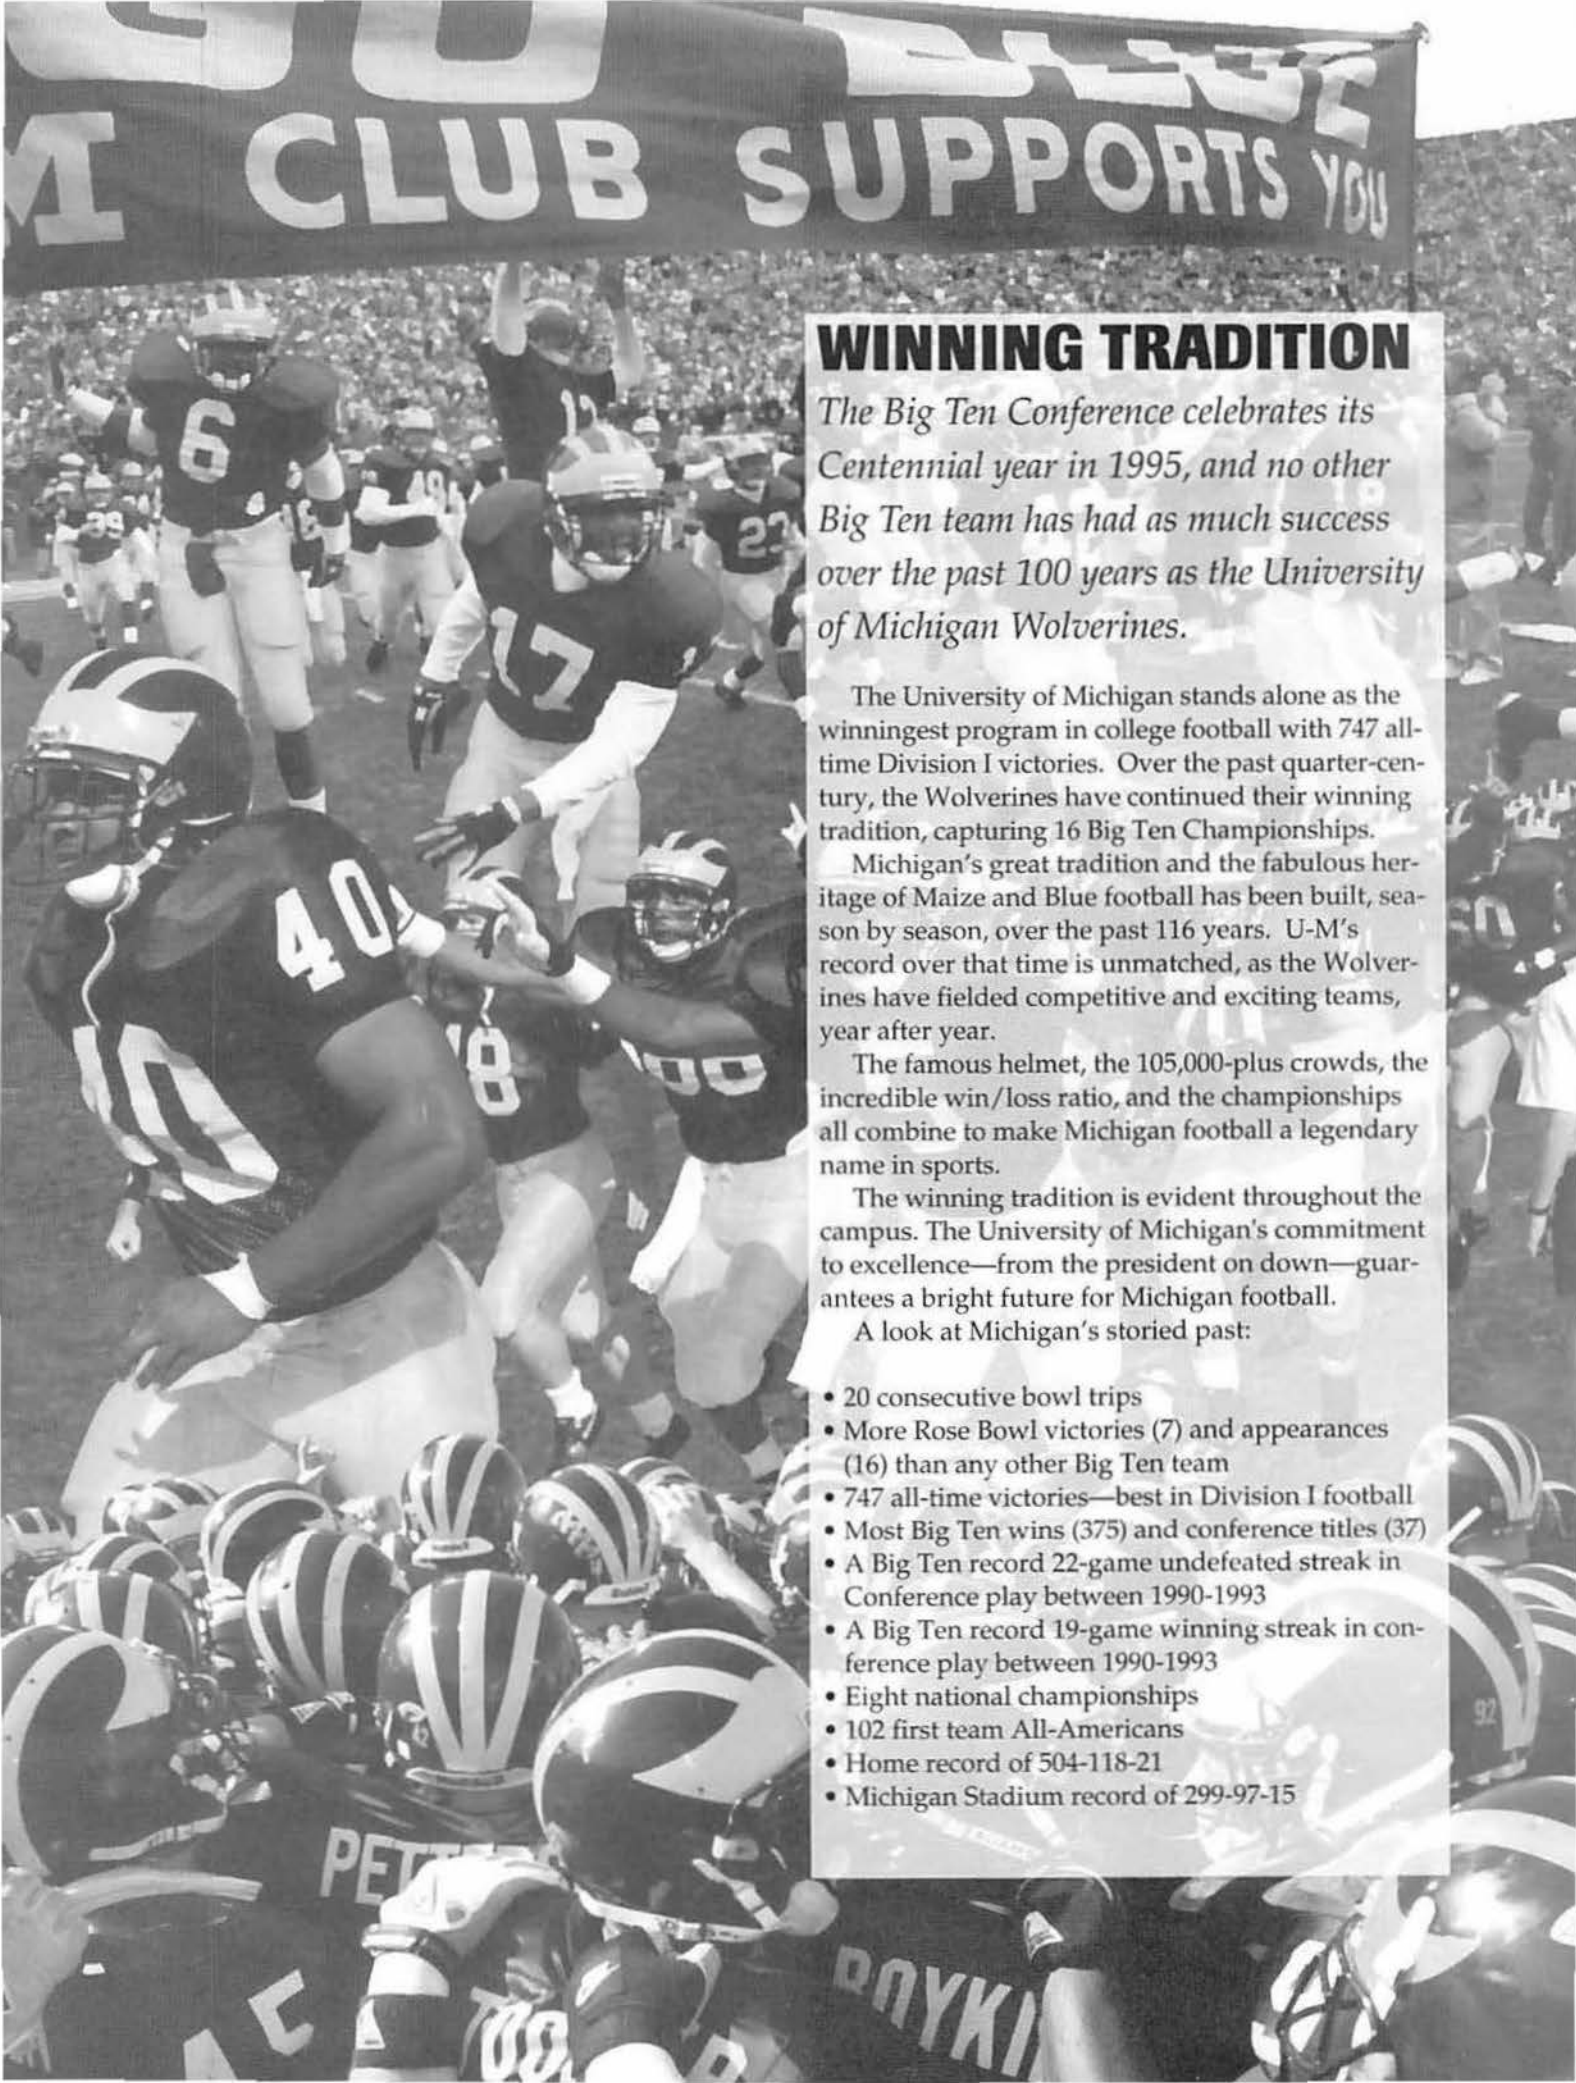

Born from the vision of the legendary Fielding H. Yost, the Stadium was officially dedicated on Oct. 22, 1927 when the Wolverines defeated Ohio State, 21-0. In that game, Bennie Oosterbaan—a three-time All-American for the Wolverines—tossed three touchdown passes to Louie Gilbert, the star of the first-ever game played in the Stadium on Oct. 1 against Ohio Wesleyan.

National Attendance Leaders for 21 Straight Years

On Oct. 6, 1956, Michigan battled Michigan State in the first game played before 100,000 fans. Since then, such crowds have become a tradition in "The Big House." Entering the 1995 season, the Wolverines had played 122 consecutive games in front of 100,000-plus fans.

WINNING TRADITION

The Big Ten Conference celebrates its Centennial year in 1995, and no other Big Ten team has had as much success over the past 100 years as the University of Michigan Wolverines.

The University of Michigan stands alone as the winningest program in college football with 747 all-time Division I victories. Over the past quarter-century, the Wolverines have continued their winning tradition, capturing 16 Big Ten Championships.

Michigan's great tradition and the fabulous heritage of Maize and Blue football has been built, season by season, over the past 116 years. U-M's record over that time is unmatched, as the Wolverines have fielded competitive and exciting teams, year after year.

The famous helmet, the 105,000-plus crowds, the incredible win/loss ratio, and the championships all combine to make Michigan football a legendary name in sports.

The winning tradition is evident throughout the campus. The University of Michigan's commitment to excellence—from the president on down—guarantees a bright future for Michigan football.

A look at Michigan's storied past:

- 20 consecutive bowl trips
- More Rose Bowl victories (7) and appearances (16) than any other Big Ten team
- 747 all-time victories—best in Division I football
- Most Big Ten wins (375) and conference titles (37)
- A Big Ten record 22-game undefeated streak in Conference play between 1990-1993
- A Big Ten record 19-game winning streak in conference play between 1990-1993
- Eight national championships
- 102 first team All-Americans
- Home record of 504-118-21
- Michigan Stadium record of 299-97-15

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

A recent study rated Michigan's overall undergraduate academic program third in the United States. Of the top three universities, only Michigan plays Division I football.

The University of Michigan consistently ranks as one of the finest academic institutions in the nation.

Excellence in both academics and athletics is a rare achievement. At Michigan, it has become a tradition. The number one goal of the Michigan football program is to assure student-athletes the best opportunity to earn the degrees of their choice.

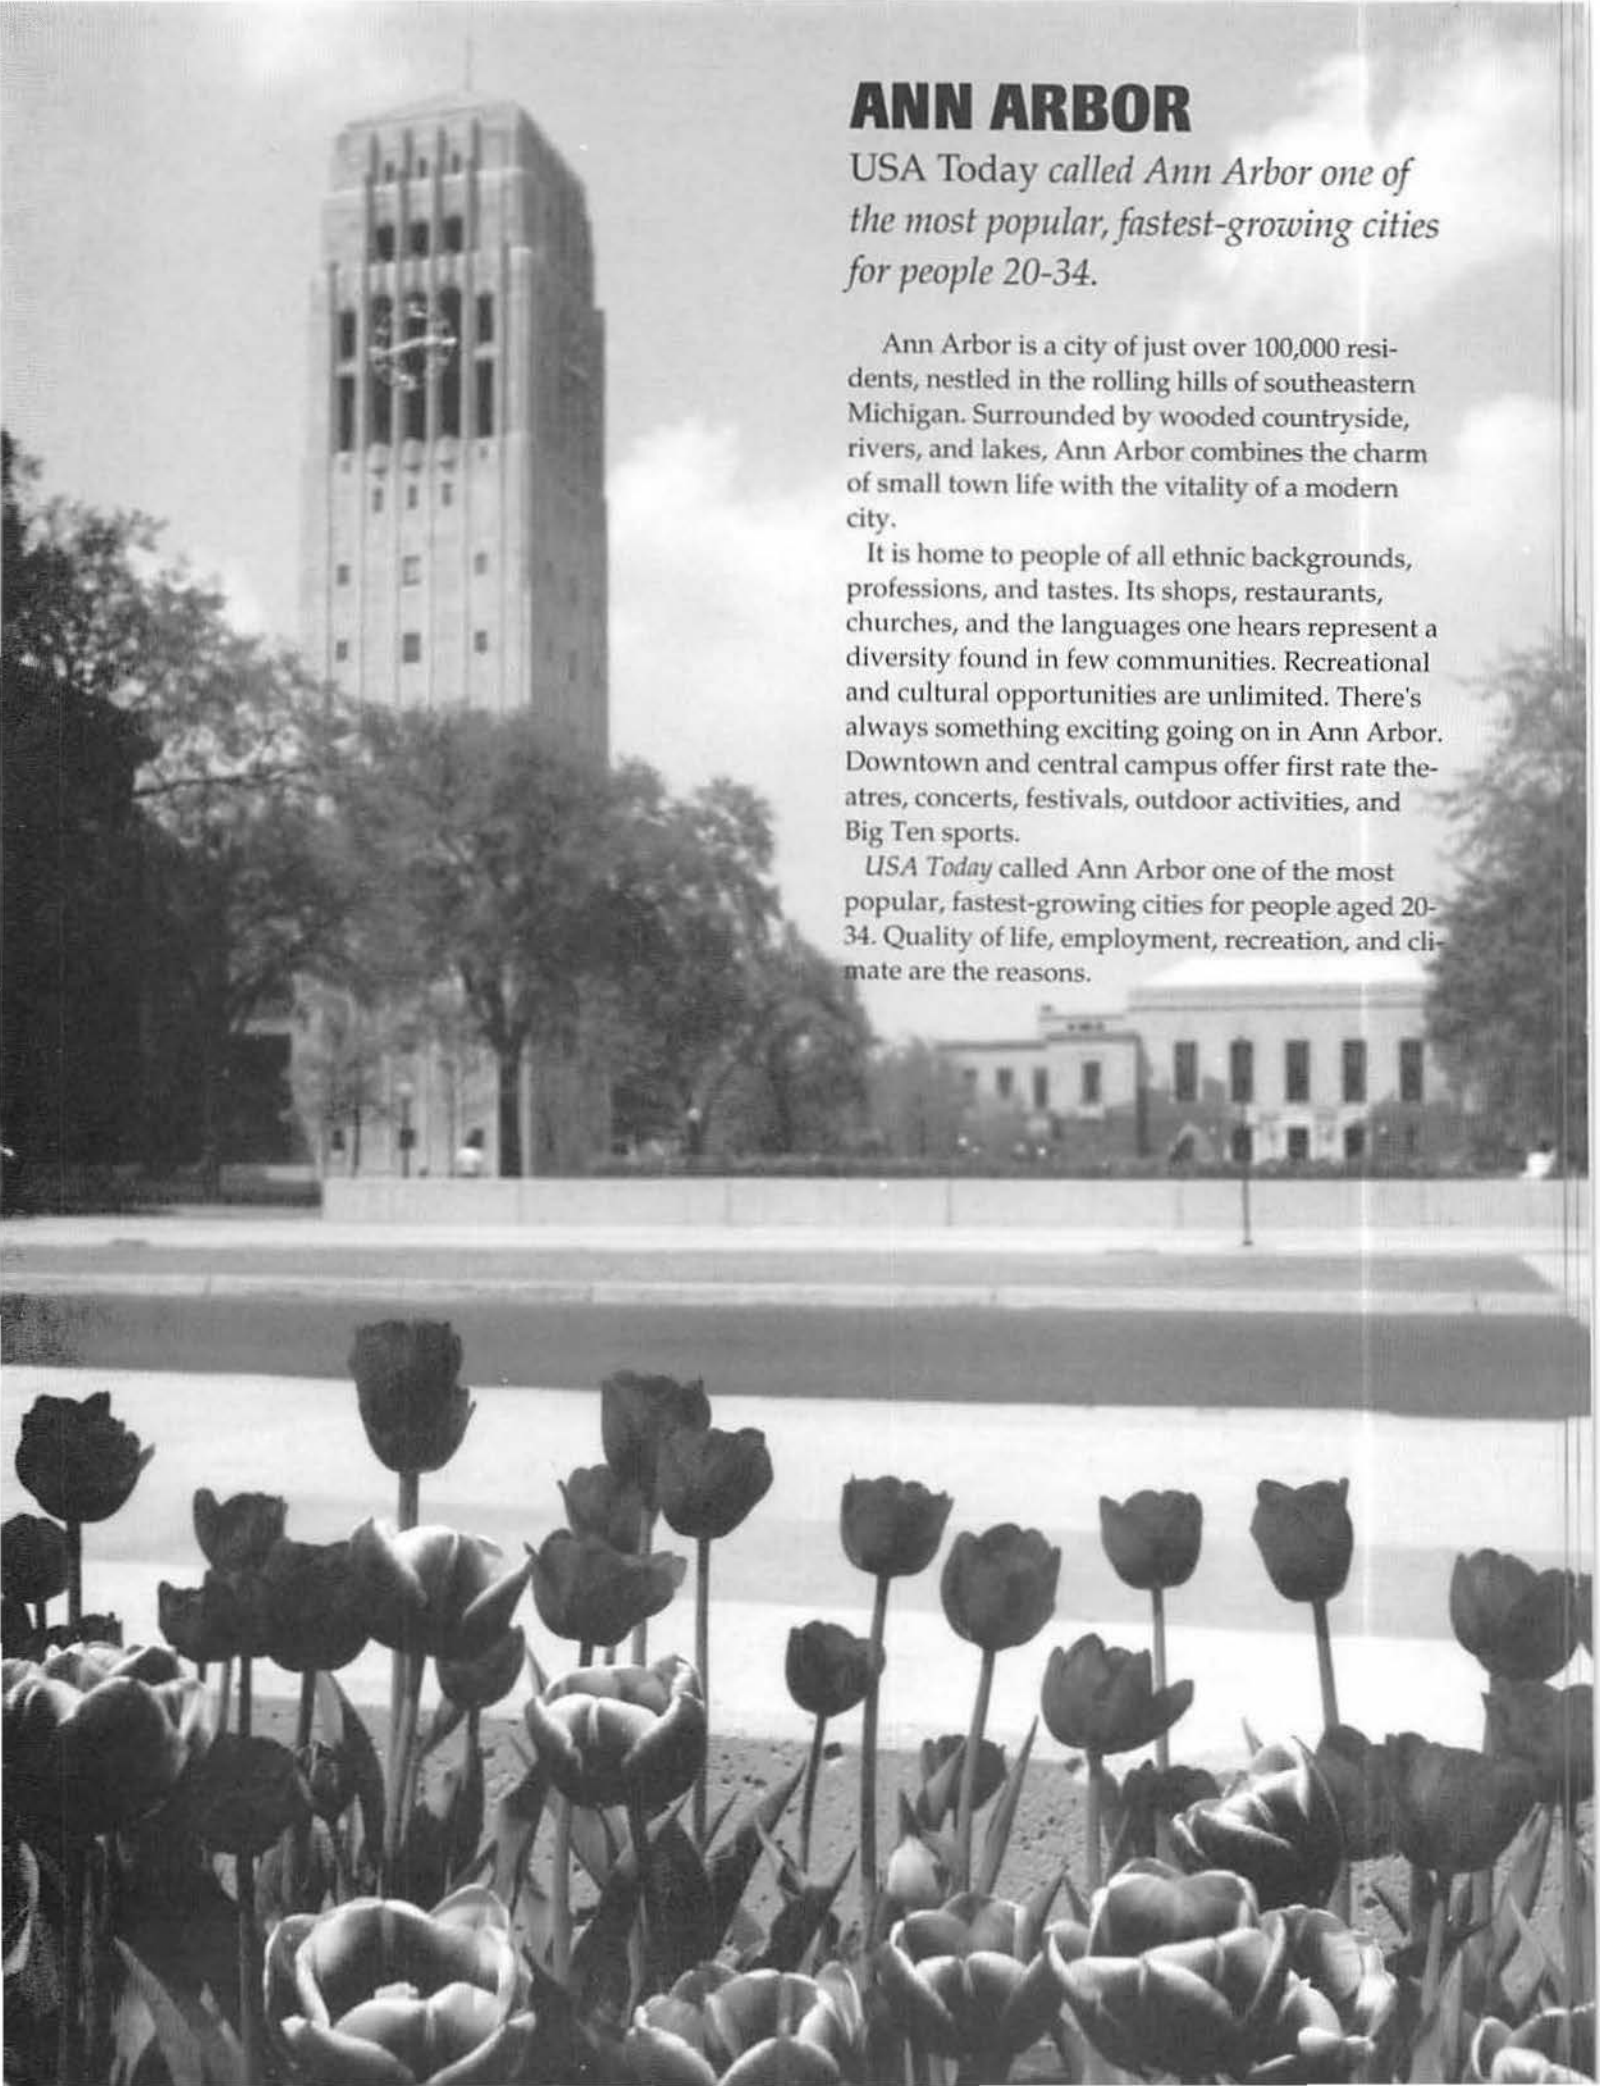

A major factor in selecting a school is diversity of program options, since career interests often change. Michigan's range of academic fields provides all the flexibility you need to prepare for your career — no matter what profession you choose.

Michigan has developed one of the finest academic support systems in the country. Academic counseling and a unique academic skill development program are custom-tailored to the needs of each individual. Student-athletes receive diagnostic testing and evaluation. This pinpoints areas in need of development. Reading, learning, writing, and math skills can be enhanced to assist you in taking full advantage of the academic program at Michigan.

The academic resource center in the undergraduate library houses the academic support program. The center provides instructional facilities, study areas, and a complete multi-terminal computer system. All are for the exclusive use of Michigan student-athletes.

Another feature of the academic support system at Michigan is our Mentor Program. This pairs Michigan student-athletes with faculty and staff volunteers on a one-to-one basis. Mentors provide informal guidance to help students adjust to the pressures of college life.

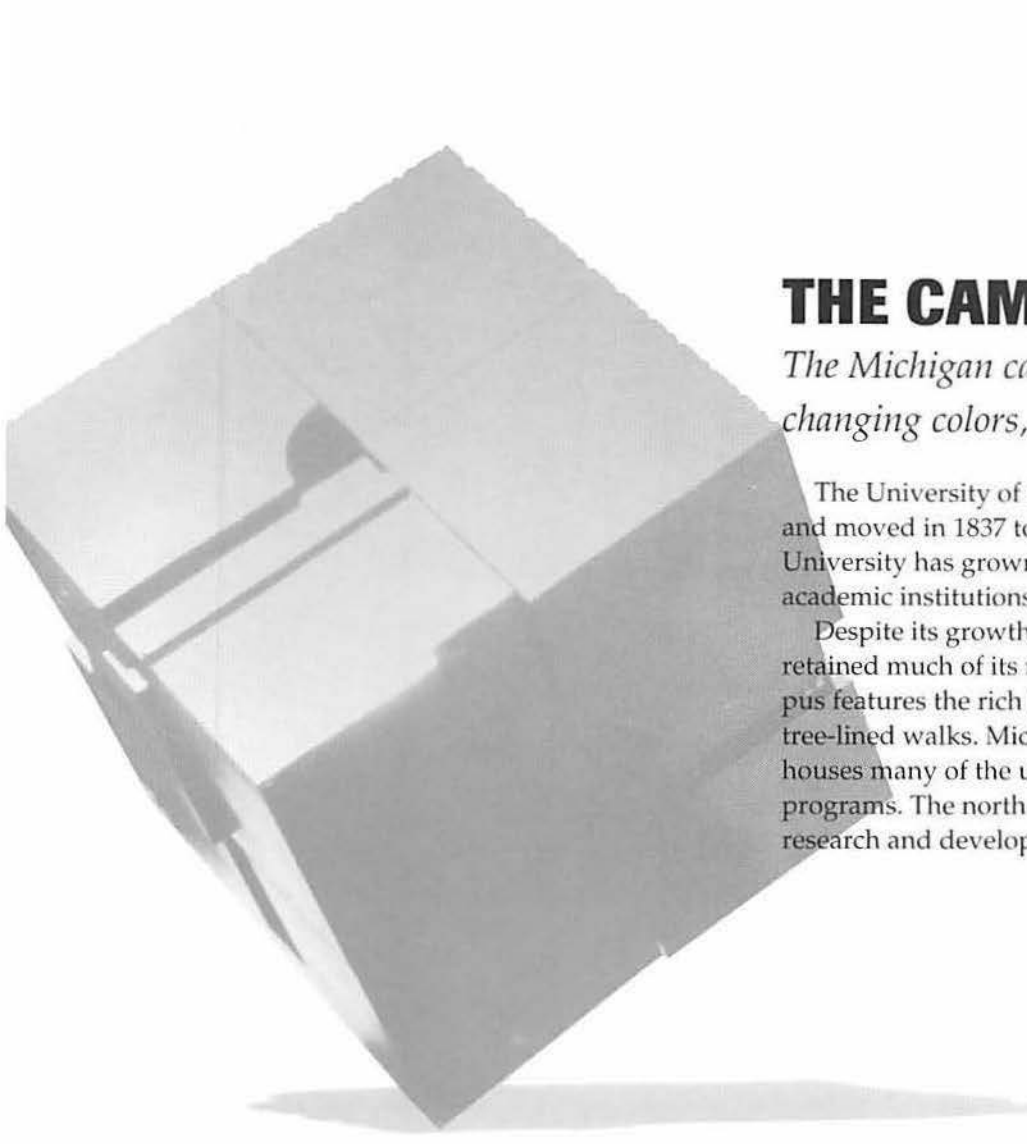

ANN ARBOR

USA Today called Ann Arbor one of the most popular, fastest-growing cities for people 20-34.

Ann Arbor is a city of just over 100,000 residents, nestled in the rolling hills of southeastern Michigan. Surrounded by wooded countryside, rivers, and lakes, Ann Arbor combines the charm of small town life with the vitality of a modern city.

It is home to people of all ethnic backgrounds, professions, and tastes. Its shops, restaurants, churches, and the languages one hears represent a diversity found in few communities. Recreational and cultural opportunities are unlimited. There's always something exciting going on in Ann Arbor. Downtown and central campus offer first rate theatres, concerts, festivals, outdoor activities, and Big Ten sports.

USA Today called Ann Arbor one of the most popular, fastest-growing cities for people aged 20-34. Quality of life, employment, recreation, and climate are the reasons.

THE CAMPUS

The Michigan campus is a kaleidoscope of changing colors, sights and sounds.

The University of Michigan was founded in 1817, and moved in 1837 to the rural town of Ann Arbor. The University has grown into one of the most prestigious academic institutions in the world.

Despite its growth, the Michigan campus has retained much of its natural beauty. The central campus features the rich tradition of ivy-covered walls and tree-lined walks. Michigan's modern north campus houses many of the university's high-tech academic programs. The north campus is a worldwide center for research and development.

SCHEMBECHLER HALL

One of the top athletic facilities in the country.

Opened Aug. 1, 1990, the Schembechler Hall facility is designed to be state-of-the-art well into the 21st century. The multi-million dollar center houses a medical training and treatment center, weight room, locker rooms, a lounge area, and coaching and administrative offices. Schembechler Hall is also home to the Margaret Dow Towsley Sports Museum. The museum celebrates over a century of Michigan Athletics and features a theatre and interactive videos. It is open to the general public 11:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Monday-Friday and 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

ATHLETIC CAMPUS

The most complete campus sports facility in the nation.

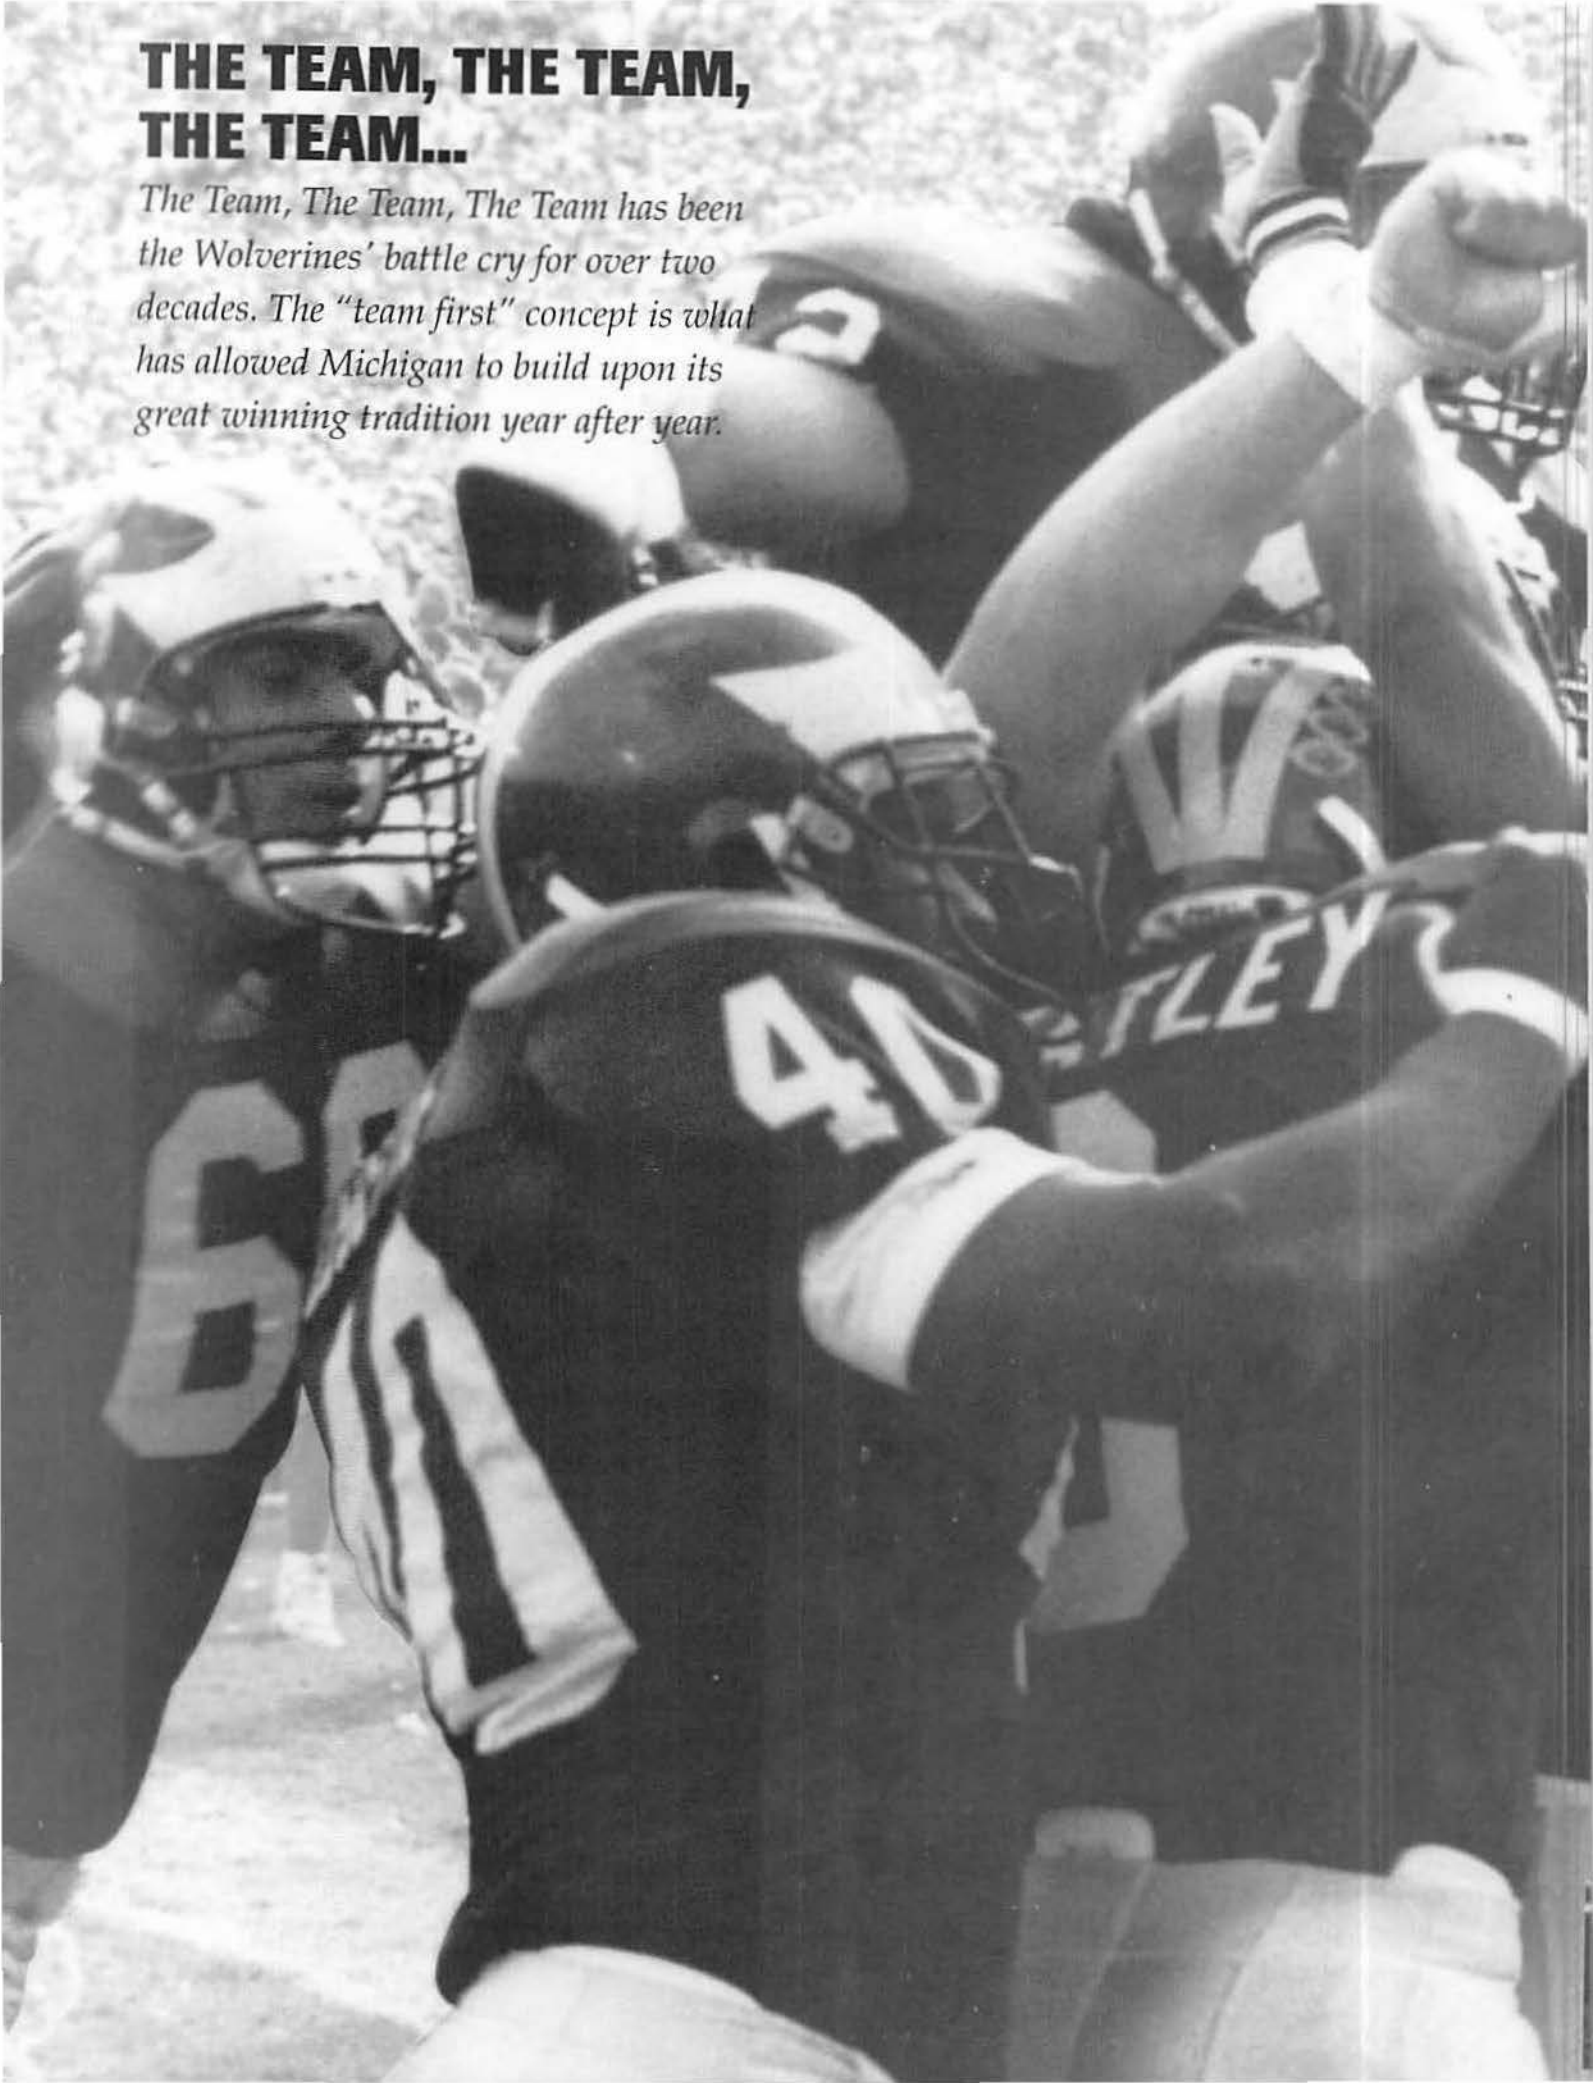

From the stadiums and arenas to the recreational sports buildings, Michigan's athletic complex is unsurpassed as the most complete campus sports facility in the nation.

The highly-competitive Wolverine athletic program demands the best facilities for training and competition. Michigan continues to add to the $200 million-plus athletic plant. Recent additions include one of the country's best championship-quality swimming facilities; the Cliff Keen Arena for volleyball, wrestling and gymnastics; and Schembechler Hall, a complete football complex unlike any in the nation. The University of Michigan Golf Course recently underwent a multi-million dollar renovation and is arguably the finest university-owned golf facility in the country. Funds are currently being raised to add a new indoor-outdoor varsity tennis complex by 1996.

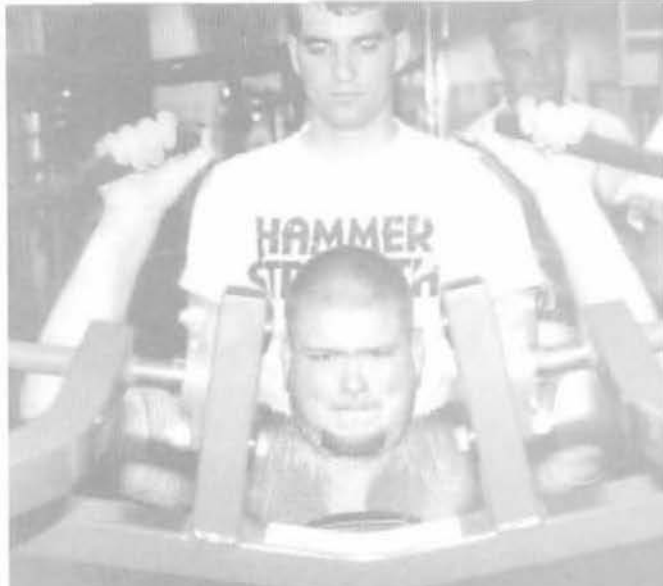

THE TEAM, THE TEAM, THE TEAM...

The Team, The Team, The Team has been the Wolverines' battle cry for over two decades. The "team first" concept is what has allowed Michigan to build upon its great winning tradition year after year.

- A winning percentage of .777 in the last 25 years
- Five consecutive BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS — 1992, 1991, 1990, 1989, and 1988.
- 10 games televised last season and 58 games televised in the last five seasons.
- 26 total post-season appearances.
- 1995 Holiday Bowl victory over Colorado State
- 1994 Hall of Fame Bowl victory over North Carolina State.
- 1993 Rose Bowl victory over Washington
- Led the nation in attendance in the last 21 seasons.
- 122 consecutive crowds of 100,000-plus at Michigan Stadium for Michigan football.
- Over 100 Wolverines drafted by the NFL during the Moeller/Schembechler era.
- 20 straight bowl appearances and 22 in the last 26 seasons.
- 16 Big Ten Championships in the last 25 years.
- NCAA single season attendance record (106,217) in 1994.
- NCAA single game attendance record—106,867 fans at 28-0 win over Ohio State in 1993.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

One-on-one workouts with staff provide the attention and direction needed to help the player reach his maximum potential.

The Michigan Football Schembechler Hall provides outstanding support facilities for training, conditioning, and other programs.

Strength and conditioning are vital to success in college football. At Michigan, it's no exception. A computer system helps monitor each player's diet and training program.

The Michigan weight training program, under strength and conditioning coach Mike Gittleson, is committed to developing every individual. One-on-one workouts with staff provide the attention and direction needed to help the player reach his maximum potential. Michigan works for nothing less than to have the best trained and conditioned football team in America.

THE ALUMNI

A Michigan graduate belongs to the largest alumni body in the world. The Michigan alumni body numbers over 350,000 members — one of every 700 Americans has a Michigan degree.

The academic and athletic credentials gained as a Michigan alumni are key ingredients to individual success after graduation. By any measure — the caliber of the student body, the accomplishments of faculty staff and especially the success of the graduates — Michigan holds a firm place in academia, athletics, industry and business.

- One United States president, former Michigan football standout, Gerald R. Ford.
- Three Supreme Court justices.
- Six Nobel Prize winners.
- Seven NASA astronauts including former Michigan football player, Jack Lousma.

"When I arrived in Ann Arbor to begin my freshman year, I could not possibly have anticipated the impact the next four years would have on my life. The challenge of freshman football, the competition in the classroom, and the comradery of the Sigma Chi House was my introduction to the University. My wife, many of my friends, as well as my business came out of those four years. Anyone that even casually knows me is aware of my love for the University. It had its beginning in the fall of 1953. It doesn't have an end."

JAMES JOHNSON DUDERSTADT, University President

University of Michigan President James J. Duderstadt received his baccalaureate degree in electrical engineering with highest honors in 1964 from Yale University, and his M.S. and Ph.D. in engineering science and physics from the California Institute of Technology in 1967. After a year as an Atomic Energy Commission Fellow at Caltech, he joined the faculty of the University of Michigan in 1969 as a professor of nuclear engineering. Dr. Duderstadt taught for 12 years before becoming dean of the College of Engineering in 1981, and then provost and vice president for academic affairs in 1986. He was named the 11th president of the University of Michigan in 1988.

Dr. Duderstadt was appointed by President Ronald Reagan in 1984 to the first of two six-year terms on the National Science Board; he also served as chairman of the board. He serves on numerous other public and private boards, and is chairman of the Board of Directors of the Big Ten Conference, chairman of the Board of the University of Michigan Hospitals, and a director of Unisys and CMS Energy.

Dr. Duderstadt has received numerous awards for his research, teaching, and service activities, including the President's National Medal of Technology, the E.O. Lawrence Award for excellence in nuclear research, the Arthur Holly Compton Prize for outstanding teaching, and the National Engineer of the Year Award for professional service. He has been elected to numerous professional societies, including the National Academy of Engineering, the American Academy of Arts and Science, Phi Beta Kappa and Tau Beta Pi.

Dr. Duderstadt's wife, Anne, has undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Missouri and Eastern Michigan University, and serves both as first lady of the University and as an institutional advancement officer. She also is a member of numerous boards and commissions.

The Duderstadts have two daughters, Susan and Katharine. Susan earned a B.S. in molecular biophysics and biochemistry from Yale University and an M.D. and M.P.H. from the University of Michigan. She is currently a resident in pediatrics at Northwestern University hospitals. Katharine graduated from Harvard University with a B.A. in English language and American studies and served as a Peace Corps volunteer for two years in Hungary. Katharine is a Ph.D. candidate in atmospheric science at the University of Michigan.

—Term expires Dec. 31, 1996

M JOE ROBERSON, Director of Athletics

University of Michigan Athletic Director M. Joe Roberson is known for character, integrity and his ability to get the job done.

The announcement of Roberson's hiring on Sept. 3, 1993 as Michigan's eighth Director of Intercollegiate Athletics culminated the first major search initiated by Dr. James J. Duderstadt, who assumed the Michigan presidency in June of 1988. Duderstadt was looking for a person with unquestioned integrity, exceptional financial skills and administrative ability, proven leadership experience and strong dedication to Michigan athletics.

He found them all in Roberson, a quintessential Michigan man who holds three degrees from the University and has worked for the institution for over 28 years.

A native of Flint, Mich., Roberson began his University of Michigan career on the Flint campus in 1966, serving as dean for student services. He served in that capacity for 14 years until his appointment to vice chancellor at Flint in 1980. In 1983-84, he was interim chancellor of U-M Flint.

In 1984, Roberson joined the Ann Arbor campus as director of corporate relations. The responsibility for foundation relations was added in 1986. In that role, he was responsible for planning and implementing a program that would emphasize developing new or substantially increased gift commitments from large, publicly held corporations and professional foundations across the country.

Roberson became associate vice president for development in 1989, and in 1992 was named executive director of the Campaign for Michigan, the University's fundraising effort aimed at raising $1 billion in private donations by 1997. The Campaign had already reached the halfway mark prior to Roberson moving over to the Athletic department.

Before he began his career as an educational administrator, Roberson enjoyed success in the athletic arena. He had an outstanding career as a baseball and basketball player at Flint Northern High School, and signed as a left-handed pitcher with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1953. In his five-and-a-half year minor league career, he played and trained with a number of men who are now major league coaches and managers, including Sparky Anderson of the Detroit Tigers.

After an arm injury ended his professional baseball career, Roberson returned to college and completed his Bachelor of Arts degree from U-M Flint; he earned his Master of Arts and Ph.D. degrees from the U-M in Ann Arbor. Roberson received a certificate from the Harvard University Institute for Educational Management in 1982.

Roberson is a member of the Board of Directors of First of America Bank in Ann Arbor, is co-chair of the Arbor Hospice Development Committee, and is chair of the NCAA Division I Baseball Midwest Regional Advisory Committee.

Roberson, 60, who married the former Carolyn Black on Christmas Day 1994, lives in Ann Arbor. He was widowed in 1989 after 34 years of marriage to Barbara Perry. He has a son, Marvin, who works for an environmental organization in the Upper Peninsula, and a daughter, Kimberly, who is currently working on her Ph.D. in social work and public policy at Michigan.

M MICHIGAN OFFICIALS

PEGGY BRADLEY-DOPPE

Senior Associate Director

Peggy Bradley-Doppes was named Senior Associate Director in the fall of 1994, after serving as Michigan's Women's Athletic Director and Associate Athletic Director since March 1991. She moved into athletic administration following a successful collegiate Division I volleyball coaching career which spanned 13 years and three universities, including U-M.

As Senior Associate, Bradley-Doppes directly supervises operations for nine men's and women's sport programs—men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's gymnastics, field hockey, softball and volleyball. She has responsibilities with the Athletic Marketing and Promotions department and serves as Athletic department liaison with the Michigan Marching Band and the Michigan Cheerleaders. Bradley-Doppes is the department's senior women's administrator in NCAA and Big Ten Conference matters. She is a member of the Big Ten's Budget and Finance; Television; and Principles, Priorities and Guidelines committees, the last of which establishes guidelines, philosophy and procedures for the conference.

Bradley-Doppes is a member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee and the NCAA Peer Review team. She is a member of the board of directors for USA Volleyball and National Association of Collegiate Women Athletic Administrators.

An all-American and all-regional volleyball player at the College of Mount St. Joseph, Bradley-Doppes coached at Miami University and the University of North Carolina where she led both programs to conference titles and NCAA national tournament appearances; she was named conference coach of the year while at each school. Bradley-Doppes coached the Michigan volleyball team for two seasons (1990-91). Her coaching accolades include Olympic Festival gold and silver medal teams, being named to the USVBA CAP Cadre Staff, as well as being the youngest coach in NCAA volleyball history to record 300 Division I wins.

A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, Bradley-Doppes received her undergraduate degree from Mount Saint Joseph and a master's degree in education from Miami University.

BOB De CAROLIS

Senior Director for Financial Operations

Bob De Carolis enters his 17th year in the Michigan Athletic Department and his second as Senior Director for Financial Operations. De Carolis began his service at Michigan in 1979 as Assistant Business Manager. In 1983 he assumed the responsibilities of the department's Business Manager. His career progression continued in 1987 when he was named the Assistant Athletic Director for Business Affairs, and then again in 1990 when he was promoted to Associate Athletic Director for Internal Operations. In his present position, De Carolis is responsible for all financial and business operations, as well as contract administration.

In addition to the responsibilities above, De Carolis has served in a variety of other capacities including Women's Head Softball Coach (1980-84), Interim Director of the Student-Athlete Support Program (1990-91), Interim Director of Marketing (1991-92), and Director of Plant and Facility Operations (1991-94).

A native of Philadelphia, PA, De Carolis received his B.S. degree in Business from Bloomsburg University (PA) in 1976 where he played football and captained the baseball team. He earned his M.S. degree in Sport Management from the University of Massachusetts in 1979.

Bob and his wife Sandra, a 1983 Michigan graduate, reside in Ann Arbor. They have three daughters, Lyndsay (6) and two-year-old twins Lauren and Hayley.

FRITZ SEYFERTH

Senior Associate Director

Fritz Seyferth enters his second year as Senior Associate Director overseeing Michigan's wrestling, baseball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's golf, men's and women's tennis, and soccer programs. He is also in his seventh year as Director of Development and Alumni Relations.

Seyferth and his staff are responsible for the multi-million dollar fundraising efforts that funded Schembechler Hall and the University of Michigan Golf Course restoration. The department is currently charged with raising $43.6 million for the "TEAM" Campaign for Athletics as part of the $1 billion "Campaign for Michigan" solicitation. The most visible part of the "TEAM" Campaign will be the $5 million Yost Field House renovation. Emphasis is also focused on expanding endowments for athletic scholarships and coaching positions.

A former Wolverine fullback (1968-71), Seyferth played in two Rose Bowls and received All-Big Ten Conference honors. Seyferth graduated from the University of Michigan with an Industrial and Operations Engineering degree (1973) and received his MBA from the University of Connecticut. Drafted by the New York Giants, he went to work for B.F. Goodrich in Akron, Ohio, and Arthur Young and Co. in New York City, before joining Bo Schembechler and the Michigan football staff as Recruiting Coordinator in 1979.

Seyferth enjoys supporting the community and is active in Ann Arbor and Detroit as a member of several community foundations and boards of directors. Fritz and his wife, Lynn, live in Ann Arbor and have three children, Sean, Courtney and Nicholas.

TIRREL BURTON

Associate Director, Licensing

Tirrel Burton is in his third year as Associate Athletic Director. It is his 25th season with the Michigan Athletic Department. Presently, he directs Michigan's national licensing program and assists Fritz Seyferth in the operations of the U-M Athletic Development and Alumni Relations office.

Burton graduated from Miami of Ohio in 1956 with bachelor's and master's degrees in education. He joined the Michigan football coaching staff as Bo Schembechler's freshmen coach in 1970 and coached the receiving corps from '72 until 1980. After the '80 season, he coached the running backs through 1991. He is a member of the Miami Sports Hall of Fame for both track and football. He was an assistant coach at Central State in Ohio in 1968 and Miami of Ohio in 1969 before coming to Ann Arbor in 1970.

Burton and his wife, Sue, live in Ann Arbor and have a son, Mark, and a daughter, Ellen.

PHIL HUGHES
Associate Director

Phil Hughes begins his second year as Associate Director, and fifth year as head of Academic Services. He directs all aspects of the department's Student-Athlete Support Program including scholarships, tutoring, academic advising, and career counseling.

Hughes came to Michigan from Tulane University, where he served as Assistant Athletic Director for Athletic Student Services for three years. His initial position at Tulane was as an academic counselor, a position he took in 1987.

A 1980 graduate of the University of California at San Diego, Hughes continued his education at the University of Kentucky. After earning his Master's degree in Counseling Psychology, Hughes worked as an academic athletic counselor before moving to Tulane.

He has previously served as an Executive Board Member of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics.

Phil and his wife, the former Betty Bagot, have a five-year-old son, Stafford, and a three-year-old daughter, Elizabeth.

MIKE STEVENSON
Associate Director

Mike Stevenson is in his 21st year as Associate Director of Athletics at Michigan. Stevenson directs the University Recreational Sports Programs as well as the University of Michigan and Radrick Farms golf courses. In addition, he is responsible for Michigan Stadium and Athletic Department turf management as well as administrative projects assigned by the director of athletics.

Stevenson received his B.S. degree in Physical Education from Central Michigan University in 1962. He received his M.A. from the University of Minnesota and his Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from Minnesota in 1973. In 1994, Stevenson was named an "Honorary 'M' Man," in recognition of his vast contributions to the Michigan Athletic Department.

He and his wife, Vernee, have two children, Andrea, a 1989 Michigan graduate, and Scott, a 1993 graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

GREG HARDEN

Special Advisor to the Director of Athletics

Greg Harden joins the University of Michigan staff for his first year as special advisor to the director of athletics, in the areas of student and staff development. Harden has been associated with the Michigan Athletic Department since 1986, working as a consultant trainer and personal development specialist with Wolverine teams and administration. He worked specifically with the Michigan College of Engineering and Medical School's special interest programs.

President of Beale Harden Beale, Inc., Harden specializes in personal and professional development, organizational development and alcohol and other drug education and prevention. He also provides training and consultation for both public and private human service organizations. In the past, Harden has served as Senior Vice President of Associated Consultation and Training Inc. (ACT), and as the Executive Director of Leaders in Prevention for substance abuse education and prevention.

Harden received both his bachelor's degree in general studies and master's degree in social work from Michigan. He is single and resides in Ann Arbor.

KEITH MOLIN

Special Assistant to the Director of Athletics

Keith Molin is completing his first year in association with the University of Michigan Athletic Department in the newly-created position of Special Assistant to the Director of Athletics. His assignment is to assist Director of Athletics Joe Roberson on a variety of issues with Molin's primary role to serve as Athletic department liaison with external constituencies and represent Roberson in enhancing the contributions of intercollegiate athletics to the community.

Molin, who served as a member of former Michigan Governor William Milliken's cabinet, joined the University of Michigan staff in 1979 as Associate Director of Development, Major Gifts. He moved to the Director of Communications post and, most recently, served as Associate Vice President for Government Relations where he represented the University in addressing federal and state issues which impact higher education. While in his government relations position, Molin helped secure in excess of $750 million in capital construction funds and served as a University spokesperson on public policy issues.

A 1962 graduate of Northern Michigan University and recipient of NMU's 1973 Distinguished Alumni Award, Molin is a lifetime member of the NMU Alumni Association, affiliated with the President's Council/State Universities of Michigan, the U-M Alumni Association, and serves as Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army for the State of Michigan.

He and his wife, Peg, reside in Ann Arbor.

M ATHLETIC PUBLIC RELATIONS STAFF

BRUCE MADEJ
Assistant Athletic Director

Entering his 14th year of coordinating media relations for the University of Michigan Athletic Department is Bruce Madej.

A Dearborn native and graduate of University of Detroit High School, Madej graduated from Western Michigan University in 1974 with a B.A. in communications and education, minoring in English.

After working for the Ypsilanti Press from 1974 to 1975, he joined the staff of the Ann Arbor News, where he remained until 1978 before accepting the position of assistant sports information director with Michigan.

In 1980, Madej was promoted to Associate Sports Information Director, a position he held briefly before joining the American Power Boat Association Offshore Racing Commission as the director of public relations and marketing. In 1982, he returned to Michigan as sports information director and was promoted to assistant athletic director in 1989.

Madej has also worked as sports talent for various independent production companies airing his shows on ESPN, USA Network and PASS. In 1990, he handled the color commentary for the PGA's AmeriTech Senior Open golf tournament for WTTN-TV Cadillac-Traverse City. He has handled media relations for the Spirit of Detroit Thunderfest unlimited hydroplane race since 1986. He has also hosted sports talk shows and handled play-by-play for hockey, basketball and baseball on WAAM and WTKA in Ann Arbor. Madej has done play-by-play for boat races on WLLZ-FM and WXYT-AM in Detroit, and various stations in Florida and Louisiana.

Madej resides in Ann Arbor with his wife, Suzette, and has three sons, Michael, John and William.

AMY CARLTON
Assistant Athletic Public Relations Director

Amy Carlton is in her sixth year with Michigan Athletic Public Relations. The Greencastle, Ind., native serves as editor of the Wolverines' football and basketball game programs and handles publicity for Michigan volleyball and softball.

A 1981 graduate of Franklin College, Carlton came to Michigan following sports information work at Northern Illinois University. She is formerly director of news and information at Manchester College (Ind.), and worked in sports information operations at Western Illinois University and Michigan while completing her master's degree in sports management at WIU.

Carlton is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America, serving as a member of the Publications Contest committee. Numerous Wolverine season guides edited by Carlton have earned national citations by CoSIDA, including the 1992 Field Hockey guide, chosen "Best in the Nation."

Carlton and husband Charles, a sportswriter with Booth Newspapers, Inc., reside in Ann Arbor with one-year old daughter Taylor Lynne.

BARB COSSMAN
Assistant Athletic Public Relations Director

Barb Cossman is in her second year as assistant athletic public relations director. Her responsibilities include the women's basketball team, as well as the swimming and diving programs, cross country, and track and field.

A native of Flint, Mich., Cossman received her B.A. from Michigan in 1992, with a double major in communication and psychology. After working as a student-volunteer, she worked in the APR department as an intern before joining the staff as an assistant in 1994.

Cossman is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America. She has served on tournament committees for numerous Big Ten Championships hosted by Michigan, and was the on-site publicity director for the 1993 U.S. Open Swimming Championships. She has also worked in production with ABC on various sporting events.

Cossman is single and resides in Ann Arbor.

JIM SCHNEIDER
Assistant Athletic Public Relations Director

Jim Schneider begins his 18th year of handling media relations in the Michigan Athletic Department. He is spending his sixth season working with the Wolverine football program, after spending 12 years handling all aspects of publicity for Michigan hockey. He has worked with the Michigan baseball program for the past 16 seasons.

A native of East Hampton, N.Y., Schneider graduated in 1974 from Bowling Green State University, where he majored in journalism.

After spending three years as the assistant sports editor at the Daily Sentinel-Tribune in Bowling Green, Schneider was named assistant sports information director at Michigan in 1978. He had also spent six previous years working with the sports information department at BGSU.

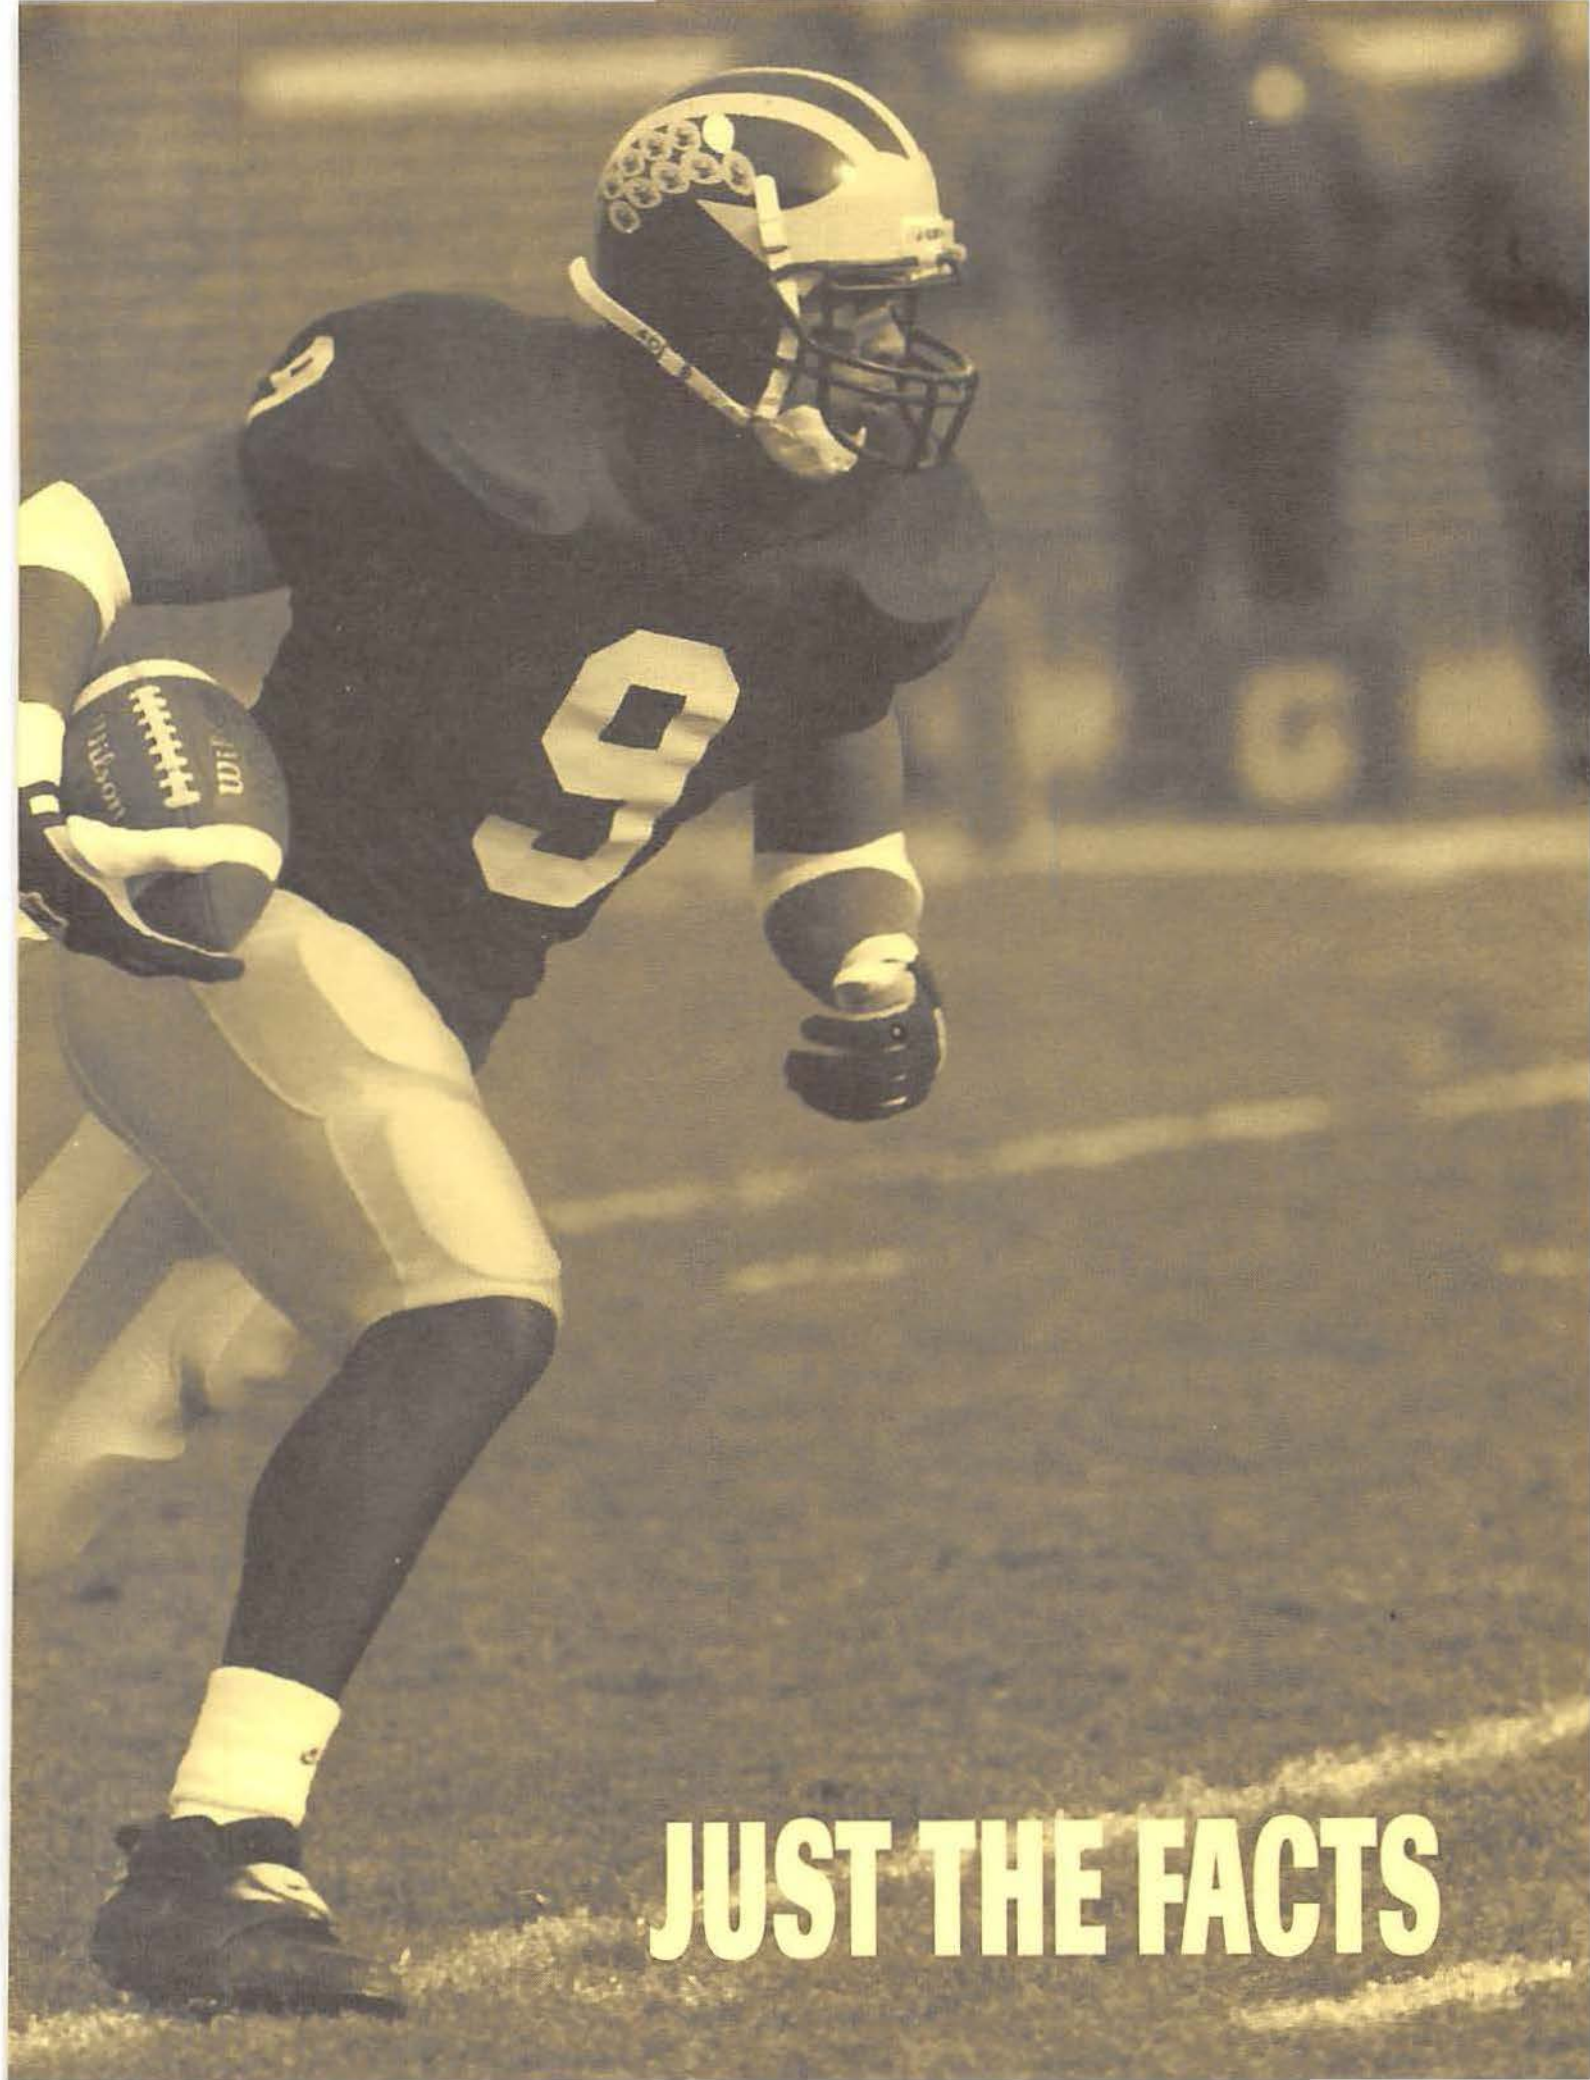

In addition, Schneider has served as the information director for the Central Collegiate Hockey Association and has served as color analyst on 'M' hockey and baseball radio broadcasts.

B.J. SOHN
Assistant Athletic Public Relations Director

B.J. Sohn is in his third season with the APR staff after arriving at Michigan in August of 1993. His responsibilities include publicity for the golf teams and men's basketball and oversees production of the football and basketball media guides.

After earning his B.S. in journalism from Southern Illinois University in 1990, the Champaign, Ill., native spent one year as an intern at the University of Georgia before serving two years as assistant director of media services at Northwestern University.

JUST THE FACTS

The University of Michigan football team features a new look in 1995 under first-year head coach Lloyd Carr.

Michigan has always been noted for its "the team, the team, the team" attitude and this season will be no exception.

The Wolverines will set their sights on the Big Ten Conference title chase with a solid defense led by senior tackles Jason Horn and Trent Zenkewicz and inside linebacker Jarrett Irons. Veteran offensive leaders Amani Toomer and his wideout partner Mercury Hayes, tight end Jay Riemersma, tailback Ed Davis and a talented and deep offensive line are aided by an excellent blend of returning players on both sides of the ball along with a talented group of players who redshirted in 1994.

Key losses on offense include Todd Collins and Tyrone Wheatley—Michigan's number two career passing and rushing leaders, respectively—along with fullback Ché Foster and tackle Trezelle Jenkins, who gave up his final year of eligibility and was a first round draft pick of the Kansas City Chiefs.

On defense, the Wolverines lose top tackler Steve Morrison at inside linebacker, outside linebacker Matt Dyson, middle guard Tony Henderson and cornerbacks Deon Johnson and All-American Ty Law, who also turned pro early and was drafted in the first round by the New England Patriots.

Following is a rundown of the Michigan team leading into the 1995 season:

QUARTERBACKS

The biggest question mark heading into the season is who will be calling the signals at quarterback. Redshirt freshman Scott Dreisbach (6-3, 180) emerged from a closely contested battle in spring practice as the leading candidate to begin fall practice. He held off a strong rush by Brian Griese (6-3, 210), a junior with three years of eligibility remaining whose only game action has been as a placekicking holder.

The tight knit group of quarterbacks includes the head coach's son, Jason Carr (6-1, 198), who returns for his fifth year as the only quarterback to have taken a snap in a game. He completed 2 of 8 passes for 10 yards last season and led the Wolverines on a long touchdown drive (10 plays, 64 yards) in the first half of the Wisconsin game while Collins was temporarily sidelined with an injury. Also providing strong competition for playing time is Scot Loeffler (6-3, 202), another junior with three years left to play.

"I'm not worried about the ability at the quarterback position," says head coach Lloyd Carr. "The only concern would be the inexperience factor, but I think that position will be very solid as the season goes on."

RUNNING BACKS

Michigan has a talented group of runners to fill the void of Wheatley, as well as Foster, a two-year starter. The Wolverines have a great deal of depth in place, with junior Tshimanga Biakabutuka (6-1, 205) leading the way. A hard-to-grab combination of power and speed, the preseason All-America candidate rushed for 783 yards and averaged 6.2 yards on 126 attempts with seven touchdowns.

He and senior Ed Davis (5-9, 201) combined to account for 1,112 yards and 10 TDs last season as Davis added 339 yards and three touchdowns.

Sophomores Chris Floyd (6-1, 221) and Chris Howard (5-10, 216), considered two of the nation's top runners out of high school, showed excellent promise during spring workouts at both fullback and tailback.

Also competing at fullback are two former linebackers—junior George Howell (6-2, 225) and senior Mike Vanderbeek (6-3, 228), who has two years left to play after missing the 1994 season due to knee surgery.

WIDE RECEIVERS

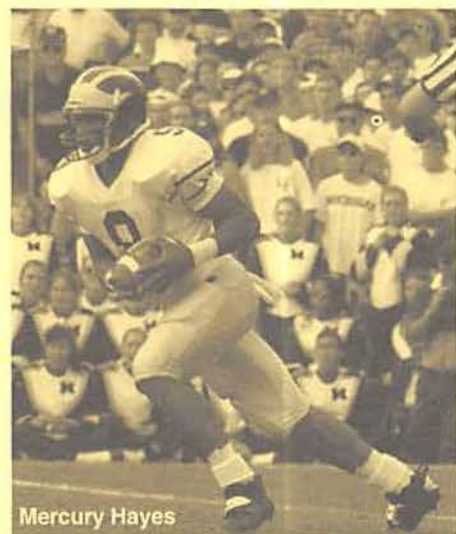

Michigan's new quarterback will have no shortage of outstanding targets. Seniors Amani Toomer (6-4, 194) and Mercury Hayes (5-11, 195) are game-breaking wideouts and rank as one of the top receiving duos in the country. Last year the pair combined for 90 receptions and 1,685 yards.

Toomer, a preseason All-America candidate and 1994 Biletnikoff Award finalist, established himself as one of college football's best receivers in 1994. He set a single-season school record 1,096 yards on 54 receptions while leading the Big Ten with a 93.9 yards per game average. He enters his final season with a chance to finish near the top in nearly every career receiving category.

Hayes is an imposing big-play threat who has also been one of the team's top kick-returners the past three years. He caught 36 passes for 589 yards last year and has over 1,200 receiving yards and eight touchdowns in his career.

"Amani Toomer and Mercury Hayes are as good as any receiving duo in the nation," Carr says. "They can make things happen and allow you to do a lot of different things on offense."

Senior Todd Richards (6-0, 172) became a dependable "third receiver" last season after a preseason injury kept co-captain Walter Smith on the sidelines and has made great strides in returning from a spring injury of his own.

The Wolverines will also unveil a new trio of receivers for 1995 with sophomores Anthony Williams (5-10, 169), Todd Brooks (6-0, 175) and Tyrone Butterfield (5-8, 168). Williams made his debut as a true freshman without catching a pass, but made contributions on special teams, including a key "last man" block on Toomer's 72-yard punt return for the Michigan's only TD in a 19-14 win at Illinois.

TIGHT END

Senior Jay Riemersma (6-5, 252) complements the duo of Hayes and Toomer well. He switched from quarterback and is considered a pro prospect after pulling off the unusual position adjustment last year. He grabbed 33 passes for 336 yards and two touchdowns.

Senior Rob Vander Leest (6-4, 266) also returns and will compete with redshirt freshmen Mark Campbell (6-6, 241) and Jerame Tuman (6-4, 238) for the second tight end slot.

OFFENSIVE LINE

The offensive line is traditionally the strength of the Michigan offense and this season should be no exception. All-America candidates Joe Marinaro (6-4, 290) and Jon Runyan (6-8, 299) headline six players with starting experience.

Runyan, a senior with two years of eligibility left, has started 21 of Michigan's last 23 games, but missed spring practice after injuring his foot before the Holiday Bowl. After a year at left guard, he is expected to move back to the left tackle position in 1995, replacing Jenkins, a 12-game starter. Marinaro, a fifth-year senior, anchors the right side of the line. He missed the first three games of last season following spring knee surgery, but has started 21 games in his career.

Junior Rod Payne (6-4, 288) ranks as one of the top returning centers in the Big Ten and has 15 career starts, while junior Thomas Guynes (6-5, 299) and senior Mike Sullivan (6-7, 290) are expected to battle for the right tackle spot. Injuries limited Sullivan (13 career starts) in 1994 while Guynes (14 career starts) has made starts at both guard and both tackle positions. Converted tight end Jon Jansen (6-7, 260), a redshirt freshman, also saw action at right tackle during the spring with Guynes playing left tackle due to Runyan's injury.

Battling for the open left guard position will be sophomore Zach Adami (6-5, 279) and junior Damon Denson (6-4, 276). Adami started for Runyan at left guard in the Holiday Bowl while Denson earned high praise in the spring after switching from defensive tackle.

Adding quality depth and competition is junior tackle Mark Bolach (6-6, 287), the team's long-snapper, sophomore tackle Chris Kurpeikis (6-6, 281), a transfer from Notre Dame, guard Noah Parker (6-4, 298), a redshirt freshman, sophomore guard John Partchenko (6-4, 291), sophomore center Joe Ries (6-3, 288), and junior center Eric Wendt (6-4, 291).

DEFENSIVE LINE

Senior tackles Jason Horn (6-5, 277) and Trent Zenkewicz (6-6, 270) are coming off fine seasons and have demonstrated the leadership skills needed to form the backbone of the Wolverine defense. Horn led the team with six quarterback sacks and was second on the team with 12 tackles for loss. Zenkewicz led the team with 16 TFLs and was second with five sacks.

Jason Horn

"When you have the senior experience and ability of players like Horn and Zenkewicz, you're dealing with guys that are team players and want to win," says Carr. "It's up to them to show the way and I have no doubts that they will."

Junior Will Carr (6-0, 285) and converted linebacker Ben Huff (6-4, 236) will be the primary players backing up the tackle positions.

At defensive end, sophomore Glen Steele (6-5, 270) showed steady improvement last season as he made 14 of his 23 tackles on the season as a starter in the final three games.

Michigan employs a situational defense that seeks to identify the best 11 defensive players and get them on the field at the same time and that includes using a fourth "down lineman." Earning that other end position during the spring was redshirt freshman Juaquin Feazell (6-4, 253). Backing up the end positions will be junior Steve Evans (6-4, 261) and redshirt freshmen Nate Miller (6-3, 257) and converted outside linebacker Rasheed Simmons (6-5, 235).

LINEBACKERS

Junior Jarrett Irons (6-1, 231) is an all-star candidate and is a two-year starter at inside linebacker. He returns as the leading tackler over the past two years (average of 105 tackles per season) and has impressed Carr enough to say that "he has the chance to be one of the all-time best linebackers we've had at Michigan."

Redshirt freshman Clint Copenhaver (6-3, 212) had an excellent spring and moved up in the depth chart while junior Jeff Springer (6-0, 226) and redshirt freshman Sam Sword (6-2, 249) also pursue playing time at the inside positions.

The outside linebacker position will feature either sophomores Mike Elston (6-4, 242) or Brent Blackwell (6-2, 221) with redshirt freshman Chris Singletary (6-1, 230) providing backup. Junior Pierre Cooper could also be a factor after playing two years at tight end.

SECONDARY

The Wolverines return a pair of starters in juniors Clarence Thompson (6-1, 190) and Chuck Winters (6-0, 192). Thompson will try cornerback after two seasons at safety and Winters returns to free safety after three late season starts at strong safety last year.

Junior Steve King (6-1, 193) is the leading candidate at strong safety and will be pushed by junior Deollo Anderson (6-0, 208) and sophomore Earnest Sanders (6-3, 199) while redshirt freshman Marcus Ray (6-0, 208) will back up Winters.

Junior Woody Hankins (5-9, 197), who converted from running back last season, will team with Thompson at the short cornerback position while senior Jean-Agnus Charles (5-11, 197) and junior Tyrone Noble (5-11, 196) will battle for the wide cornerback position. Redshirt freshman Andre Weathers (6-0, 168) and junior Bryan Williams (5-10, 178) should also see playing time as well as some incoming freshmen.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Michigan enters the new season in a solid situation at this important area. All-American Remy Hamilton (6-0, 196), a Groza Award finalist, returns for his junior season to handle the placekicking chores after setting school records for field goals (25) and kicking points (101) in 1994.

Sophomore Kraig Baker (6-0, 168) earned the punting job as a freshman and progressed throughout 1994, saving his season best (53 yards) for Colorado State in the Holiday Bowl.

Redshirt freshman Jay Feeley (5-10, 186) is the backup kicker while sophomore Nate DeLong (6-2, 214) and junior Paul Peristeris (6-2, 200) could challenge for punting duties.

Bolach and Riemersma are in their third and fourth seasons as the team's long snapper and holder, respectively. Bolach is backed up by sophomore linebacker Sean Parini (6-1, 219) while Griesse is the reserve holder. Hayes and Toomer are back as experienced return specialists.

M WOLVERINE NOTEBOOK

MICHIGAN STADIUM MILESTONE

The Wolverines' first home victory in 1995 will be Michigan's 300th overall in Michigan Stadium. Since first playing in "The Big House" on Oct. 1, 1927, Michigan has compiled a 299-97-15 (.746) record on the home field. Overall, the Michigan football program is among the oldest and most successful in college football. In 116 years of competition, it sports an all-time won-lost record of 747-246-36 ranking first among all NCAA Division I-A schools in total wins. Michigan's .746 career winning percentage ranks second to Notre Dame's .760, who has a 729-216-42 all-time record.

ENDURANCE TEST

Endurance may be the biggest test Michigan faces this season. The Wolverines open August 26 with Virginia and finish November 25 with Ohio State. Opening before Labor Day and playing after Thanksgiving Day means a 14-week season with two bye weeks. Fittingly, the Wolverines play a game in Boston during the marathon season.

THE PIGSKIN CLASSIC

The Pigskin Classic, one of two games that have kicked off the college football season in recent years, will be played outside of Anaheim Stadium in California for the first time in its history. Michigan Stadium and its 102,501 seating capacity will play host to the Sixth Annual Pigskin Classic, with the Wolverines and the Virginia Cavaliers opening the 1995 college football season on August 26.

In last season's Pigskin Classic, Ohio

State defeated Fresno State, 34-10. North Carolina trounced Southern Cal 31-9 in 1993; Texas A&M beat Stanford 10-7 in 1992; Florida State defeated Brigham Young 44-28 in 1991; and Colorado tied Tennessee 31-31 in the Pigskin's inaugural game in 1990.

HOME COOKING

The addition of the Pigskin Classic gives Michigan a seven game home schedule in 1995. This is the 16th season in Michigan Stadium's history it has had at least seven Wolverine home games. Michigan played eight home games in 1931 and has played seven home games in 1930, '42, '46, '55, '56, '63, '71, '73, '75, '76, '77, '79, '84, '87 and '93.

BOWL STREAK

Michigan has played in 20 consecutive bowl games, the second-longest current bowl streak in the nation. The longest bowl streak belongs to Nebraska, which has 26 straight post-season bowl appearances. The Wolverines' bowl streak dates back to the 1976 Orange Bowl. Had it not been for a Big Ten Conference rule that allowed just one team to participate in post-season play through the 1974 season, Michigan's streak could very well be at 27. Following a 4-6 season in 1967, the Wolverines won no fewer than eight games between 1968-74 and lost no more than once between 1970-74.

Michigan has played in eight different bowl games in 20 seasons: 10 Rose Bowls, two Gator Bowls, two Hall of Fame Bowls, two Holiday Bowls, and one appearance each in the Orange, Sugar, Fiesta and Bluebonnet Bowls. Michigan's record in those 20 bowl games is 9-11, but the Wolverines have won seven of their last 10, including the last three in a row. The Wolverines have a 13-13 all-time record in post-season play.

In the Big Ten's Centennial year, it's worth noting that Michigan played in the first collegiate bowl game, earning a 49-0 victory over Stanford in the 1902 Rose Bowl.

CHANGE-UPS

Several Michigan players will line up at new positions in 1995. Junior Pierre Cooper has moved from tight end to

CHANGING PLACES

Along with a new-look coaching staff comes new responsibilities. Prior to Lloyd Carr being named head coach for the 1995 season, Erik Campbell and Brady Hoke joined the staff, replacing Les Miles and Bill Harris. Miles, who coached the offensive line, became offensive coordinator at Oklahoma State and Harris, who coached the defensive secondary, became defensive coordinator at Stanford. Campbell, who will coach the receivers, becomes the youngest Wolverine coach at 29 after serving as running backs coach at Syracuse. He played in four bowl games and was a defensive back on Michigan's 1986 Big Ten Championship team. Hoke will coach defensive ends after spending the last six seasons at Oregon State as the defensive line or linebackers coach.

Vance Bedford was hired by Carr in June to coach Michigan's defensive backs after serving in a similar capacity at Oklahoma State.

Along with some new faces, there will also be some new duties. Mike DeBord, who previously coached tackles and tight ends, has been elevated to assistant head coach and will handle the interior offensive linemen. Running backs coach Fred Jackson will serve as offensive coordinator and interior defensive line coach Greg Mattison has been named defensive coordinator. Other changes include Kit Cartwright focusing his efforts on the Wolverines' young quarterbacks after also coaching wide receivers, Jim Herrmann will coordinate the entire kicking game, and Bobby Morrison will oversee recruiting and coach the offensive tackles and tight ends after seven seasons as outside linebackers coach.

FANTASTIC

Michigan established yet another NCAA single season average home attendance record in 1994 with an average of 106,217 fans watching the Wolverines in six home games last season. The old record of 105,867 was set by Michigan in 1992 over six games. Michigan played in front of three 106,000-plus crowds in 1994, including 106,832 for the Penn State game. That ranks second on the all-time single game attendance list behind the 106,867 fans that came to watch Michigan shutout Ohio State 28-0 in 1993.

The last time the Wolverines played in front of fewer than 104,000 spectators in Michigan Stadium was on Nov. 8, 1991 against Northwestern (102,087).

Michigan has played 122 consecutive home games before more than 100,000 fans, and has led the nation in total attendance for the past 21 seasons.

FASHIONED BY AMANI

All-America candidate Amani Toomer broke a 28-year-old school record in 1994 by recording 1,096 receiving yards in a season. That broke Jack Clancy's single season record of 1,079 receiving yards set in 1966. Toomer also became only the third Michigan receiver in history to have 1,000 or more receiving yards in a season, joining Clancy and former Heisman Trophy winner Desmond Howard (1,025 in 1990).

Toomer, a first-team All-Big Ten selection and Biletnikoff Award finalist last year, has 1,899 career receiving yards, which ranks sixth on Michigan's career receiving yards list. The senior wide receiver enters the 1995 season needing just 21 yards to pass Clancy for fifth place and 79 yards to pass Derrick Alexander for fourth place on the list. Anthony Carter holds the school record with 3,076 yards from 1979-82.

Along with career and season receiving yardage records, Toomer also ranks in the Michigan record book for receptions and touchdowns. Last season, he caught 54 passes, which ties for fourth on the single season receptions list with Jim Berline, who had 54 receptions in 1967. Toomer's first catch of the 1995 season will be the 100th of his career and place him alone in seventh place on Michigan's career receptions list. Toomer also has 11 career touchdown receptions, which ties him for seventh on the school list with Ralph Clayton (11 in 1976-79).

HAMILTON KICKS

In 1994 Remy Hamilton became Michigan's first placekicker to earn All-American honors. After gaining notoriety by kicking the game-winning field goal at Notre Dame a year ago, Hamilton went on to lead the team in scoring (101 points) and rank first in the Big Ten in kick scoring (8.6 average). Hamilton also broke several Michigan single season kicking records. He set the mark for field goals made with 25 (which led the nation), six field goals better than any other Wolverine in Michigan history (Mike Gillette had 19 in 1988). Hamilton's 101 points in 1994 also broke the record for most kick points in a season, formerly held by J.D. Carlson with 95 in 1990. Hamilton's 30 attempts last year passed Gillette's old mark of 27 attempts in 1989.

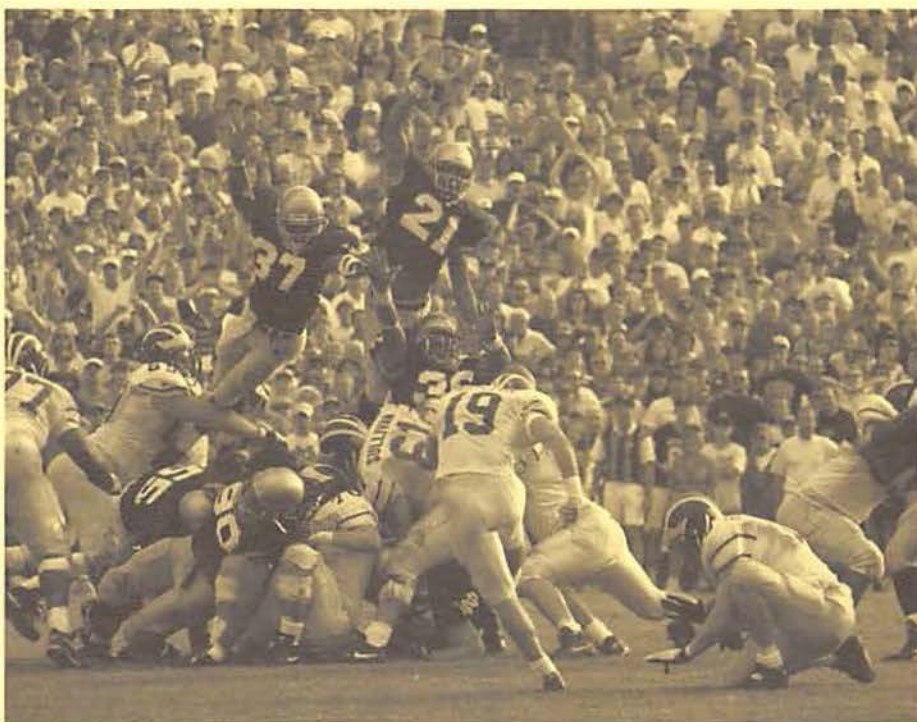

Hamilton's .833 field goal success rate (25 of 30) ranks third on the 'M' single season list behind Carlson (.929, 13 of 14 attempts in 1989) and Bob Bergeron (.882, 15 of 17 attempts in 1983).

EXPERIENCED SIGNAL-CALLERS

The 1995 season will be the first in quite some time it has not entered the season with an experienced field general. Quarterback experience has been a Michigan strength since junior Michael Taylor and sophomore Demetrius Brown, replacing Jim Harbaugh, made their debuts against Notre Dame in 1987. In fact, over the past five years, it has been Elvis Grbac (now a backup for the Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers) and Todd Collins (a second round draft pick of the Buffalo Bills) in command. Collins and Grbac rank one-two in most of Michigan's career passing categories. The last time a redshirt freshman started as early as the second game of the season was Grbac, replacing an injured Taylor at UCLA in 1989. The last true freshman to start a season opener was Rick Leach in 1976.

BEST IN THE BIG TEN

Michigan has a 380-143-18 all-time record against Big Ten opponents, and has won 37 conference championships, best of any Big Ten school.

M MEDIA INFORMATION

The University of Michigan Athletic Department is pleased to present this pre-season information on the 1995 Michigan football team. We hope that it will answer most of your questions on the Wolverines. This guide will be supplemented with additional weekly materials throughout the 1995 season.

CREDENTIALS

All members of the media covering the game in a working capacity must secure appropriate credentials in advance from Michigan Assistant Athletic Director and Sports Information Director, Bruce Madej. Credentials for the working media are restricted in accordance with NCAA rules and guidelines. The object of this policy is to insure that proper, professional use is made of the limited space available for members of the media. The following regulations apply:

1. Working press box credentials shall be issued only to accredited newspapers, radio and television reporters. Because of the limited press box space, reporters representing papers with Sunday editions, reporters representing daily newspapers, and reporters representing national magazines or wire services shall be given priority.
2. Photo passes may be issued for either the press box or the field. All photographers working the field must display a photo ribbon. Sideline access is generally limited to accredited photographers on assignment by daily newspapers, national publications, wire services and local and national television outlets. No free lance, private, high school or college photographer, weekly newspapers or journalism students, shall be issued photographic credentials unless they officially represent the visiting or host school. Sideline photographers must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit access to the bench areas and the stands.
3. Credentials are non-transferable.

PRESS WILL CALL

Press passes left at the Press Will Call can be picked up beginning two hours before kickoff on the day of the game. Press Will Call is located directly behind the Michigan Stadium Press Box near Gate 6.

PRESS PARKING

The press parking lot is located on the north side of Michigan Stadium, near Gate 9. Parking for the working media is very limited, so members of the media are urged to arrive early. Parking credentials should be requested at the same time game day working credentials are requested. If time permits (at least five working days), both credentials will be mailed. Those who request parking passes the week of the game must pick them up by no later than 5 p.m. Friday at the Athletic Public Relations Office.

HOTEL ROOMS

The Athletic Public Relations Office has a limited number of rooms reserved in the Ann Arbor area. Please contact Tara Preston at least two weeks in advance to reserve accommodations. Phone (313) 763-4423.

TELEPHONES

Members of the media are encouraged to order phone lines and to supply their own phones as no telephone lines or instruments are available through the Michigan Athletic Public Relations Department. Telephone lines in the press box must be ordered at least one week in advance of the game(s) for which they are needed. Pay phones and several charge-a-call phones are located on the Working Press Level, but their use is usually in great demand.

To order phone lines, call Ameritech at (800) 321-8152 during regular business hours.

PREGAME AND POSTGAME SERVICES

Play-by-Play, halftime and complete final statistics, quote sheets and pregame and postgame notes are all regular services on game day.

Postgame—Coach Lloyd Carr and selected Michigan players will be available after a short cooling off period after the conclusion of the game, and will be brought to the interview room located in the 'M' Room at Crisler Arena. Media members must secure a post-game pass from Athletic Public Relations personnel at the "control point" of the press box on the Working Press Level to enter Crisler Arena.

MICHIGAN INTERVIEW POLICIES

Requests for interviews with Michigan football players and coaches should be directed to the Michigan Athletic Public Relations Office. The best time to interview Coach Carr is each Monday during the season at his weekly press luncheon. He will also be available each Tuesday during the season on the Big Ten Teleconference. The teleconference, which features each of the Big Ten Conference head coaches, is restricted to media members only. Those who wish to be included must contact the Big Ten Communications Department (708-696-1010), which will provide a schedule of times each coach will be available on the teleconference.

Player interviews are conducted early in the week and must be arranged in advance through the Michigan Athletic Public Relations Office. Members of the media are urged to plan their schedules accordingly. Home phone numbers for players and coaches will not be released.

BIG TEN'S "FAX-ON-DEMAND" SERVICE

The Big Ten Conference's "Fax-on-Demand" service allows media members 24-hour access to the latest media releases on Big Ten sports from both the conference office and each of the 11 institutions. Media is able to pick and choose between each school's release as well as have the opportunity to choose between specific categories (statistics, results, etc.) in all sports. The football release will be available by no later than 5 p.m. eastern time every Monday. From the handset of the fax machine, the caller should dial the "Fax-on-Demand" phone number to access information. When the start button on the fax machine is pressed, the ordered information is delivered immediately. For the Big Ten "Fax-on-Demand" phone number, please call the Big Ten Communications Department (708-696-1010) or the University of Michigan Athletic Public Relations Department.

TEAMLINE

Fans who are not within listening range of one of Michigan's affiliate stations may still listen to Wolverine radio broadcasts using their telephone and Teamline. A credit card number is required to use this service. At game time, dial the Teamline number, (800) 225-5313, from any phone. By following the computer prompts, fans will be connected to the live Michigan radio broadcast. Charges are accrued by the minute and are billed to the credit card number.

THE STAFF

M LLOYD CARR, Head Football Coach

Lloyd Carr once said he had the greatest assistant coaching job in the country, at the University of Michigan.

For 15 years, under Bo Schembechler (1980-1989) and Gary Moeller (1990-94), Carr served that role as defensive secondary coach and most recently assistant head coach and defensive coordinator.

Now, Carr has moved into one of the best head coaching jobs in the country. On May 16, 1995, Michigan Athletic Director Joe Roberson named Carr as the 1995 head coach of the Wolverines, after the resignation of Moeller.

Carr said he is ready for the challenge of leading the most successful college football program of all time.

"I am excited about the opportunity to lead this team in the 1995 season," said Carr, shortly after being named the 17th football coach in Michigan history. "I am confident in my preparation and my ability to do so. I am thankful for the support I have from the people here at Michigan."

Carr takes over a team coming off consecutive 8-4 seasons, the latter capped by a 24-14 win over Colorado State in the 1994 Holiday Bowl. It was a triumphant game for Michigan's Carr-led defense, which shut down a potent Ram offense.

In 1995, Carr will oversee a program which has won six of the last 10 Big Ten Conference titles.

"I'm not afraid to make decisions," said Carr. "I have great support, good coaches and players that are special guys ... There is a standard at Michigan that's special. I have all the support we need to win."

Carr brings much experience to his familiar spot on the Michigan Stadium sidelines. A coach at the high school and college levels for more than 25 years, Carr has also led teams on the field as a player.

Carr was a three-sport athlete at Riverview (Mich.) High School, where he was an all-state performer in football. Carr spent his first three years of college at the University of Missouri, and was back-up quarterback on the Tigers' 1966 Sugar Bowl championship squad.

Carr transferred back to his home state the following season, and quarterbacked Northern Michigan University to a perfect 9-0 regular season in 1967. He graduated from NMU in 1968, and earned a master's degree in education administration from NMU in 1970 under a Mott Fellowship.

Carr began his coaching career as a high school assistant at Nativity (Detroit) High School (1968-69) and Belleville (Mich.) High School (1970-73). He moved up to the head coaching ranks in 1973, coaching at Westland (Mich.) John Glenn High School until 1975.

At John Glenn, Carr was named Regional Class A Coach of the Year after leading the Rockets to an 8-1 mark in 1975.

Carr began his college coaching career at Eastern Michigan University, where he coached defensive backs from 1976-77. He assumed the same position at the University of Illinois from 1978-79, before joining Schembechler's staff at Michigan in 1980.

From his experiences as both a player and coach, Carr knows a balanced attack is necessary to have a winning football program.

"A great offense is one that can score quickly, but also control the ball when the situation dictates," said Carr. "Defensively, you have to be able to play a different style when you are ahead and when you are behind."

Ahead is where Carr hopes to be in 1995. He is now the head coach at an institution that expects success. According to Carr, this season should be no different.

"We're going to have no excuses for failure," said Carr, who will open his head coaching tenure August 26 against Virginia in the Pigskin Classic at Michigan Stadium. "We expect to play Ohio State in the last game of the year for the Big Ten Championship."

Carr is married to the former Laurie McCartney. They have six children, Melissa, Jason, Emily, Brett, Ryan and Jarrett. Jason is a fifth-year senior quarterback for the Wolverines, and Emily is a sophomore at U-M and was a member of the 1994 volleyball team.

M THE BIG GAME It's Usually All on the Line When Wolverines-Buckeyes Meet

COLLEGE FOOTBALL'S GREATEST RIVALRY

A LOOK AT THE BIGGER "BIG GAMES"

Since the Michigan-Ohio State game was moved to the final week of the conference season in 1935, the Wolverines and Buckeyes have decided the Big Ten championship between themselves 18 times. The following is a list of those classic matchups:

YEAR	'M'	OSU	RESULT
1944	14	18	Ohio State is Big Ten champion.
1949	7	7	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; OSU goes to the Rose Bowl because of a better overall record.
1950	9	3	Michigan is Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion.
1954	7	21	Ohio State is Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion.
1955	0	17	Ohio State is Big Ten champion (but by conference rules, cannot go to the Rose Bowl two consecutive years); Michigan State goes to Rose Bowl (Had Michigan won, U-M would have gone to bowl).
1964	10	0	Michigan is Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion.
1968	14	50	Ohio State is Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion.
1969	24	12	Michigan is Big Ten champion and goes to the Rose Bowl.
1970	9	20	Ohio State is Big Ten champion and goes to the Rose Bowl.
1972	11	14	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Athletic Directors' vote sends OSU to the Rose Bowl.
1973	10	10	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Athletic Directors' vote sends OSU to the Rose Bowl.
1974	10	12	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Ohio State goes to Rose Bowl by beating Michigan.
1975	14	21	Ohio State is Big Ten champion and goes to the Rose Bowl.
1976	22	0	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Michigan goes to the Rose Bowl by beating Ohio State.
1977	14	6	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Michigan goes to the Rose Bowl by beating Ohio State.
1978	14	3	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Michigan goes to the Rose Bowl by beating Ohio State.
1980	9	3	Michigan is Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion.
1986	26	24	Michigan and Ohio State are co-champions; Michigan goes to the Rose Bowl by beating Ohio State.

In addition, these 14 games had an effect in determining the Big Ten champion:

1935	0	38	Ohio State and Minnesota share Big Ten championship.
1942	7	21	Ohio State is Big Ten champion (Had Michigan won, Wisconsin would have won title).
1943	45	7	Michigan and Purdue are Big Ten co-champions.
1952	7	27	Wisconsin and Purdue are Big Ten co-champions (Had Michigan won, U-M would have won the title).
1956	19	0	Iowa is Big Ten champion (Had Ohio State won, OSU would have shared title).
1961	20	50	Ohio State is Big Ten champion (Had Michigan won, Minnesota would have won title).
1979	15	18	Ohio State is Big Ten champion (Had Michigan won, Ohio State, Purdue and U-M would have shared title).
1981	9	14	Ohio State and Iowa are Big Ten co-champions (Had Michigan won, U-M would have won title).
1984	6	21	Ohio State is Big Ten champion (Had Michigan won, Ohio State, Illinois, Purdue and U-M would have shared title).
1988	34	31	Michigan is Big Ten champion (Had OSU won, Michigan State and U-M would have shared title).
1989	28	18	Michigan is Big Ten champion (Had OSU won, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio State would have shared title).
1990	16	13	Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, and Michigan State are Big Ten co-champions (Had Ohio State won, OSU would have won the title outright).
1991	31	3	Michigan is Big Ten champion (Had OSU won, Michigan would have shared the title with Iowa).
1993	28	0	Wisconsin and Ohio State are Big Ten Co-Champions (Had OSU won, the Buckeyes would have gone to the Rose Bowl).

An annual "prize" is not at stake in the Michigan-Ohio State game—though usually, the winner does receive the Big Ten Championship trophy.

The "Big Game" has decided the Big Ten championship 32 times since the contest was moved to the last Saturday in the season in 1935; on 18 of those occasions, Michigan and Ohio State settled the title between themselves. The throne atop the Big Ten, as well as a trip to the Rose Bowl, is usually the reward for a victory in this contest.

Michigan won the first game of the series in 1897 by a 36-0 score and then took 16 of the next 21 games (two were ties). However, the series has been one of the most evenly matched and intensely played rivalries in college football since Harry Kipke took over as 'M' coach in 1929. Kipke compiled an excellent 71-16-3 record and won a national championship in nine years at Michigan, but against Ohio State he was just 3-6. The rivalry had started.

Perhaps the most famous contest in the series was the "Snow Bowl" game of 1950. A snowstorm in Columbus obliterated the yard lines and turned the players into nothing but shadowy figures. Punting was the story of the game: Chuck Ortmann set a Big Ten record by punting 24 times, keeping OSU deep in its territory, and Michigan's points were all the result of Buckeye kicking errors. Michigan scored a 9-3 victory—without gaining a single first down—and went on to defeat California in the Rose Bowl, 14-6.

In 1969, Woody Hayes brought his top-ranked Buckeyes to Ann Arbor to meet the Wolverines and their first-year head coach, Bo Schembechler. Michigan intercepted six OSU passes and played error-free ball to score an incredible 24-12 upset and a trip to Pasadena.

The "Big Game" decided the conference champion each of the next six seasons. Over that span, Michigan came into the Ohio State game with an unbelievable 57-0-2 record, but the Wolverines came away with just one win and a single Rose Bowl trip in those six contests. The futility against OSU ended quickly, though, as Michigan won the "Big Game" the next three years to earn three straight trips to the Rose Bowl and that special distinction—Big Ten Champions.

The Wolverines' 28-0 win in 1993 was Michigan's 26th shutout of the Buckeyes and first since 1976. The Wolverine win also kept OSU out of the Rose Bowl.

Boston College.....9 3 0 14-26

Michigan.....0 14 7 13-34

Michigan kicked off its 1994 season with a non-conference home win over Boston College.

The Wolverines rallied from an early 12-0 deficit that the Eagles earned with a 74-yard pass from Mark Hartsell to Greg Grice, on the first play from scrimmage, a safety and a field goal. Midway through the second quarter and starting at its 20-yard line, Todd Collins hit Amani Toomer deep for 31 yards and found Mercury Hayes for another 21 yards, and passed to end Jay Riemersma to set up an eight-yard TD run by tailback Ed Davis, narrowing the gap, 12-7.

Three drives later, B.C. punted the ball to the Michigan 23-yard line with 1:10 left in the half. Tailback Tshimanga Biakabutuka streaked down the left sideline for 27 yards to put the Wolverines at the B.C. 49-yard line and Collins hit Toomer who juke'd his way into the end zone for a 46-yard touchdown reception, giving Michigan a 14-12 lead at the half.

On their first drive of the second half, the Wolverines took only six plays to move the ball 65 yards, as Biakabutuka contributed a run of 15 yards and Collins hit Toomer on a 27-yard touchdown strike to put 'M' ahead, 21-12.

In the third quarter, the Wolverines' defense came up with big plays to protect their lead. Defensive tackle Jason Horn was able to block a field goal and linebacker Jarrett Irons recovered a Gordon Laro fumble to thwart two B.C. scoring chances.

The Michigan offense moved the ball 72 yards on a drive that featured passes from Collins to Toomer and Hayes. Biakabutuka added a 36-yard jaunt that set up his one-yard touchdown plunge to put Michigan ahead, 27-12 (failed extra point attempt).

After B.C. and Michigan traded turnovers, and the Eagles gave the ball up on downs, Biakabutuka had five runs for 47 yards and fullback Ché Foster added a 25-yard dash, helping to set up Ed Davis' second touchdown of the day on a 1-yard dive to put Michigan in control, 34-12.

On the next three drives, B.C. fumbled twice and Michigan fumbled once before the Eagles scored a touchdown (on a four-yard pass from Mark Hartsell to Laro) to make the score 34-19 with 2:52 left to play. The Eagles scored again two minutes later as Hartsell hit Kenyatta Watson for a 27-yard touchdown strike to make the score 34-26.

Michigan recovered the Eagle's onside kick attempt and ran out the final 20 seconds of the game to secure the win in the 1994 season-opener.

Michigan exacted their revenge over the Irish from its 27-23 loss in 1993 with a last-second, 26-24 win in South Bend.

After the Irish took an early 3-0 lead on a 32-yard Stefan Schreffner field goal, 'M' freshman Seth Smith returned the ensuing kickoff 46 yards. On fourth down from the N.D. 12-yard line, Hamilton's 29-yard field goal attempt was blocked. Fortunately, fullback Ché Foster recovered the ball for a 2-yard gain and a first down. Tailback Tshimanga Biakabutuka burst up the middle two plays later for a 10-yard touchdown run to put the Wolverines ahead 7-3.

Notre Dame countered with a 14-play, 80-yard touchdown drive that was finished by a 1-yard touchdown completion from Ron Powlus to tailback Lee Becton, putting the Irish ahead, 10-7.

In the second quarter, the two teams traded punts until the 6:42 mark, when strong safety Clarence Thompson forced a Becton fumble and he recovered it himself on the Notre Dame 18-yard line. The Wolverines were forced to settle for a 32-yard Hamilton field goal, knotting the game at 10-10 to end the half.

On its first drive of the second half, Notre Dame moved the ball 75 yards in a drive that was capped by a Marc Edwards's 8-yard TD run to regain the lead, 17-10. Michigan rallied, as Collins engineered a 64-yard drive that was capped by a three-yard touchdown pass to Jay Riemersma to even the score, 17-17.

On Notre Dame's next drive, defensive lineman Jason Horn forced Becton to fumble the ball on the 'M' 27-yard line. Once again, Collins mounted a successful 'M' drive, finding Amani Toomer for 23 yards to set up a 35-yard Hamilton field goal, putting the Wolverines up, 20-17.

On the next four possessions of the game, the two teams traded punts and turnovers (Collins and Powlus fumbles). After Powlus' fumble, Biakabutuka ran five consecutive times for 20 yards before Hamilton booted his third field goal of the day to make the score 23-17.

Notre Dame return specialist Mike Miller exploded on a 55-yard kickoff return. The Irish took only four plays to regain the lead on a touchdown grab by Derrick Mayes (from Powlus) to take a 24-23 lead.

With only 46 seconds to work with, Collins quickly moved the Wolverines down the field on a 26-yard pass to Riemersma and a pair of clutch completions by Smith for 9 yards apiece. After a Notre Dame timeout with only 7 seconds remaining, Hamilton converted a 42-yard field goal attempt to seal a 26-24 victory.

After a weekend break, Michigan hoped to come out focused against Colorado.

After a Wolverine punt, Colorado QB Cordell Stewart engineered a 63-yard drive to put the Buffaloes on top, 7-0.

Three drives later, Stewart marched CU to the 'M' 24-yard line, where defensive tackle Trent Zenkewicz sacked him for a 10-yard loss on third down and the Buffs missed on a 51-yard field goal attempt.

Star tailback Tyrone Wheatley, injured in preseason, saw his first game action of the season on Michigan's next drive, gaining 12 yards on his first run. Passes from Todd Collins to Pierre Cooper and Ché Foster helped the Wolverines reach Colorado's 29-yard line, where Remy Hamilton missed on a 47-yard field goal attempt.

In the second quarter, after Clarence Thompson recovered a Rashaan Salaam fumble, Collins completed passes to tight end Jay Riemersma, Wheatley, and Seth Smith to move 'M' to CU's 19-yard line. A 33-yard Hamilton field goal cut the Buffaloes lead to 7-3.

Colorado responded with a TD drive to go ahead 14-3 as Stewart connected on a 27-yard pass to Michael Westbrook, the Wolverines responded near the end of the second quarter, when Collins hit Mercury Hayes for a 23-yard completion, Biakabutuka had two runs for 24 yards and concluded the 'M' drive with a 4-yard touchdown plunge with 1:14 remaining. A two-point conversion attempt failed, making the score 14-9 at the half.

At the start of the second half, Collins completed passes to Riemersma and Hayes, setting up a 5-yard TD run by Wheatley. Collins found Hayes on a two-point conversion attempt to give the Wolverines their first lead of the game, 17-14.

A Colorado fumble on the ensuing kickoff gave the Wolverines the ball on the CU 24-yard line. After moving the ball 13 yards on a double reverse from Wheatley to Hayes to Toomer and nine yards on a run by Biakabutuka, Michigan settled for another Hamilton field goal to make the score 20-14.

'M' scored again when Collins connected with Toomer on a 65-yard touchdown bomb. A failed two-point try, put 'M' ahead, 26-14.

Both teams fumbled away scoring opportunities in the fourth quarter, but the Buffaloes scored with only 2:16 remaining in the game to make the score 26-21 on a one-yard touchdown run by Salaam.

Michigan was unable to run out the clock, and the Buffs started at their own 15-yard line with 15 seconds left. Stewart hit Westbrook up the middle for 21 yards before stopping the clock. As time expired, Stewart launched a "Hail Mary" to the 'M' end zone that was tipped by Ty Law and caught in the end zone by Westbrook for the game-winning TD, making the final score 27-26.

Michigan opened its Big Ten season on the road in Iowa's Kinnick Stadium. The Wolverines remained undaunted by the crowd's noise and a tough Hawkeye squad, as they returned to Ann Arbor with a 29-14 victory. Tyrone Wheatley lead Michigan's offense with 187 yards and two touchdowns, while senior Morrison keyed Michigan's defensive efforts.

The Hawkeyes opened the game with a pass that was picked off by Steve Morrison. With great field position, the Wolverines took advantage of the Iowa turnover and took a 3-0 lead on a Remy Hamilton 30-yard field goal.

After trading punts in the second quarter, Iowa scored early in the second quarter on a one-yard run. With the extra point, Iowa took the lead 7-3. Michigan stormed right back with a touchdown of its own on a Tyrone Wheatley two-yard run. The Hamilton PAT put the Wolverines ahead 10-7. Michigan scored again before the end of the half, as Morrison recovered a fumble to set up another Hamilton field goal, this time from 32 yards. The Wolverines now extended their lead to 13-7.

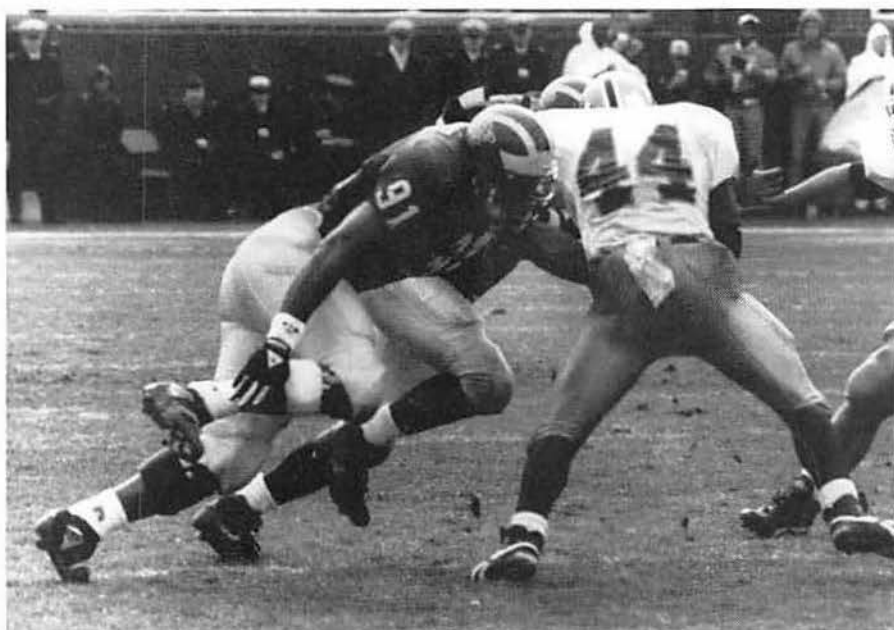

The Wolverines continued to roll in the second half, extending their lead to 19-7 with a 5-play, 45-yard touchdown drive that was highlighted by a 34-yard Collins to Amani Toomer hook-up and a seven-yard touchdown scamper by tailback Tshimanga Biakabutuka. Even though the kick failed, the Wolverines now led the Hawkeyes 19-7. Less than seven minutes later, Hamilton kicked his third field goal of the game. His 32-yard field goal gave Michigan a 22-7 lead after three quarters.

The Hawkeyes responded with a touchdown of their own to open the fourth quarter on an 11-yard score. The extra point then cut the Wolverine lead to 22-14.

Michigan fumbled on the kickoff and Iowa took over. Iowa moved the ball into field goal range and had its 40-yard attempt blocked by Tony Henderson. With 12:49 to go in the game, Michigan moved the ball 77 yards in 11 plays and scored on a 12-yard run by Wheatley. Hamilton then converted the extra point and put Michigan ahead for good 29-14. Morrison with his interception, fumble recovery, tackle for loss and game-high 14 tackles was named ABC's Player-of-the-Game.

Michigan 3 17 17 3-40

After opening the Big Ten season with a victory over Iowa, 'M' shifted its focus to regaining state bragging rights with a 40-20 win over Michigan State.

After 'M' held MSU to eight yards on its first offensive possession, Remy Hamilton booted a 38-yard field goal for the Wolverines to cap a 46-yard drive that was highlighted by a 26-yard pass from Todd Collins to Mercury Hayes.

Michigan State countered with a 28-yard field goal by Chris Salani after Spartan quarterback Tony Banks hit wide receiver Nigea Carter for a 61-yard pass.

Michigan State opened the second quarter with another Salani field goal to take its only lead of the game, 6-3.

On the ensuing drive, tailback Tshimanga Biakabutuka sprinted down the sideline for a 47-yard gain to set up a five-yard touchdown pass from Collins to Tyrone Wheatley, putting 'M' ahead, 10-6.

Michigan's defense shut down the MSU offense in the second quarter, allowing two yards of total offense on MSU's final three possessions of the half.

Hamilton kicked his second field goal, a 28-yarder, after Collins completed passes to Seth Smith, Amani Toomer, and Jay Riemersma, making the score 13-6. On the Wolverines' final drive, Wheatley burst for 25 yards burst, setting up his two-yard TD run to give Michigan a 20-6 halftime lead.

'M' rolled in the second half, as two Wheatley runs for 31 yards and three Biakabutuka runs for 15 yards set up a Hamilton field goal, upping its lead, 23-6.

After stopping the Spartans on their next drive, Michigan had a 68-yard drive that featured a Collins pass to Toomer for 19 yards. Wheatley capped the drive on an 11-yard TD run, his third of the day, to give the Wolverines a 30-6 lead.

MSU responded to Michigan's 27 unanswered points with a 54-yard drive that ended in an 18-yard TD pass from Banks to Scott Greene to cut 'M's lead to 30-13.

On the Wolverines' next drive, a 31-yard pass from Collins to Hayes and 53 Biakabutuka rushing yards helped the Wolverines move 88 yards. Biakabutuka provided the final TD of the game for Michigan on a 26-yard run, increasing its lead 37-13.

After a Spartan turnover at the start of the fourth quarter, Hamilton scored his fourth field goal of the game. 'M' moved the ball to the Spartan four-yard line before settling on Hamilton's 21-yarder.

Michigan State finished the scoring when Banks found Carter on a nine-yard pass to make the score 40-20.

On the day, 'M' had a pair of 100-yard rushers in Wheatley (153) and Biakabutuka (141).

Penn State 10 6 8 7-31

Michigan 0 3 14 7-24

The third largest crowd (106,832) to ever see a college football game was in attendance as Penn State defeated Michigan 31-24 in a battle of top 10 teams.

Coach Joe Paterno, the winningest active coach in college football, brought his Nittany Lions out quickly as they scored on their first four possessions. Penn State's Brett Conway opened the scoring with a 24-yard field goal at the 10:00 mark of the first quarter. Michigan then put together a five-minute drive, but it resulted in a Remy Hamilton 26-yard field goal attempt that hit the left upright.

Penn State took advantage of its field position and scored on the first of three Kerry Collins touchdown passes and the Nittany Lions led 10-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Penn State took advantage of a Michigan fumble early in the second quarter and converted a 29-yard field goal. Less than five minutes later, the Nittany Lions converted on yet another Conway field goal and took a 16-0 lead.

With 43 seconds left to play in the first half, the Wolverines reached the scoreboard on a 33-yard field goal by Hamilton. At the half, the Penn State Nittany Lions had a commanding 16-3 lead over the Wolverines.

Tailback Tyrone Wheatley led a different looking Wolverine team onto the field in the second half as he broke loose for a 67-yard touchdown run on the second play from scrimmage in the third quarter. With the extra point, the Wolverines began to claw their way back as they cut the Penn State lead to 16-10.

With 10:41 to go in the third quarter, Michigan took the lead when Wheatley scored his second touchdown (21 yards) on a pitchback from Todd Collins. After Hamilton's PAT, Michigan led Penn State by the score of 17-16. Penn State answered Michigan's drive by moving 86 yards in 10 plays and scoring on a 38-yard touchdown pass to Jon Witman. After a two-point conversion, Penn State regained the lead 24-17 to end the third quarter.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, the Wolverines recovered a Penn State fumble and took advantage of the miscue with Biakabutuka scoring on a two-yard run on fourth down. Hamilton's extra point knotted the score at 24.

After a nine minute defensive struggle, the Nittany Lions finally broke the tie as Collins hit Bobby Engram on a 16-yard touchdown pass and with Conway's conversion, Penn State closed out the scoring.

The battle featured 444 total yards for Penn State and 437 for the Wolverines.

Illinois 0 7 0 7-14

The Wolverines went to Memorial Stadium in Champaign looking for redemption, as well as revenge for last year's difficult loss to the Fighting Illini in the last seconds of the game. The 72,677 people in attendance were in for a defensive battle between two of the toughest teams in the Big Ten in a 19-14 'M' win.

Michigan was the first to strike with a Remy Hamilton 35-yard field goal that put the Wolverines up 3-0 in the only score of the first quarter.

The defensive struggle between the Wolverines and the Illini would continue until the 11:18 mark of the second quarter when Hamilton booted his second field goal of the day, this time for 32 yards. The Wolverines led by a score of 6-0, but on the next possession, Illinois came back and drove 61 yards in six plays and scored on a two-yard touchdown pass by Scott Weaver. With the PAT, the Fighting Illini took the lead 7-6.

After a Todd Collins interception and a Illinois punt, Michigan continued the see-saw battle.

Taking the lead, 9-7, with another Hamilton field goal, this time for 26 yards. At the half, the score stood at 9-6 in favor of the visiting Wolverines.

Michigan and Illinois exchanged punts to open the second half, but the Wolverines gained the edge as Amani Toomer earned Big Ten "special teams player of the week" honors with a 72-yard punt return for the lone 'M' touchdown of the game.

The next Michigan drive was started by an Illini punt and resulted in Hamilton's fourth field goal of the game. His 27-yarder gave Michigan a 19-7 lead and gave him 18 field goals on the season to tie the 'M' single season record set Mike Gillette in 1988.

Trailing 19-7 after three quarters, Illinois mounted a comeback moving 62 yards in nine plays with Weaver passing to Jason Dulick on an eight-yard touchdown pass. Michigan closed out the win holding the ball for the final 4:42 collecting four first downs. Todd Collins hit tight end Jay Riemersma on three crucial passes on the drive and collected a first down on a four-yard run of his own.

Steve Morrison led the 'M' defense that held Illinois to 75 yards rushing as Michigan had 375 total yards to 270 for the host Fighting Illini.

Special teams accounted for all 19 points in the win, with Hamilton scoring 13 points.

October 29, 1994

Wisconsin 3 14 7 7-31

Michigan 6 7 6 0-19

Michigan entered its 1994 Homecoming contest against Wisconsin fresh off a 19-14 win at Illinois the week before.

Michigan received the opening kickoff, but couldn't move the ball against an emotionally charged Wisconsin defense. However, the Badgers were penalized for roughing Michigan punter Craig Baker, giving the Wolverines a second chance to move the ball downfield. Quarterback Todd Collins then injured his hip during the drive before it ended with another Baker punt.

After Michigan's defense held the Badgers on their first drive, back-up quarterback Jason Carr replaced Collins on offense. His second pass was intercepted by Wisconsin and set up a 22-yard field goal and gave Wisconsin a 3-0 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Michigan freshman Seth Smith returned the ball 100 yards for a touchdown and a 6-3 lead. Smith's return broke the Michigan record for the longest kickoff return in school history, which had previously been held at 99 yards by Tyrone Wheatley and Dennis Fitzgerald.

Wisconsin didn't trail for long though, as they opened the second quarter with a 61-yard, nine-play scoring drive, that resulted in a 13-yard touchdown to put the Badgers back on top, 10-6.

With Collins out of the game Carr led the Michigan running attack to regain the lead.

Tailbacks Tyrone Wheatley and Ed Davis carried the ball a combined nine times for 56 yards, as Carr passed once to tight end Jay Riemersma for eight yards. Wheatley capped the drive with a 24-yard scamper to put Michigan ahead 13-10. The first half ended with Wisconsin leading 17-13 after a two-yard touchdown pass.

Wisconsin opened the second half scoring as well, taking a 24-13 lead on a 31-yard touchdown pass. With 1:04 left in the third quarter, Collins returned and engineered a 10-play, 80-yard scoring drive that ended with a Riemersma three-yard touchdown reception to cut the deficit to 24-19.

Wisconsin completed the game's scoring in the fourth quarter on a three-yard touchdown run and ruined the Wolverines' Homecoming handing them a 31-19 loss.

Michigan.....14 10 7 14-45

Purdue.....7 7 3 6-23

The Wolverines racked up 498 total yards of offense to beat Purdue 45-23.

Michigan jumped ahead 7-0 on a four-play drive that covered 72 yards in 1:27 of action as Tyrone Wheatley had 50 yards on two rushes and Todd Collins found Pierre Cooper with a five-yard scoring pass.

After trading punts, Purdue evened the score on a three-yard TD run by Corey Rogers.

On the ensuing drive, Wheatley had four runs for 37 yards (including a one-yard TD) and Collins found Amani Toomer for 16 yards and Tshimanga Biakabutuka for 20 yards. After Remy Hamilton's PAT, the score was 14-7.

Purdue punted on its next possession at the start of the second quarter and 'M' responded with a drive that featured a pass from Collins to Mercury Hayes for 22 yards and a 24 yard dash by fullback Jon Ritchie. Hamilton hit a 28-yard field goal, making the score 17-7.

The Boilermakers rallied with a 15-play, 74-yard drive that ended on a two-yard Joe Hagins touchdown run, narrowing the gap to 17-14.

Michigan responded quickly with a drive that featured Wheatley runs of 12 and eight yards and passes from Collins to Hayes for 11 and 31 yards. The drive was capped by a two-yard touchdown pass from Collins to fullback Che' Foster that put the Wolverines ahead 24-14 at the half.

The Boilermakers responded on their first drive of the second half with a 10-play, 56-yard effort that ended in a 34-yard field goal by Brad Bobich, making the score 24-17.

The 'M' offense went back to work with an 80-yard drive that featured passes from Collins to Jay Riemersma for eight yards and Amani Toomer for nine and 13 yards. Tailback Ed Davis added 20 rushing yards on three carries and Wheatley finished the drive with a seven-yard scoring dash, upping Michigan's lead to 31-17.

Both teams traded punts before 'M' linebacker Rob Swett intercepted a pass by Purdue quarterback Billy Dicken and he returned it 19 yards to the 50-yard line at the start of the fourth quarter. From there, Biakabutuka reeled off three runs for 26 yards and Collins spotted Hayes for a 14 yard pass. Davis capped the drive with three straight runs for 15 yards, including a two-yard touchdown plunge to make the score 38-17 in Michigan's favor.

Purdue responded with a 10-play, 75-yard drive that featured the running of fullback Mike Alstott, who collected 14 yards on four carries, and Edwin Watson, who had 33 yards on five carries, including a 12-yard TD run. After a failed extra point attempt, the score was 38-23.

'M' finished off the scoring in this game as it began - running the football. With 4:49 remaining in the fourth quarter, Wheatley took three straight carries for 18 yards, bringing the Wolverines to the Boilermaker's 49-yard line. After being stuffed once at the line of scrimmage, Biakabutuka dashed wide right, trailing down the side-line for 43 yards before being pushed out of bounds at the Purdue six-yard line. On the next play, Biakabutuka ran up the middle for the score, putting the Wolverines ahead, 45-23. For the second time in 1994 Michigan had two 100-yard rushers as Wheatley finished with 148 yards and Biakabutuka had 100.

Attendance: 105,624

Minnesota 3 12 0 7-22

Michigan 7 3 18 10-38

Todd Collins set a school record in his final home game, throwing for 352 yards and three touchdowns to lead Michigan to a 38-22 win over Minnesota for the eighth consecutive win in the "Battle for the Little Brown Jug."

After a 25-yard Minnesota field goal attempt sailed wide, the Wolverines first drive fared no better as Tyrone Wheatley fumbled on the 'M' 20 on their first play from scrimmage. Minnesota wasted no time capitalizing on the Wolverine turnover as Mike Chalberg converted on a 23-yard field goal and put the Gophers ahead 3-0.

On its ensuing drive, Todd Collins took the Wolverines 69 yards on 11 plays, including a 33-yard pass to Todd Richards and throws of 15 and 22 yards to Mercury Hayes. Tyrone Wheatley capped off the drive with a two-yard touchdown run and Remy Hamilton added the PAT to give the Wolverines a 7-3 lead.

The two teams traded turnovers before Minnesota QB Tim Schade passed to Chris Darkins for 67 yards and a Golden Gopher touchdown. Minnesota missed the extra point, making the score 9-7 at the start of the second quarter.

The Wolverines were forced to punt on their next possession. Four play later, Minnesota scored on a 32-yard pass from Schade to Aaron Osterman, but missed the two point conversion, extending its lead to 15-7.

After trading punts, Collins found Wheatley on a 13-yard screen pass and Hayes on a 43-yard bomb to bring the Wolverines to the Minnesota three-yard line. A delay of game penalty and a sack on Collins brought 'M' back to the Minnesota 19-yard line where Hamilton hit a 37-yard field goal to make the score 15-10 at the half.

The second half opened with a Hamilton 28-yard field goal that narrowed the Minnesota lead to 15-13. On its next possession, Minnesota fumbled inside its own 30 and five plays later, Toomer reeled in a nine-yard, fingertip catch from Collins for the 'M' touchdown. Collins passed to Toomer for the two-point conversion, putting Michigan ahead, 21-15.

The Michigan defense forced Minnesota to punt again and the Wolverine offense began exactly where they left off as Collins and Toomer connected for 23 yards. On the next play, Collins hit Wheatley on a 57-yard touchdown strike and with the Hamilton PAT, Michigan extended its lead to 28-15.

On the Gophers' next possession, Schade's pass was tipped and landed in the hands of 'M' cornerback Woody Hankins. Michigan again took advantage of the Minnesota miscue as Collins hit Toomer again on a 38-yard touchdown pass. Hamilton's PAT now gave Michigan a 35-15 lead at the start of the fourth quarter.

The Gophers responded with a 10-play, 51-yard drive that was capped by a nine-yard pass from Schade to Eric Dalen, narrowing the gap to 35-22.

Michigan answered with a Hamilton 24-yard field goal, his third on the day, that was set up by 38 rushing yards on six carries by Ed Davis. In the 'M' 38-22 victory, Collins and Wheatley both had career days: Collins set the 'M' single game passing record with 352 yards and Wheatley became Michigan's all-time leading scorer with his two touchdowns.

Minnesota's Schade threw for 394 yards, the most ever by an opponent in Michigan Stadium and the second highest total ever allowed by the Wolverines.

Michigan.....0 3 3 0-6

Ohio State.....2 10 0 10-22

The Wolverines outgained Ohio State on the ground and through the air, but it was one yard they didn't get and two they lost that doomed Michigan to a 22-6 loss in the regular-season finale. The loss spoiled one of the Wolverines' best defensive efforts of the season as they held the Buckeyes to just 85 yards rushing—the fifth game a U-M opponent had failed to reach the 100-yard rushing mark.

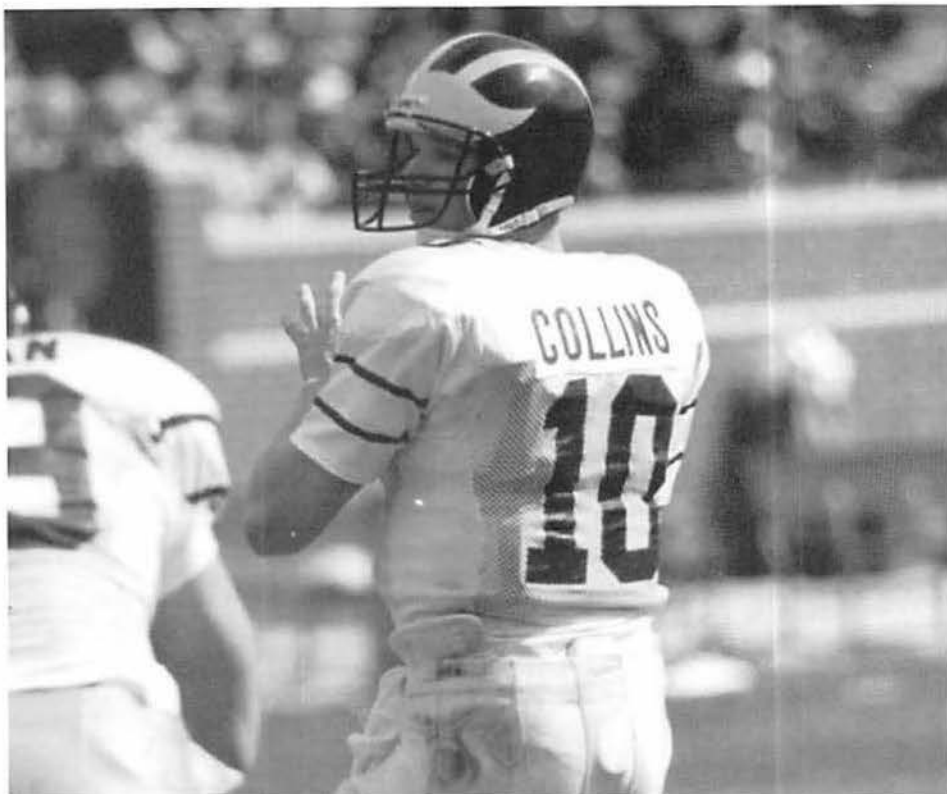

Michigan took the opening kickoff and drove 62 yards to the Ohio State 21, but the drive stalled when Che' Foster fell down trying to catch a fourth-and-one pass from Todd Collins. Although the Buckeyes did not score on the ensuing possession, the momentum shifted to OSU. Ohio State took a 2-0 lead when Collins, trying to drive the Wolverines from the shadow of their goalpost, tripped while taking a second-and-nine snap and fell down in the endzone for a safety.

It was the closest Michigan would get to any endzone all afternoon, as Ohio State denied the Wolverines a touchdown on the afternoon—the first time a U-M offense had failed to cross the goal line since a 3-3 tie against the University of Illinois in 1985.

Michigan still trailed only 2-0 after one quarter, but Ohio State needed just three plays of the second to score again. Buckeye quarterback Bob Hoying capped a 10-play, 40-yard drive with a four-yard keeper that gave OSU a 9-0 lead. The Buckeyes expanded their lead to 12-0 with 6:22 left before half-time on a 26-yard field goal by Josh Jackson.

The Wolverines marched right back with a 70-yard drive in five plays, highlighted by a 59-yard pass from Collins to Amani Toomer. The drive stalled on the OSU five yard-line three plays later, but Remy Hamilton put U-M on the board with a 22-yard field goal with 3:52 left in the second quarter.

Despite just three points on the scoreboard, the first half was not without its highlights. Senior tailback Tyrone Wheatley rushed nine times for 46 yards. Wheatley's 28th yard put him over the 1,000-yard mark for the third straight season. Only one other Wolverine (Jamie Morris, 1985-87) has rushed for 1,000 yards in three straight seasons.

Another Hamilton 22-yard field goal closed the gap to 12-6 halfway through the third quarter, but OSU's Jackson answered back at 11:22 of the fourth with a 29-yard field goal to push the margin back to nine at 15-6. After Collins was intercepted on the first play of U-M's next drive, the Buckeyes put the game away with 16-yard drive, capped by Eddie George's two-yard plunge.

The Buckeyes won despite just 210 total yards of offense. Michigan produced 271. Senior Steve Morrison led the Wolverines with 12 tackles—the ninth time in 11 games he paced the U-M defense. Jarrett Irons added 11—including two for loss—and was named ABC's player of the game for the second time this season.

M 1994 HOLIDAY BOWL GAME SUMMARY

December 30, 1994

Jack Murphy Stadium, San Diego, CA

Attendance: 59,453

Michigan.....10 7 7 0-24
Colorado State.....7 0 0 7-14

The Wolverines headed to their 20th consecutive bowl game with something to prove defensively against a powerful Colorado State offense in the 1994 Holiday Bowl at San Diego, CA.

Michigan, which had taken its lumps on the defensive side of the ball during a 7-4 regular season, stuffed the Rams when it counted in a 24-14 win at Jack Murphy Stadium that helped ease the sting of some painful late-season losses.

CSU, representing the offensive-minded Western Athletic Conference, nearly mirrored the Wolverines in total yardage (341-340), but gained just 51 yards rushing against a Michigan defense that forced four turnovers and put a stamp on the 1994 season with an impressive goal-line stand in the second half.

U-M struck first on the game's opening drive, marching 70 yards on 13 plays. Senior Todd Collins' four-yard TD pass to junior wideout Amani Toomer gave U-M a 7-0 lead with 8:51 left in the opening period.

The lead was short-lived, however, as the Rams took the ensuing kickoff and turned in a nine-play, 66-yard drive to tie the game, 7-7. Anthony Hill connected with Paul Turner for the 32-yard score at the 4:50 mark of the first period.

After All-American Remy Hamilton booted a 34-yard field goal—his Big Ten-record 25th of the season—with 2:46 remaining in the first period to put Michigan ahead 10-7, the Wolverine defense went to work.

CSU's next four plays resulted in minus-10 net yards for the Rams, who were forced to punt. Senior Matt Dyson turned in the big play, sacking Hill on first down for an 11-yard loss.

Penalties stalled a pair of Michigan drives in a second period that saw the Wolverine defense continue to slow the CSU attack.

An interception by Clarence Thompson stopped a Ram drive with

Collins then hooked up with his other wideout, junior Mercury Hayes, for a 16-yard TD strike to put U-M ahead 17-7 with 1:28 left in the half.

The Rams' last-minute attempt to answer with a score was thwarted by an interception by another All-American, junior cornerback Ty Law at the 23-second mark.

Michigan went to the lockerroom with a 17-7 lead. U-M amassed 234 yards of total offense in the first 30 minutes, while CSU posted 170 yards. The Rams' 50 net rushing yards did not change much in the second half.

In the final 30 minutes, Michigan yielded just one net yard on the ground, as the Wolverine defense went to work on Hill and a turnover-riddled Ram offense.

U-M's defense struck on Colorado State's first drive of the second half. Facing a third-and-11, Hill was sacked by Woodrow Hankins, who forced a fumble that was recovered by teammate Jarrett Irons at the CSU 17-yard line.

Senior tailback Tyrone Wheatley took the ball the remaining 17 yards on four plays—the last a three-yard burst—to score the final touchdown of his Michigan career and give U-M a 24-7 lead with 11:58 left in the third quarter.

Wheatley's touchdown was the seventh bowl score of his four-year Wolverine career—a Michigan record.

The Rams and Wolverines exchanged turnovers on the next two possessions. CSU coughed the ball up on a fumble by Leonice Brown, thanks to a big hit by Dyson, who earned game defensive MVP honors. However, the Wolverines gave the ball right back when Collins was intercepted with 9:48 left in the third quarter.

At that point, the CSU offense embarked on an attempted rally drive that turned into perhaps the shining moment of the season for the Michigan defense.

It was certainly the turning point of the game, as a 17-point deficit did not scare a CSU team that had rallied from a 24-0 deficit against Fresno State earlier in the year, and put up 35 points per game during the season.

A 42-yard pass play helped Colorado State move the ball from its own 13-yard line to inside the Michigan 10. A pair of pass interference calls against Michigan gave the Rams seven plays to attempt to go eight yards into the endzone.

Four plays from the Michigan two-yard line turned up nothing for Colorado State, as a two-yard loss and incomplete pass on fourth down helped the Wolverines turn away the high-scoring Rams.

Michigan held a 24-7 advantage after three quarters, and the Wolverines held that lead until 1:18 remained in the game. CSU finally cracked the stubborn U-M defense with an 18-yard TD pass by Hill to complete the scoring.

Hill put up a strong offensive effort, throwing for 289 yards (22-for-40) and two TD's. However, he was sacked five times for 37 lost yards and threw a pair of interceptions. Collins answered with 162 yards (14-24) and two touchdowns, and threw one more interception than Hill.

The Michigan defense tallied 11 tackles for loss, driving the CSU offense back 61 yards.

M MICHIGAN'S 20+ YARD PLAYS IN 1994

On the season, the Michigan Wolverines have scored 34 touchdowns (21 rushing, 11 passing, one kickoff return and one punt return). An integral part of these 34 touchdowns have been Michigan's 20+ yardage plays. 1994 has brought a total of 84 20+ yardage plays, with 11 of these resulting in touchdowns. Of the total 84 plays, 52 of these have been gains of 20+ yards and 15 have been gains of 40+ yards. Here is a breakdown of every 'M' play of 20+ yards on the season (touchdowns are in bold):

122 Straight

The University of Michigan football team has played 122 consecutive home games in front of crowds in excess of 100,000 through the 1994 season. The last time Michigan did not have 100,000 in attendance in Michigan Stadium was on Oct. 25, 1975 vs. Indiana. A crowd of 93,857 was on hand for the 55-7 Michigan victory.

Since then, Michigan has set numerous NCAA attendance marks and the Wolverines have led the nation for the past 21 seasons in attendance.

Michigan Stadium 1927-1994

Won 299, Lost 97, Tied 15

CAPACITY: 102,501—largest college-owned structure of its kind designed solely for football—closer to the playing field with no running track—no posts or other obstructions—92 rows.

COMPLETION: 1927—at a cost in excess of $950,000 to seat 72,000 spectators. Capacity raised to 84,401 by addition of temporary wooden bleachers until 1949 when permanent steel stands replaced the wooden bleachers, increasing the capacity to 97,239. Seating capacity then raised to 101,001 in 1956, 101,701 in 1973, and 102,501 in 1992.

FIRST GAME: October 1, 1927—Michigan led by Captain Bennie Oosterbaan, defeated Ohio Wesleyan, 33-0. LaVerne (Kip) Taylor, Michigan end, scored first in the stadium on a 28-yard pass from halfback Louis Gilbert.

DEDICATION GAME: October 22, 1927—Michigan defeated Ohio State, 21-0.

ATTENDANCE: Since 1927—30,894,380 fans have watched the Wolverines play 411 games (an average of 75,169). Stadium and NCAA attendance record of 106,867 set Nov. 20, 1993 against Ohio State. NCAA season record of 739,560 set in 1993. NCAA season average record of 106,217 per game set in 1994. Entering 1994 season, 122 consecutive crowds of over 100,000.

FIELD: 360 x 160 feet—Installed Prescription Athletic Turf in 1991, giving Michigan its first natural grass field since 1968. Field was also lowered 3½ feet allowing better sightlines for those seated in the lower rows.

Michigan's fake field goal scores against Notre Dame. This play triggered a 32-20 victory over Notre Dame in 1942 as Don Robinson (46), the holder for "Automatic" Jim Brieske, darted around left end to score. There are four Michigan All-Americans in this photo—Al Wistert (11), Merv Pregulman (67), Julius Franks (63), and Elmer Madar (right coner).

BO SCHEMBECHLER

"The Team, The Team, The Team."

That was Bo Schembechler's winning philosophy over the course of his 27 years as a collegiate head football coach. Schembechler used that philosophy to build successful teams out of individuals, to make men out of boys, and to create a coaching legend out of a prep football all-stater from Barberton (Ohio) High School.

His loyalty to Michigan was matched only by the success he enjoyed at the Ann Arbor campus. Schembechler's ability to motivate his players to perform as a disciplined, cohesive unit is displayed in the long list of achievements that follow:

- *A career won-lost record at Michigan of 194-48-5. Including his six year tenure as coach of Miami of Ohio (1963-68), he had an overall record of 234-65-8, a figure that places him fifth in all-time NCAA Division I-A coaching victories. At the time of his retirement, Schembechler was the winningest active coach in college football.

- *A sparkling 143-24-3 (.850) record in Big Ten games.

- *His 194 wins at Michigan make him the winningest football coach in school history.

- *13 of his 21 Michigan football teams either won or tied for the Big Ten Championship.

- *Schembechler never had a losing season in 27 years as head coach.

- *17 of his 21, and each of his last 15, Wolverine teams went to bowl games.

- *17 of his 21 Michigan teams were ranked in the top ten of the final wire service polls (AP and/or UPI).

- *39 different players earned All-America honors and 97 different Wolverines earned first team All-Big Ten honors during his coaching reign.

- *Eleven of his 21 teams won ten or more games in a season.

- *During the 1970s, his regular season record of 96-10-3 was the finest in the nation.

- *Schembechler was named National Coach of the Year in 1969, was selected as Big Ten

Coach of the Year four times (1972, 1976, 1980, and 1985), was honored as Ohio Coach of the Year in 1966, and won the MAC Coach of the Year in 1965.

*Schembechler is a past-president of the American Football Coaches Association.

Schembechler also upheld Michigan's tradition of excellence in athletic administration when he assumed the role of athletic director on May 5, 1988. As athletic director, Schembechler oversaw 21 varsity sports with a $20 million budget. Under Schembechler, Michigan produced several nationally ranked teams and a generous supply of championship trophies, including the 1989 NCAA Basketball and Rose Bowl Championships. He initiated construction of a $12 million football complex and sports services building that, upon its dedication on May 21, 1991, stands in his honor as Schembechler Hall.

Schembechler resigned as athletic director on January 7, 1991 to become President of the Detroit Tigers, a role he is still serving in today.

Schembechler played his college football at Miami of Ohio where he was an offensive tackle for three seasons. He played under George Blackburn and Woody Hayes. Schembechler graduated in 1951 and received a master's degree in 1952 at Ohio State where he served as a graduate assistant coach. After serving in the U.S. Army, Schembechler was named an assistant coach at Presbyterian College in 1954 and Bowling Green in 1955, and then joined Ara Parseghian's staff at Northwestern in 1958 before serving for the next five seasons as an assistant to Ohio State. Bo was appointed head football coach at Miami of Ohio in 1963, a position he held until taking over the Michigan program prior to the 1969 season.

DON CANHAM

Don Canham retired as Michigan's Athletic Director on June 30, 1988 after nearly five decades as a prominent figure on the intercollegiate athletic scene. From NCAA high jump champion to successful head track coach to the dean of athletic directors, Canham's influence was significant and far-reaching in the world of college athletics.

After Canham was named the fifth athletic director in Michigan history in 1968, he launched the first major direct mail and advertising program to sell football and other sports tickets. As a result, Michigan consistently led the nation in football ticket sales and attendance, increasing revenue from $3 million in 1968 to more than $18 million in his final year as AD.

Meanwhile, Canham supervised a competitive athletic program that produced 73 Big Ten Championships. During Canham's tenure, the Wolverine program expanded to 21 varsity sports and remained self sufficient, never using state, federal, or university funds for buildings and operations.

Under Canham's leadership, Michigan boasted an athletic plant that still ranks among the finest in the nation.

Canham's final project was the construction of an $8 million, Olympic-sized swimming and diving complex that now ranks as one of the finest facilities of its kind in the world. Upon the occasion of his retirement, the University's Board of Regents officially named it the Donald B. Canham Natatorium.

Among the seemingly endless list of awards and honors received by Canham are his election into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame, the United States Track and Field Hall of Fame, and the University of Michigan's Hall of Honor. Even today, Canham continues to be recognized for his contributions to college athletics as evidenced by his selection by the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame as the recipient of the Most Outstanding Contribution to Amateur Football Award for 1991.

Canham was Michigan's track captain during his undergraduate years and captured the 1940 NCAA high jump crown. He served in the Army Air Force, coached and taught at Kankakee, Illinois High School, and was an assistant track coach at Michigan for two years before being named head coach in 1948. His Wolverine teams won 12 Big Ten titles in 19 years.

Canham's ingenuity, expertise, and leadership moved Michigan to the forefront and forever changed the face of intercollegiate athletics.

FRITZ CRISLER

Herbert Orin "Fritz" Crisler was associated with the University of Michigan for more than 30 years. During that time he built up one of the most impressive records in intercollegiate sports history as a coach and administrator.

Crisler's association with Michigan began in 1938 as head football coach, and in 1941, he added the duties of athletic director. He carried on his dual role until 1948 when he gave up coaching to devote full time to serving as athletic director, a position he held for 20 more years before retiring in 1968.

As a coach, Crisler established one of the most brilliant records in the history of the sport. During his ten-year span, his Wolverine teams accumulated a 71-16-3 record while winning the Big Ten Championship twice (in 1943 and '47).

He was named National "Coach of the Year" in 1947 as he guided one of Michigan's greatest teams through an undefeated season that was climaxed with a 49-0 win over Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl for the National Championship.

Crisler is credited with the founding of the "two platoon system" in 1945, and he created the distinctive winged-helmet still worn by today's Wolverines.

As athletic director at Michigan, he was a shrewd and able planner and a sound businessman. He enlarged Michigan Stadium twice, developed the overall athletic plant, and was responsible for the basketball arena which bears his name.

Fritz Crisler's contributions to the University are his legacy, building upon the rich tradition that is Michigan.

GERALD FORD'S NUMBER 48 IS FIFTH WOLVERINE FOOTBALL NUMBER TO BE RETIRED

Gerald R. Ford is not only one of Michigan's most famous and important graduates, but he is also one of the University's great athletes. On Oct. 8, 1994, Michigan retired his jersey number 48 during halftime of the Wolverines Homecoming game against Michigan State.

Through 116 years, eight national championships, 37 Big Ten Conference titles, 16 Rose Bowl appearances, over 100 All-Americans and two Heisman Trophy winners, Ford's jersey became just the fifth in Michigan's illustrious history to be retired.

The five jersey numbers honor seven players because three of those Wolverines, the Wistert brothers, each wore number 11. Six of the players are linemen, and all were two-way players.

Years after the retirement of Bennie Oosterbaan's "47," it was announced that "11" would disappear forever from the Michigan rosters, giving special recognition to three of the Wolverines' greatest tackles, Francis, Albert and Alvin Wistert. Tom Harmon, "old 98," had his number retired after winning the Heisman Trophy in 1940 and Ron Kramer's "87" never will be worn by another Wolverine because he was the epitome of the rugged defensive end and also made impossible catches as an offensive end.

Though Ford's football accomplishments may pale in comparison with his political achievements, the same would be said for any ex-President of the United States.

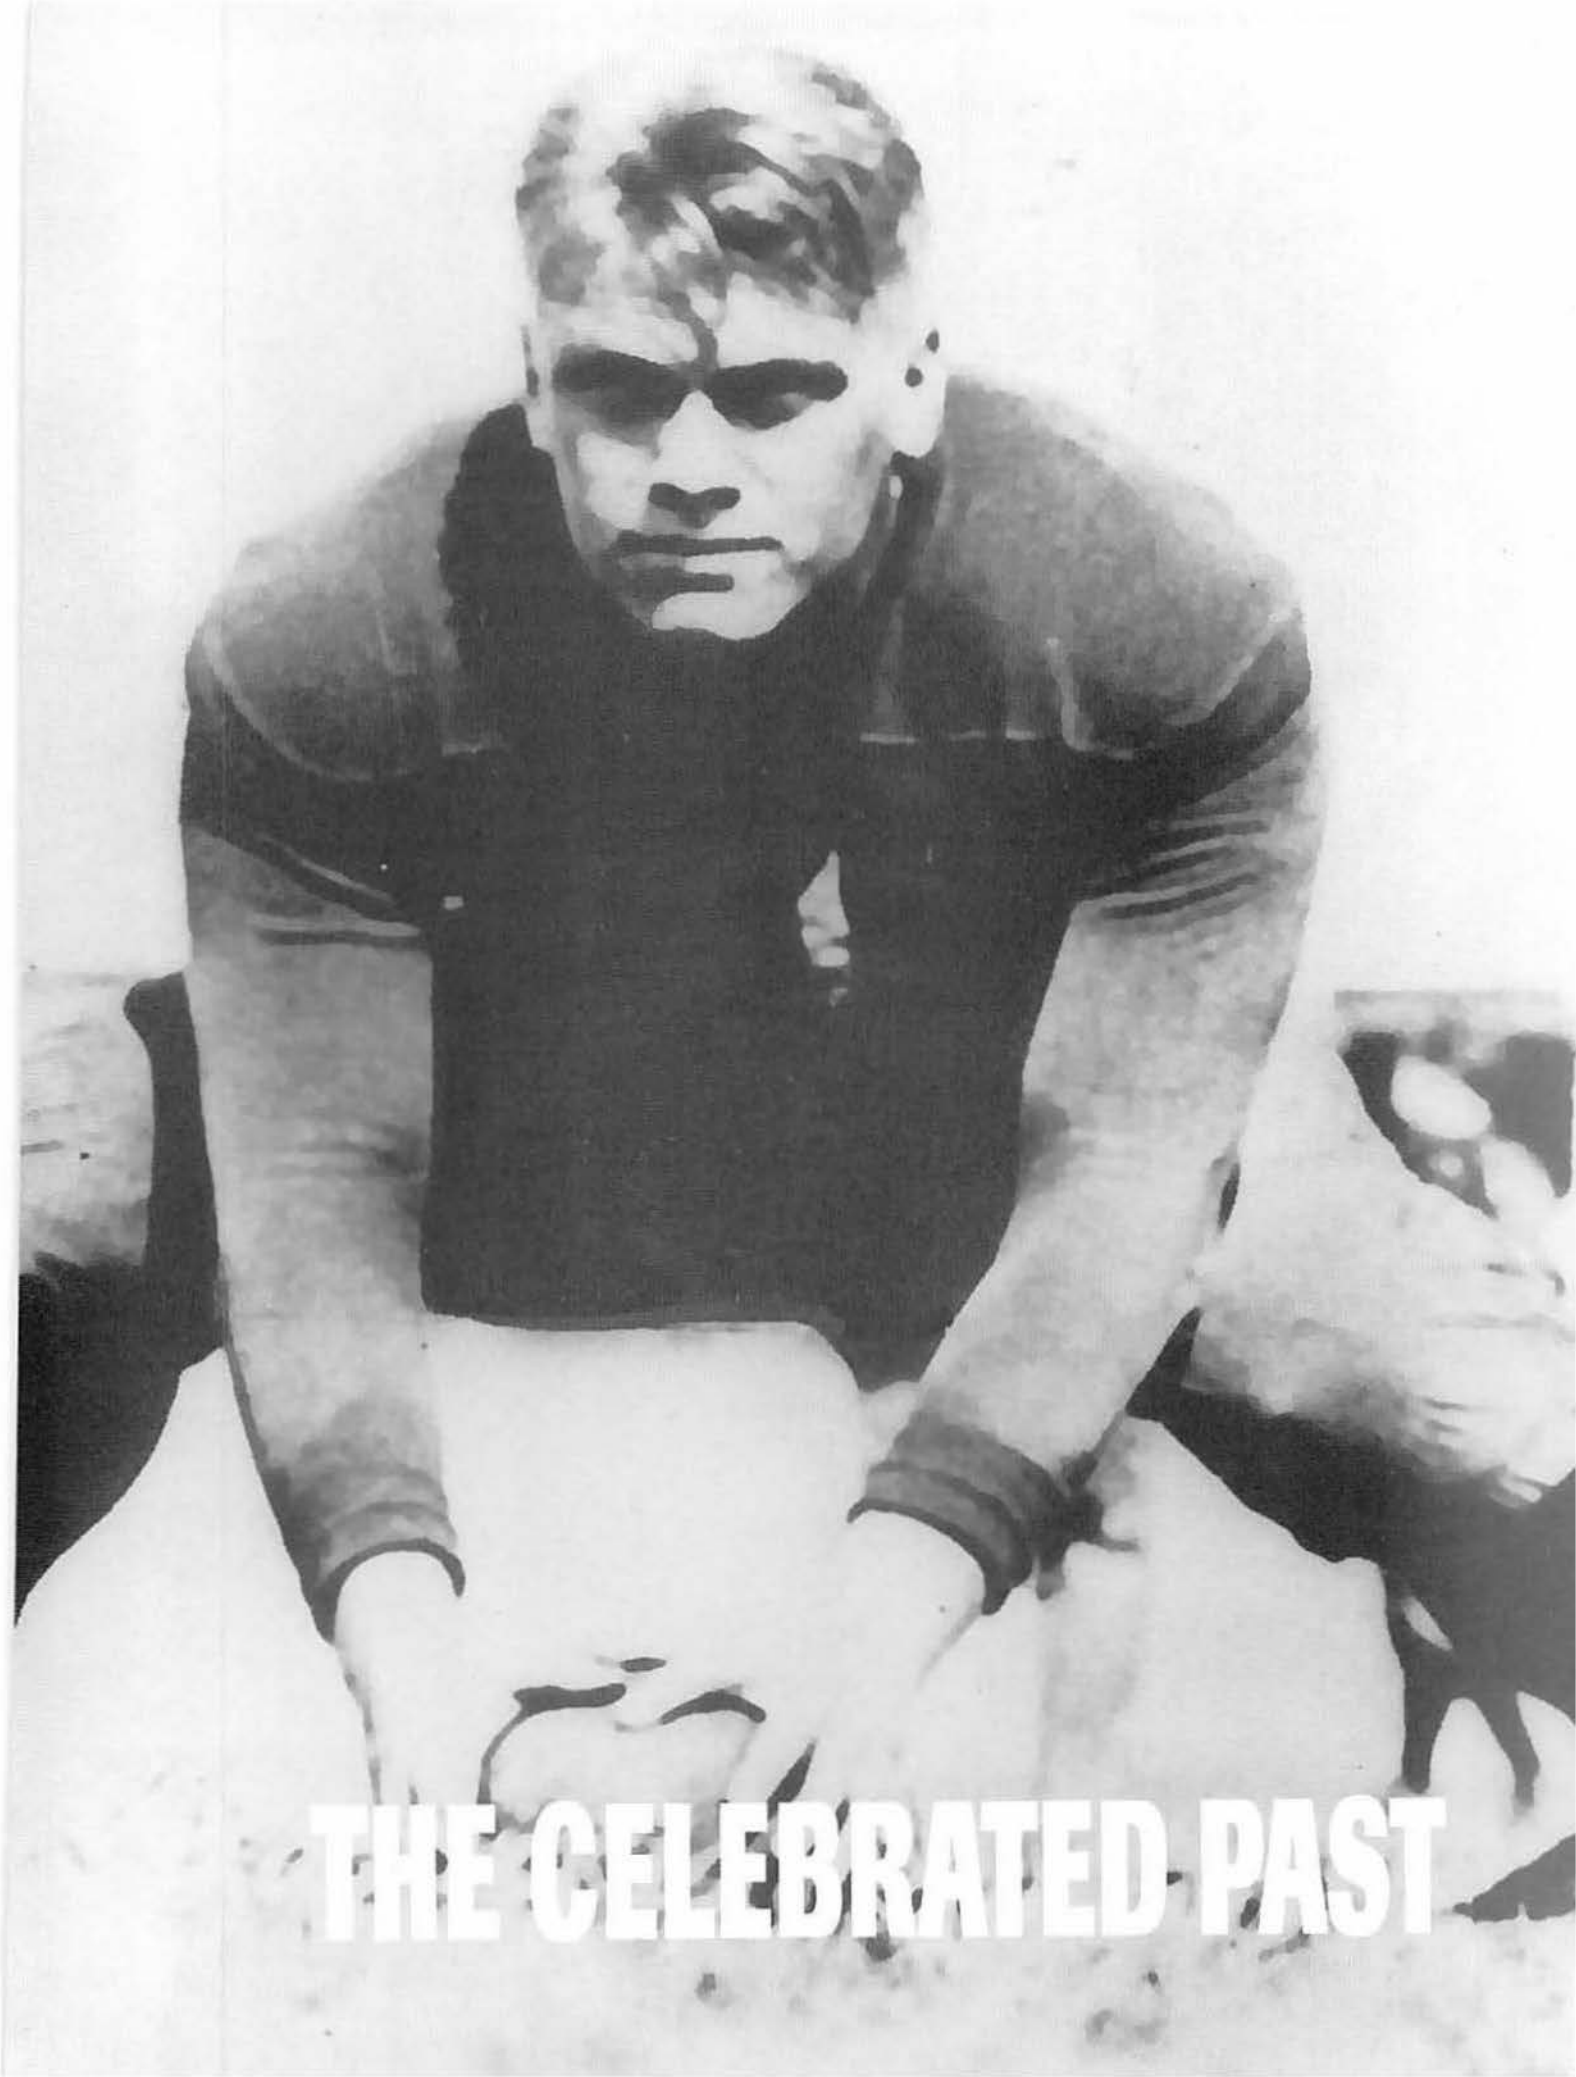

While at Michigan, Ford earned three varsity letters from 1932-34, and was named Michigan Most Valuable Player his senior year as a starting center. In 1935, he played in the all-star game against the World Champion Chicago Bears following his remarkable senior campaign.

Ford, a '35 Michigan graduate, received his law degree from Yale in 1941 while also serving as an assistant football coach there. He went on to serve in the Navy for four years of active duty and returned home in 1946 with the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

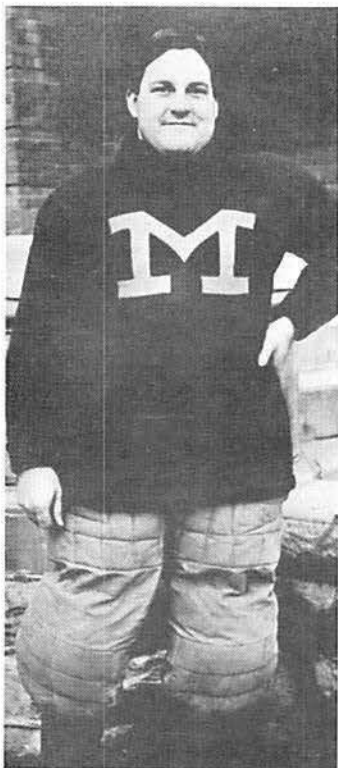

It was in 1949 that Ford began the political career that would make him an historical figure. On February 3 of that year, Ford was elected to Congress. Only nine years later, his outstanding record as a public servant earned him Sports Illustrated's Silver Anniversary All-American Award, honoring the football player a quarter of a century ago who contributed most to his fellow citizens.

The Grand Rapids native, also a member of the prestigious Michigan Sports Hall of Fame, was known as a "congressman's congressman," and was elected as the majority leader of the House of Representatives in 1965. He would later be named Vice President, and then President of the United States in 1974, a testimonial to his character, diligence and personal integrity.

THE CELEBRATED PAST

M ALL-AMERICANS

William M. Heston, Halfback

The third Michigan player to be named to the All-American team, and the first to be chosen by Walter Camp. Heston was also chosen on several All-Time All-American teams. Unequaled at hitting a line, he was also one of the fastest starters in football. Scored more than 70 touchdowns as he spearheaded Michigan's "point-a-minute" teams from 1901 through 1904. Named to both the National and Michigan Hall of Fame list.

Adolph G. (Germany) Schulz, Center

First of the roving centers, Germany dropped back on defense to plug holes anywhere in the line. Although chosen All American in 1907, his play against Pennsylvania in 1908, earned him the praise of Coach Fielding Yost, who said, "He gave the greatest one-man exhibition of courage I ever saw on a football field." Schulz limited the great Quaker team to a single touchdown before injuries put him out at the half and Michigan was overwhelmed. A National Hall of Fame selection. Chosen on the All-Time All-American team in 1951.

1909,10

Albert Benbrook, Guard

Called the first of the great running guards by the critics. Despite his giant 240 pound frame, Benbrook moved with cat-like quickness and was faster than most backs. Walter Camp, choosing him twice commented: "He leads his mates across the line with his quick, ripping charge that simply smothers the opposition. A tremendous player."

William Cunningham, Center

Michigan's first All American, chosen by Caspar Whitney, who actually started the All-American selections, preceding Walter Camp. Recommended by Amos Alonzo Stagg after his great performance in the Chicago game of 1888, won by Michigan, 19-12. It was this contest that inspired Louis Elbel to write The Victors, greatest of all college marching songs.

1901

Neil W. Snow, End

Michigan's second All-American, chosen by Caspar Whitney. Captain of the 1901 team that climaxed an undefeated season by winning the first Tournament of Roses game, January 1, 1902, under Coach Fielding Yost. Snow earned 10 letters at Michigan in football, baseball, and track. Chosen All Western end four seasons although he played fullback as well. Selected by National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

1910

Stanfield Wells, End

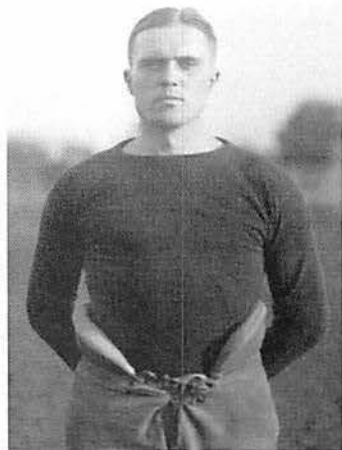

A great wingman, he was, strangely enough, Michigan's first forward passer of note. In a time when the pass was considered risky and unorthodox, he threw spectacular passes and then dove across the goal line to score the winning touchdown himself against Minnesota in 1910. "Wells is not only a first class end but a starting back as well," wrote Camp.

Germany Schulz

James Craig, Halfback

Noted chiefly as a ball-carrier, he also was an excellent defensive back. An outstanding player and a letterman in 1911 and 1912, as a senior. Craig was a member of Camp's All-American backfield along with Eddie Mahan and Charles Brickley of Harvard and Huntington of Army. He is a brother of Ralph Craig, Olympic trackman, who later became an Olympian as a yachtsman as well.

1917

Ernest Allmendinger, Guard
Quick and powerful, "Aqua" often led interference from his guard position. A team-mate of Johnny Maulbetsch both at Ann Arbor High School and Michigan in 1911-12-13, he later joined two other Michigan men, Cedric Smith and Frank Culver, on Camp's 1917 All-America Service Eleven. One of "Aqua's" greatest games helped bring Michigan a 17-0 victory over Cornell in 1913.

Cedric Smith, Fullback
"Pat" was captain of Michigan's 1917 team, the same year he was named fullback on the All-America chosen by Walter Camp. Joining the Navy in 1917 for World War I service, he later transferred to the Army Air Force and played for Selfridge Field. Returned to Michigan following his service career, he graduated in 1919 and later played professional football for the Massillon, O., and Buffalo, N.Y. teams against the famous Jim Thorpe and the Canton Bulldogs.

Miller Pontius, Tackle

A team-mate of Jimmy Craig, Miller "Brute" Pontius became an All-American tackle after earning All-Western honors at end in 1912. Greatest game perhaps was against Pennsylvania in 1913, when Collier's Magazine's football expert said of him, "He was aggressive against Pennsylvania, playing both end and tackle. He showed a thorough knowledge of the game and always crashed into the point of rival attacks."

John Maulbetsch, Halfback

"Maulie" was a true Ann Arbor product, starring at Ann Arbor High before becoming Michigan's ninth All-American. The "German Bullet" weighed but 153 pounds, but generated amazing power and speed. He outgained the entire Harvard backfield in 1914 although Michigan lost. Camp picked him over Crimson Tack Hardwick and Ring Lardner wrote: "If anyone tells you the East plays the best brand of football, Maulbetsch shot that theory full of holes."

1917

Frank Culver, Guard

Chosen as tackle on a number of "all" teams as well, this versatile 195 pounder played guard and center for Michigan in 1917. This Wolverine team won eight and lost two games before many of its members entered the service of their country. Culver returned to study law, graduated and later practiced law in Detroit.

Frank Steketee, Fullback

He became Michigan's second successive All-American fullback as he sparked his team to an undefeated and untied season. A great punter and field goal kicker, "Stek" also was a line-plunger of note. His place-kicks defeated both Syracuse and Illinois. Following World War I, he returned to star again in 1920 and 1921, defeating Minnesota with three place-kicks and a touchdown.

1921

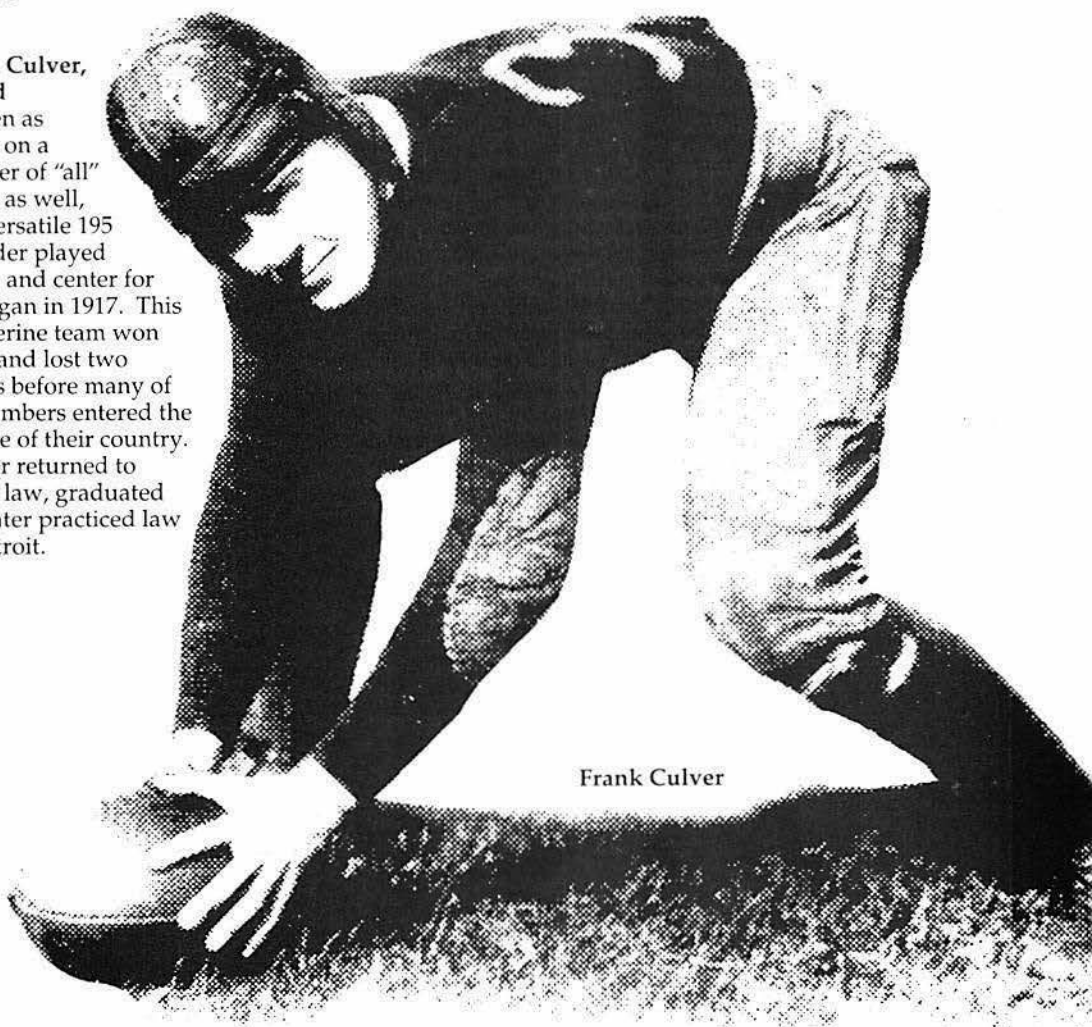

Henry (Ernie) Vick, Center

Following the footsteps of such giant immortals as Cunningham and Schulz, he became one of Michigan's greatest centers despite his comparatively small stature. His terrific tackling and blocking earned him nationwide attention. Walter Camp wrote: "Ernie is the most accurate passer ever to put a ball into play. Dependable under great pressure, a wonderful tackler." Also starred in baseball.

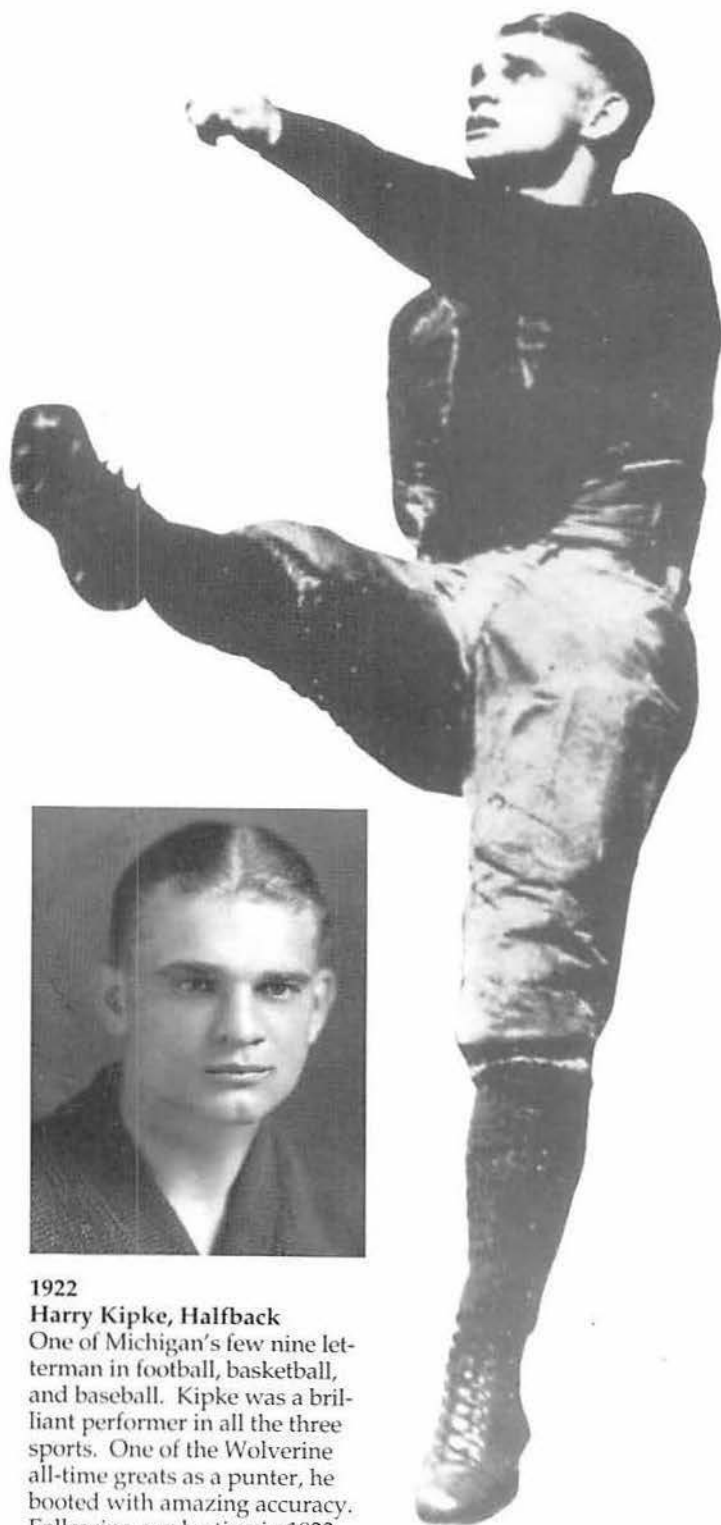

1921

Paul Goebel, End

An excellent example of a man who carried gridiron success into late life, the Grand Rapids athlete entered Michigan in 1919, started at end and played every game. He continued through 1921 as an outstanding all-around wingman. A brilliant student, later an engineer and businessman, he also became a Big Ten official, a University Regent, member of the Athletic Board. During World War II, he served as Lieutenant Commander on an aircraft carrier.

Frank Culver

Harry Kipke, Halfback

One of Michigan's few nine letterman in football, basketball, and baseball. Kipke was a brilliant performer in all the three sports. One of the Wolverine all-time greats as a punter, he booted with amazing accuracy. Following graduation in 1923, he had a highly successful life as a football coach, winning four Big Ten titles at Michigan, as a businessman, a Regent, and Civic leader. National Football Hall of fame and Michigan Hall of Fame member.

1923

Jack Blott, Center

Another of Michigan's great centers, he also was a talented dropkicker, breaking up several games with his timely kicks. After graduation he coached lines on Kipke's championship teams and later served in the same capacity on Michigan's Rose Bowl teams of 1947 and 1950 and on the national championship staff of 1948. Among players he developed were All-American centers Maynard Morrison and Chuck Bernard.

1924

Edliff R. Slaughter, Guard

A standout on both offense and defense, he starred on a team that won six and lost only two games in 1924. Selecting him, Walter Camp wrote: "A veteran guard who has always towered in the line. A big man, but extremely active, he provides the pivotal spot upon which a line-plunging attack may rest."

Robert Brown, Center

Captain of 1925 team and held his own among super stars on team. This eleven was called one of the greatest he ever coached by Fielding H. Yost as it won the Conference title. Of Brown he said, "One of the greatest inspirational leaders I have seen." Later, his son led the 1962 Wolverines under Coach Bump Elliott.

1925

Thomas Edwards, Tackle

Regular on 1925 championship team which Fielding Yost considered one of his finest. Two-year letterman who played both offense and defense. Extremely fast and effective on punt coverage.

Harry Hawkins, Tackle

Tackle and guard on Big Ten champions of 1925. Won three letters in football and two in track as a weightman in the latter sport. Graduating from Mechanical engineering in 1926 he became outstanding in the automotive field. In 1957 he was honored by his Alma Mater for his "outstanding achievements and contributions to the development of the field of engineering."

1931
Maynard Morrison, Center
 Ranked by his coach, Harry Kipke, as the finest linebacker he ever saw, the stocky 212 pound Morrison stood head and shoulders above all other centers in the nation in 1931, playing on a Conference championship team. "No one ever got past him," Kipke said of the player who was selected by Grantland Rice for his All-American team.

Benny Friedman, Quarterback
 One of the greatest passers and quarterbacks to play football. Came off the bench in 1924 to become one of football's immortals. As a sophomore he played only five minutes as Red Grange and Illinois defeated Michigan, then guided the Wolverines to a 3-0 victory over the Illini in 1925. Played 60 minutes of every other game. Later starred for such pro teams as Cleveland, Detroit, New York, and Brooklyn. All-pro quarterback five years. Later entered coaching and then became athletic director of Brandeis University. Selected to both National and Michigan Hall of Fame.

Bennie G. Oosterbaan, End
 Michigan's first, and one of only two, three-time All-Americans. Considered one of the greatest pass receivers of his era. Chosen on the All-Time All-American team in 1951. Also a National Football Hall of Fame member with his team-mate Benny Friedman to join such other Wolverines preceding him as Snow, Heston, Schulz and Kipke. Named to Michigan Hall of Fame as well. One of the greatest all-around athletes in Big-Ten history, All-American in basketball and All-Conference in baseball as he won nine letters. With Friedman, formed one of footballs foremost passing combinations. Later coached his Alma mater when the Wolverines won or shared Big Ten titles three times, captured the 1951 Rose Bowl and earned national football championship in 1948. Football Coach of the Year in 1948.

Otto Pommerening, Tackle
 Came off the bench in 1928 to astound Michigan fans with the finest tackle play of the year to win a berth on Grantland Rice's All-American team. First Wolverine to be chosen at tackle since Pontius in 1913. Practically unanimous choice on every major selection. Regarded as one of the best linemen ever to represent Michigan.

Harry Newman, Quarterback
 Analyzing his 1932 All-Americans, Grantland Rice said: "From a fine field, Newman stood well above the mass. He made Michigan's run of eight successive victories possible with his passing, running, and place-kicking. One of the season's most effective triple-threat backs. Scored 57 of Michigan's 83 points in the Big Ten." Later played pro ball with the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers.

1932,33

Charles Bernard, Center
Grantland Rice picked him as another of Michigan's great pivot men. Chuck had understudied Maynard Morrison in 1931, and was well prepared to be a brilliant center on three Big Ten championship teams. Called greatest college player in the country by pro coaches in 1933. Equally brilliant on offense and defense. "Without Bernard," said AP sports editor Alan Gould, "the Wolverines could hardly have topped the toughest league in the country."

1932,33

Ted Petoskey, End
Selected on several All-American teams in 1932, he placed on the Associated Press eleven of 1933. A great wingman on three Big Ten championship squads, he earned eight letters in football, basketball, and baseball. He entered coaching for a number of years before entering the business field.

Francis (Whitey) Wistert, Tackle
First of three All-American brothers to earn tackle honors at Michigan. With Chuck Bernard that year he was one of chief reasons why Wolverine lines were impregnable. Earned three baseball letters and was the Big Ten's most valuable in this sport in 1934. He also played professional baseball for Cincinnati and assisted on the Wolverine grid staff before entering the practice of law where he attained an outstanding position in industrial relations. Named to National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

Ralph Heikkinen, Guard
Guard on Fritz Crisler's first Wolverine team, Ralph was one of the fastest men at the post ever to play for Michigan. Made the All Big Ten team for two years as well and was Michigan's Most Valuable player for two seasons. A 60-minute performer he was seldom fooled by maneuvers designed to hold him. A Law graduate, he became successful in the automotive industry.

1939,40

Thomas Harmon, Halfback
"Old 98" literally blazed across the football skies in 1939 and 1940 after a fast start in 1938. He was one of the country's greatest backs of his era. He became Michigan's first Heisman trophy winner following the 1940 season. During the three seasons he rushed 2,134 yards, scored 33 touchdowns and kicked the same number of point-after-touchdowns, and booted two field goals for 237 points. He also threw 16 touchdown passes. After a thrilling career as a pilot in World War II, he married film star Elyse Knox and became one of the nation's top sports broadcasters and directors. Another Michigan and National Hall of Famer.

Tom Harmon

Tom Harmon ranks as one of the greatest all-around players in the history of college football. A two-time All-America halfback, he twice led the nation in scoring. He ran and passed for 3,438 yards in his three-year career (1938-40), threw 17 touchdown passes, kicked 33 extra points and a pair of field goals, and scored 33 touchdowns.

Harmon's last college football game - the 1940 showdown with Ohio State - was one of the greatest ever played by a Wolverine. In that contest, Harmon rushed for 139 yards and two touchdowns, completed 11 of 12 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns, scored four extra points, intercepted three passes (including one for a touchdown), and averaged 50 yards per punt, leading Michigan to a dominating 40-0 victory. In a rare tribute to a Wolverine in Columbus, the 73,000 fans gave Harmon a standing ovation as he left the stadium.

Harmon's performance against Ohio State clinched his selection for the Heisman Trophy, making him the first Michigan player honored with that award. In addition to his 1940 Heisman, Harmon was awarded the Maxwell Trophy, was voted Most Valuable Player in the Big Ten, and was named Male Athlete-of-the-Year by the Associated Press. After his playing days were over, Harmon was inducted into the National Football of Fame, the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame, and the University of Michigan's Hall of Honor.

Additionally, Harmon is credited with the longest interception return in Michigan history, a 95-yard touchdown return against Iowa in 1939, and ranks among Michigan's all-time leaders in several offensive, defensive, and special teams categories.

The Chicago Bears selected Harmon as the first Player in the 1940 NFL draft, but he signed with the New York Americans of a rival pro league. Harmon entered the Air Force prior to World War II and rose to the rank of captain. As a fighter and bomber pilot, he was shot down twice, but walked back to safety both times, although he was once presumed dead. For his military heroics, Harmon was awarded the Silver Star and a Purple Heart.

On his return to the United States, Harmon married actress Elyse Knox, whom he had met in 1941 while appearing on Bing Crosby's radio show. Harmon played for the Los Angeles Rams from 1946-47, but his legs had been debilitated from the war and he was unable to match the football success of his college years. Harmon then embarked on a career in broadcasting as sports director at KFI television in Los Angeles, and, in 1949, Harmon was named sports director for the Columbia Pacific Radio Network. Eventually, Harmon moved to ABC radio where his nightly sports show was syndicated to more than 400 stations coast to coast. Harmon's transition from the playing field to the broadcast booth helped pave the way for ex-athletes of the future to make similar career shifts.

Harmon's children include Mark, an actor who started at quarterback for UCLA in the early 1970s, Kristin, who was married to the late Ricky Nelson, and Kelly, an actress and fashion model.

Tom Harmon died on March 17, 1990 in Los Angeles, CA shortly after winning a golf tournament at Bel-Air Country Club.

Harmon's number, "Old 98", long since retired, remains as a symbol of his accomplishments on the field as running back, passer, defender, placekicker, punter, and return specialists. More importantly, it serves as a reminder of his contributions to American society as a scholar, community leader, war hero, father and grandfather, and broadcasting pioneer.

Edward Frutig, End

Ed entered Michigan from River Rouge to become the greatest punt blocker since Bill Flora back in the 1920's. Excellent pass receiver and blocker in 1938,39,40. After navy Air Corps service, he played pro ball with the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions. Later entered coaching field before becoming successful advertising representative.

1941

Robert Westfall, Fullback

Small as fullbacks go at 180 pounds, his smashing drives and ability to pick holes made Bobby, particularly with Harmon in 1940, part of a one-two punch that contributed to Michigan's success. Captain in 1941, he led Big Ten scoring as a junior, and then earned All-American honors. After leaving school for the Army Air Corps, he returned to for his degree and play for the Detroit Lions before becoming a successful business executive.

1942

Albert Wistert, Tackle

Second of the famed Wisterts, the "Ox" as he was called, had one of his greatest days as Michigan defeated Notre Dame in a thrilling 1942 battle. Most Valuable Player for Michigan that year. Played in 1943 East-West game, then played nine years for the Philadelphia Eagles, starting and earning all-pro honors. Selected to the National Football Hall of Fame. Later he became a highly successful life insurance agent, and now lives in California.

Julius Franks, Guard

Played with the famed "Seven Oak Posts" on the line. A flaming competitor and a 60-minute player. An attack of tuberculosis cut his career short in 1943, but with characteristic courage he came back to graduate and become a successful dentist in Grand Rapids where he is active in civic affairs.

William Daley, Fullback
Bill came to Michigan from Minnesota as a Marine Corps trainee. Nation's fourth best groundgainer in 1943, where his tremendous speed and power helped the Wolverines to tie with Purdue for the Conference title. Averaged seven yards per play, and scored 57 points against the greatest lines in the country.

Mervin Pregulman, Tackle
An outstanding guard and center, Marv became an All-American tackle in 1943. Originally a center he was shifted to guard, then back to center where his accurate passes were a vital factor in Michigan's famed single-winged attack. Smart and aggressive, he never turned in a performance below the high standard he set for himself. Later played pro football and became a successful executive in the steel industry.

Elmer Madar, End
Sub quarterback in 1941, shifted to end in 1942, Madar's career was interrupted by Air Corps duty overseas until he returned in 1946 to become "iron man" of the Wolverines squad as he played more minutes than any other player despite Fritz Crisler's newly introduced platoon system. His play attracted attention of both newsmen and coaches. Later played pro football, served as assistant at Harvard and Holy Cross before entering Detroit public school systems.

Robert Chappuis, Halfback
A triple-threat back, Bob returned from World War II service to pick up his career where he left off. During war service as an aerial gunner he was shot down over Italy on his 21st mission but escaped after a series of thrilling adventures. He became one of the country's greatest backs in 1947 and climaxed a brilliant career by setting two Rose Bowl records, Jan. 1, 1948, eclipsing records for total offense and pass completions. He also lettered twice in baseball. Following two years in professional football, he entered business and is now a successful labor relations director.

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, Halfback
Called the greatest right halfback he ever saw by his Coach, Fritz Crisler, Bump starred both on offense and defense during the early platoon days at Michigan. Returned from overseas service with the Marines in 1946, he climbed immediately to stardom. In 1947 he led the Big Nine in scoring with 54 points and was chosen the Most Valuable Player in the Conference to win the Chicago Tribune Trophy. He became assistant head coach at Michigan in 1959, after serving as assistant at Oregon State, Iowa and his Alma Mater. His 1964 team won the Big Ten and Rose Bowl titles. Bump also earned letters in football, basketball and baseball at Purdue during Marine trainee days.

Richard Rifenburg, End
Entering Michigan as an 18-year old freshman in 1944, Dick caught two touchdown passes to beat the Iowa Seahawks in his first college game that fall. He saw Navy service in 1946, but returned in 1947 to star on the Rose Bowl winner, and reached the heights in 1948 as he became the second highest scoring end in the nation. His marvelous hands and speed and deadly tackling easily earned him All-American honors. He became a top TV announcer in Buffalo, N.Y.

Pete Elliott, Quarterback
Besides quarterbacking Michigan's 1948 national champions, Pete became the only Michigan athlete to earn 12 letters- in football, basketball, and golf. He played on four championship teams, two in football, and one each in basketball and golf. He came to Michigan in 1945 as a Navy trainee, starring runner and passer. Shifted to quarterback, his blocking and defensive strength became invaluable. Later he served as head coach at Nebraska, California, and Illinois, and later enjoyed success in the building business and as a sports commentator.

Alvin Wistert, Tackle
The third of the All-American brothers was one of the oldest men ever to play college football at 32 after four years in the U.S. Marine Corps. His career was even more remarkable since he did not play high school athletics but worked as a salesman until World War II. He determined, however, to follow his brothers' footsteps and after a year at Boston University, he entered Michigan to win a defensive berth at 31 in 1947, and then became an All-American in 1948 and 1949. He entered the insurance business and later became a successful manufacturer's representative.

The Wisterts

Those well-versed in college football are aware of the contributions made by the Wisterts - three brothers who helped write an unprecedented chapter to the Wolverine football tradition.

Francis, Albert, and Alvin all played tackle, all wore the now retired #11 jersey, and amazingly enough, were all voted first team All-American, an accomplishment that has never been duplicated by three brothers on any level of collegiate competition.

The first brother of this unprecedented family to attain single honors was Francis (Whitey) Wistert, a member of Michigan's 1933 Big Ten and National Championship team. In that same year Francis was named first team All-American. After a brief career in professional baseball and as an assistant football coach at Michigan, he practiced law for 14 years in New York before becoming vice president and director of industrial relations of the Eltra Corporation of Toledo, OH. Whitey Wistert passed away in April of 1985.

The second Wistert brother, Albert, called "The Ox" by his teammates, starred at Michigan under Fritz Crisler in the early 1940's, and subsequently was chosen to the All-American team of 1942. He later played with Philadelphia of the NFL before entering the life insurance business.

Alvin "Moose" Wistert, third of the Wistert dynasty, was the oldest man ever to play football for the University of Michigan, at the age of 32. Following Marine Corps service in WW II, Alvin transferred from Boston University and enrolled at Michigan. He was an All-America tackle on the Crisler-coached Rose Bowl Champion of 1948, and earned All-American honors the following year under first-year coach Bennie Oosterbaan. After graduating from Michigan, Alvin worked in the insurance business for several years before becoming a manufacturers representative. Alvin currently resides in Northville, MI.

The Wisterts have been enshrined in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame and inducted into the Michigan Hall of Honor.

Allen Wahl, Tackle

Robert Allen Wahl was named All-American tackle in 1949 by Grantland Rice and repeated in 1950. He played in the 1951 All-Star Game. Six-feet, three-inches tall, he weighed a lean 225 pounds. A former Army boxing champion, he was extremely quick and strong for a big man. He played as a 17-year old under wartime rules but injuries handicapped him. A year of Army service in Germany, during which he won a service boxing title with 14 knockouts, developed him physically. Wahl later became president of his own company dealing with farm equipment.

Lowell Perry, End

Possessed of great hands, he became one of Michigan's greatest receivers. Reached his peak as a senior, scoring five touchdowns and catching 16 passes for 400 yards as well as returning 22 punts for 232 yards. After Army service where he was commissioned, he won all service team honors and later joined the Pittsburgh Steelers. Injuries halted his career and he entered the insurance business but also managed to earn a law degree in Detroit as well.

1954

Arthur Walker, Tackle

Brooklyn-born, Walker entered Michigan from South Haven. A chunky, hard-charging lineman, he earned Big Ten honors his junior year before becoming an All-American. Although injuries hampered him in his earlier career, he played 55 minutes per game. After graduation he began playing professionally in Canada, enjoying a fine career.

Ron Kramer, End

From East Detroit, Kramer became a two-time All-American and a nine letterman in three sports- football, basketball, and track. Led Wolverine grid scoring for two seasons and did the same in basketball. He was a star receiver, a fine punter, and placekicker, and a ball-carrier as well. As a basketball player he scored 1,119 points and was a Most Valuable Player as a junior. Following graduation he embarked on a spectacular pro career with the Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions.

Ron Kramer

In the long tradition of outstanding Michigan athletes, Ron Kramer deserves to be ranked among the best. A nine-time letterman (three each in football, basketball, and track), Kramer's credits include two consensus football All-American selections (1955-56), the retirement of his jersey number (87) by the Wolverines following his senior season, and the selection as basketball Most Valuable Player for three years standing.

A native of Girard, KS, Kramer's family moved to East Detroit when he was five. Prior to attending the University of Michigan, he won Michigan all-state honors in football, basketball, and track.

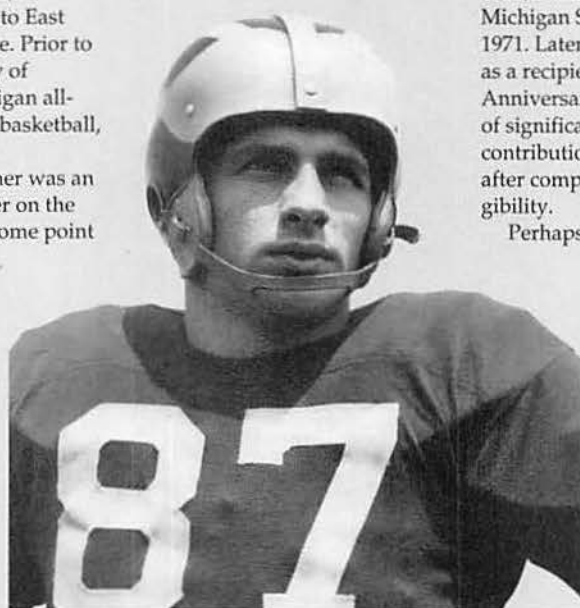

As a Wolverine, Kramer was an excellent two-way player on the gridiron, occupying at some point the positions of offensive and defensive end, running back, quarterback, kicker, and receiver, often all in the same game. Despite these talents, coach Bennie Oosterbaan described his blocking and tackling ability as the most valuable asset to the Michigan squad.

As captain of the basketball team during his senior year, Kramer set Michigan's all-time scoring mark at 1,124 points, a standard that stood until 1961. As a member of the Wolverine track squad, Kramer was a talented high jumper, despite his 230-pound frame. On at least one occasion he walked over to the Michigan track meet after participating in spring football drills, and won the high jump with a 6-foot-4 leap.

Kramer went on to play for the Green Bay Packers under Vince Lombardi in the early 1960's. As the prototype of NFL tight ends, he was named to the all-Pro team following the 1961 and 1962 seasons, as the Packers went on to win consecutive World Championships. Kramer finished his career with the Detroit Lions, following a trade involving their #1 selection in the 1965 NFL draft.

After retiring from football in 1968, Kramer was elected into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame in 1971. Later, in 1981, he was named as a recipient of the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Award in recognition of significant professional and civic contributions spanning 25 years after completion of his college eligibility.

Perhaps Bennie Oosterbaan said it best in describing Kramer's athletic abilities: "To top off his marvelous physical gifts of size and speed and strength, plus an uncanny coordination, Kramer was one of the fiercest competitors I've ever seen. Nothing was impossible for him - the impossible was only a challenge."

James Pace, Halfback

Originally from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he played sandlot football with Terry Barr, Jimmy's career was replete with thrilling runs with All-American honors. Led Big Ten scoring with 10 touchdowns, topped ballcarriers with a 5.84 yard average, and further proved his great speed by winning the Big Ten 60-yard indoor dash title. Although he was not a regular as a sophomore, he scored twice and then played 289 minutes his junior season to average 4.8 yards. He became Michigan's Most Valuable Player in 1957.

Robert Timberlake, Quarterback

One of the great quarterbacks in Michigan history. Big Bob- six feet, four inches tall, weighing 210- guided the Wolverines to the Big Ten and Rose Bowl crowns. A mainstay for three seasons. Total offense mark of 1,381 yards for the regular season was second highest in Michigan annals. Made practically every All-American team. Playing in 217 minutes, he scored 80 points on eight touchdowns, four field goals and 20 conversion kicks. Placed on Big Ten All-Academic team as was named scholar-athlete by National Football Association.

William Yearby, Tackle

One of the finest defensive tackles in the country his junior and senior years. Made Coaches' All-America squad and voted one of the Big Ten's Most Valuable Players. Tremendous strength and speed made him a football player's football player. He was noted particularly for his great pursuit.

Jack D. Clancy, End

Started as a quarterback and halfback. Injury in 1964 robbed him of Rose Bowl trip but he was granted an extra season. Shifted to split end in 1965, his great pass receiving and running continued through 1966 to give him Big Ten receiving record of 50 passes caught for 698 yards in seven conference games. He also set Michigan pass reception career marks with 132 for 1,919 yards in three seasons. Joined Miami team in NFL at completion of his career.

Richard R. (Rick) Volk, Defensive Halfback

Rick Volk was one of the best all-around players ever to represent Michigan on the gridiron. The 6-3, 195-pound native of Wauseon, O., a nephew of Bob Chappuis, All-American halfback of 1947, played offensive quarterback and halfback before becoming an All-American defensive back. A hard hitting and accurate tackler and a keen analyst of opposing plays, he was recognized as one of the truly great defensive players of his time. He was a "clutch player" who demonstrated this fine quality upon numerous occasions when Michigan needed him most. He graduated from the University in 1967, and later joined the Baltimore Colts to become one of the top young stars of the NFL in his first season. Rick was born in Toledo, O., March 15, 1947.

James M. Mandich, End

Combined great pass catching with sturdy blocking at tight end to make virtually every All-American squad including Academic All-American. Caught 119 passes for 1494 yards and seven touchdowns in three-year career. Once had 10 receptions for 156 yards in single game and had eight catches for 79 yards in 1970 Rose Bowl. Elected captain of team and most valuable player. The 6-3, 220 pounder was an All-American prep player at Solon, Ohio.

Ronald A. Johnson, Halfback

One of the greatest football players in University of Michigan history. Broke virtually all school rushing records-setting eight in Big Ten. His 347 yards gained in 1968 against Wisconsin was an NCAA high. Big Ten season yardage of 1,021 set record. Set Michigan season (1,391) and career (2,440) rushing records. Scored more points in a season (92), more touchdowns (5) and more points (30) in a game than any player at that point in Big Ten history. All-American halfback- twice voted Michigan's most valuable player. Elected captain of the 1968 team. Voted Big Ten's most valuable player and state's Amateur Athlete of Year in 1968.

Thomas N. Curtis

Thomas N. Curtis, Safety

Greatest pass interceptor in Big Ten history. Wore No. 25 on jersey and that was total interception number for three-year career. Tied Big Ten record for pass thefts as sophomore with seven. Had nine in league as junior and 10 for season, returning them for 182 yards. Added eight interceptions for 156 yards in All-American senior year with 45 unassisted tackles. Returned 25 interceptions for NCAA record 431 yards. The 6-1, 187 pounder from Aurora, Ohio, twice was All-Big Ten.

Dan Dierdorf, Offensive Tackle

One of the finest offensive tackles ever to play for Michigan and a consensus 1970 All-American. He combined strength and speed to become a key blocker as the Wolverines set a series of rushing records. A native of Canton, Ohio, he was twice All-Big Ten and went on to become an all-pro with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and player representative for the team. He twice was named best offensive lineman of the NFL.

1970

Marty Huff, Linebacker

A premier linebacker in the Big Ten for two seasons, the Toledo product was equally adept at stopping the run or pass. His first interception as a sophomore resulted in a 44-yard touchdown. In three seasons he made nine pass interceptions, returning them 159 yards. He scored a touchdown on a blocked punt, had 266 career tackles, called defensive signals and was awarded the John Maulbetsch Trophy as the top freshman player.

Henry Hill, Middle Guard
 Attending Michigan on an academic scholarship, he made All-Big Ten second team as a sophomore and junior became All-American as a senior in 1970. One of the quickest defensive linemen ever to play at Michigan, making 16 tackles for losses as a sophomore and recording a total of 35 for his career. Hill, from Detroit, walked on to the practice field and went on to captain the 1970 Wolverines.

Mike Taylor, Linebacker
 Made virtually every All-American team. Led Michigan as a senior with 132 tackles and was one of top tacklers on team for three seasons. Extremely effective against running plays and still made several interceptions from middle linebacking position. Considered one of Michigan's finest linebackers.

1971
Reggie McKenzie, Offensive Guard
 A consensus All-American. Regarded as one of nation's top pulling guards. During his three seasons Michigan broke nearly all team rushing records. Played on two championship and Rose-Bowl teams.

William Taylor, Halfback
 Broke Michigan career rushing record with 3,072 yards in three seasons. His 587 attempts were more than any previous Wolverine runner from scrimmage. Was second only to Tom Harmon in career touchdowns with 32 and points with 194. Three-time All-Big Ten runner. 1971 football Most Valuable Player as Michigan's top senior athlete.

1971
Thom Darden, Defensive Back
 Three-year regular playing all defensive back positions. Returned interceptions 92 and 60 yards for touchdowns and had 11 interceptions in his career. Ranks among Michigan leaders in punt returns and punt return yardage for career. Outstanding tackler.

1972
Randy Logan, Defensive Halfback
 Maintaining the great tradition of outstanding defensive backs. Logan had a banner year in 1972. He was selected as All-Big Ten and All-American by the press and coaches, and was honored by his Wolverine teammates when they elected him co-captain and Most Valuable Player.

Paul Seymour, Offensive Tackle
 Coming from one of the great football families in Michigan, Seymour earned All-American honors in 1972 at the tackle position after playing two seasons at tight end. As a receiver, Seymour caught 19 passes for 257 yards. His great blocking ability warranted the needed adjustment in his senior year. His brother Jim was an outstanding receiver at Notre Dame, while cousin Phil was a fine defensive end for the Wolverines.

David Gallagher, Defensive Tackle
 One of the finest defensive tackles ever to play at Michigan. Gallagher was named All-American in 1973 and sophomore All-American in 1971. As co-captain of the 1973 Wolverines, Gallagher was also selected to the All-Big Ten team, twice to the All-Big Ten Academic squad, and was also a recipient of a National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame post-graduate scholarship.

Dave Brown, Defensive Halfback
 A two-time consensus All-American and three-time All-Big Ten selection. Brown maintained the great Michigan tradition of fine defensive backs. A native of Akron, Ohio, Brown intercepted nine passes during his career and was also a fine punt returner, including an 88-yarder, the second longest runback in Michigan history. Brown was co-captain of the 1974 squad.

1975
Don Dufek, Jr., Defensive Back
 Twice an All-Big Ten strong safety, completed career with 249 tackles, nine fumble recoveries and four pass interceptions. Son of former outstanding fullback and coach, Don Dufek, Sr. Earned three letters in football and four in hockey to rank as one of the finest all-round athletes.

Walt Downing blocking for Rob Lytle

Rob Lytle, Running Back

Consensus All-American and named Big Ten Conference's Most Valuable Player in 1976. He gained 1,469 yards as a senior to set a Michigan record and broke the Wolverine career rushing mark with 3,317 yards. His honors include the John F. Maulbetsch Award (top freshman) and the Louis B. Hyde Award (team's MVP). He finished third in Heisman Trophy balloting. He set a conference record by rushing for 180 yards in just 10 carries against Michigan State, an unprecedented 18-yard per carry average. Lytle became an outstanding player with the Denver Broncos of the NFL.

1976

Jim Smith, Wide Receiver

One of the most versatile offensive player in Michigan's history. He averaged more than 7-yards running, more than 10 yards on punt returns, more than 20 yards on pass receptions and more than 17 yards on kickoff returns. In all, he gained 2,890 yards during his career. An All-Big Ten performer, his 184 yards gained on pass receptions against Purdue was the second highest in Michigan history. Smith went on to become an outstanding player with the World Champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

Mark Donahue, Offensive Guard

The native of Oak Lawn, Illinois was a rare, two-time consensus All-American lineman, earning these honors as a junior and senior. He was the 13th player in Michigan football history to be twice honored as an All-American and was considered one of the finest pulling guards ever to play at Michigan. Donahue joined the Cincinnati Bengals and became a regular offensive guard.

John Anderson, Linebacker

John earned All-American honors as an outside linebacker and twice was selected as an Academic All-American. He was named to the Academic All-Big Ten team at linebacker and as a punter. He led the Wolverines in punting for four seasons, including a 41.5 yard average in 1976 that was the second highest in modern Michigan football. He won the Frederick Matthaei Award for leadership and achievement and the Meyer Morton Award. A first-round draft selection, he became an immediate success with the Green Bay Packers.

Walt Downing, Center

Switched from guard to center, he became a consensus All-Big Ten selection and honorable mention All-American as a junior. He repeated as all-conference center in his senior year, was elected co-captain, and was named All-American, the eighth Michigan center to receive that honor. He went on to become a member of the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

1978

Rick Leach, Quarterback

One of the finest athletes in Michigan history. Three times he was named All-Big Ten quarterback and three times placed in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, finishing third as a senior when he was voted Michigan's and the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player. Named Player of the Year by several athletic clubs and television networks, he was co-most valuable player in the 1979 Rose Bowl and Hula Bowl. All Michigan's career passing, total offense and touchdown records were broken by the lefthander as well as the season record for touchdown passes (17). He set an NCAA record for most touchdowns accounted for (82) and broke Big Ten records for total offense (6,460) total plays (1,024) and touchdown passes (48). He won the Big Ten batting championship as a junior and as a senior became one of the few athletes in modern times to become All-American in both football and baseball. He was a first round draft selection by the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Curtis Greer, Defensive Tackle

This native of Detroit left Michigan after the 1979 season with the honor of being the school's all-time leader in tackles for losses. The cat-quick lineman registered 48 tackles for losses during his Wolverine career for 234 yards. His 23 hits behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 107 yards in 1979 established a school seasonal record. He was an All-American selection in 1979 and an All-Big Ten choice in both 1978 and 1979. He was drafted in the first round of the 1980 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Cardinals where he gained a starting berth in his first season.

Ron Simpkins, Linebacker

This Detroit native left Michigan as the school's all-time tackler with a total of 516. His 174 and 168 in 1978 ranked one-two on the Michigan seasonal list when he graduated. In 1979 (150 tackles) he was named to numerous All-American contingents. He was a three-time All-Big Ten selection and was also named the squad's MVP in 1979. He was drafted in the seventh round of the 1980 NFL draft by the Cincinnati Bengals where he made the squad as a rookie.

1980
George Lilja, Center

One of eleven Michigan centers to become an All-American. Voted co-captain of the 1980 team, he won the Meyer Morton Award. Lilja started at center in 24 straight games during his junior and senior years appearing in six post-season games. He was drafted in the fourth round by the Los Angeles Rams.

1981
Kurt Becker, Offensive Guard

Starting in 36 straight games, he was twice named All-Big Ten and a first team All-American in his senior year. He was a finalist in the voting for the Lombardi Trophy. He was drafted in the sixth round by the Chicago Bears.

Ed Muransky, Offensive Tackle

One of the largest offensive tackles in Michigan history at 6 feet, 7 inches and 280 pounds, he was voted first team All-American, first team All-Big Ten and an Academic All-American. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Raiders in the sixth round.

William "Bubba" Paris, Offensive Tackle

He was named All-Big Ten and second team Academic All-American as a junior and in his final year he repeated as a member of the All-Big Ten team and also earned first team All-American honors. He was drafted in the second round by the San Francisco 49ers.

Butch Woolfolk, Tailback

During four years at Michigan he set Wolverine records for most attempts (718) and most yards gained rushing (3,861), leading the team in rushing for three straight seasons. His touchdown runs of 92 and 89 yards are the longest and third longest in Michigan history. Named Michigan's Most Valuable Player in 1981, he also was named MVP in the 1981 Rose Bowl and Blue Bonnet Bowl games. He was selected in the first round of the NFL draft by the New York Giants.

Ron Simpkins

Anthony Carter, Wide Receiver

Called the most dominant player at his position in college football, he also became just the eighth three-time All American in Big Ten history (the first in 36 years) and the first receiver to surpass 3,000 yards in pass receptions. Voted captain of the 1982 team, he was the Wolverines Most Valuable Player twice (1980-1982). Just 5 feet, 11 inches, and 160 pounds, but having outstanding quickness he shattered virtually every Michigan career pass receptions, kick return and scoring record, including touchdowns (40), points (244), receptions (156), yards (3,017), and touchdown catches (37), also a Big Ten record. His 14 touchdown receptions set a single season Michigan record. He compiled the highest yard average for all-purpose running in NCAA history (17.4) and his 33 touchdown receptions during regular season games is the second best total in NCAA history. He ranked fourth in the 1982 Heisman Trophy balloting, receiving more votes than any player other than running backs and quarterbacks. Carter capped his career by being voted the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player in 1982.

Mike Hammerstein, Defensive Tackle

Few have dominated on Michigan's defensive lines as did Mike Hammerstein. An intense player on the field, Hammerstein is best remembered for his relentless pass rushing and tackles for losses. Hammerstein tied a single season record for tackles for losses with 23 while setting the record for yardage lost, sacking opponents for 112 yards lost in 1985. That year's Fiesta Bowl winning squad, of which Hammerstein was selected the Most Valuable Player, surrendered a mere 8.1 points per game among the nation's leaders. Named First Team AP, UPI, and Kodak All-American, the native of Wapakoneta, Ohio, finished his career as the third highest in career tackles for losses with 37 for 116.

Stefan Humphries, Offensive Guard

One of the top linemen to ever wear the Maize and Blue, Stefan Humphries was a leader on and off the football field. Humphries, a two-time Academic All-American selection, was the captain of the 1983 squad that played in the Sugar Bowl. He was awarded the Big Ten Conference's "Medal of Honor" for excellence in academics and athletics. A two-time first-team All-Big Ten selection, Humphries started the last 28 games of his career as a Wolverine. The Broward, Florida native was drafted by the Chicago Bears.

Tom Dixon, Center

Instrumental to the great Michigan running teams of the early 80's, Tom Dixon thrived as the Wolverine center on two Big Ten Championship squads. Named to the UPI and Kodak All-American teams in 1983, Dixon started every game each of his last three seasons, including one game as a freshman. His achievements, however, were not confined to the gridiron as Dixon posted a 3.27 grade point average in the University of Michigan's grueling pre-medicine program. For his outstanding efforts on the field and in the classroom, Dixon received an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship and was named to several Big Ten and All-American academic teams.

Brad Cochran, Defensive Back

Consistency and excellence best describe Brad Cochran's tour of duty with the Wolverines. Possessing exceptional speed and agility, he proved extremely durable, never missing a start over the final three years of his brilliant career. A consensus All-American and tri-captain in 1985, he led Michigan to a 10-1-1 record, including a win in the Fiesta Bowl over Nebraska. He intercepted 12 passes in four seasons, tying him for third on the all-time career chart. Cochran also amassed 184 tackles during the years in which the Michigan defense ranked nationally in fewest points and yards allowed.

Garland Rivers, Defensive Back

Always a threat wherever he happened to be on the field. Garland Rivers earned respect from offensive opponents with his fierce tackles. The only freshman to win a letter in 1983, Rivers started 32 consecutive games until a brief shoulder injury sidelined him in his senior season. Rivers intercepted six passes in his career, including one for a touchdown against Wisconsin his junior year. That same season he produced a game-saving interception in the Nebraska end zone to seal Michigan's 27-23 Fiesta Bowl victory. Rivers earned 1986 Kodak and Walter Camp All-American honors as well as AP-UPI All-American Honorable Mention.

John Elliott, Offensive Tackle

One of the largest players ever to play for Michigan, Elliott (6-7, 306), a two time All-American by AP, UPI, and Kodak, played on the strong side of the line for four years. His final game was the 1988 Hall of Fame Bowl when he led the ground assault by opening huge holes for the running backs, including Jamie Morris who rushed for 234 yards and three touchdowns behind that line. From Lake Ronkonkoma, N.Y., Elliott was called "Jumbo" by his teammates. He was a first round draft pick of the New York Giants.

John Elliott

Jim Harbaugh, Quarterback

In a football program renowned for its rich history of great quarterbacks, Jim Harbaugh stands out as one of the finest. Completely rewriting the Michigan passing record books, Harbaugh's skill and poise led the Wolverines to a Big Ten title in 1985, and a Fiesta Bowl victory in 1986. The nation's most efficient passer in 1985, Harbaugh went on to set several school records, including a single season mark of 2,729 yards. Honors that followed included Michigan's Most Valuable Player, Big Ten Player-of-the-Year, third in Heisman voting, as well as finishing second in the nation in passing efficiency. Became the first quarterback in Wolverine history to throw for over 300 yards in a single game. Harbaugh earned first team All-American honor from the Football News in addition to being named to the Big Ten All-Academic Team. He was also named second team All-American by AP and UPI.

1987,88

Mark Messner, Defensive Tackle

A quick, smart defensive lineman, Messner became Michigan's all-time leader in tackles for loss (70) and yards lost (376). The explosive down lineman from Hartland, MI, was the Wolverines' sack leader in 1985, '86 and '87. The two-time All-American selection started all 49 games of his career after redshirting in 1984. He was the MVP of the Fiesta Bowl by registering nine tackles, forcing a fumble and later recovering another in the Wolverines' 27-23 win over Nebraska. He was later drafted by the Los Angeles Rams.

John Vitale, Center

An outstanding, versatile offensive lineman known for his very quick feet. Vitale was a four-year starter for the Wolverines. The Detroit native was a two-time first team All-Big Ten selection and was an All-American pick in 1988. A consummate team player, Vitale made the switch from guard to center in the fall of 1986, in an effort to strengthen the line. His senior year was capped with a 22-14 win in the 1989 Rose Bowl over Southern Cal.

Germany Schulz
Albert Benbrook
Stanfield Wells
James Craig
Miller Pontius
Ernest Allmendinger
John Maulbetsch
Cedric Smith
Frank Culver
Frank Steketee
Henry Vick

Tripp Welborne, Safety

Hard-hitting defensive back who also handled punt returns for the Wolverines. The Greensboro, NC., native was a two-time consensus All-American selection. Welborne recorded 238 tackles in his three years in the defensive secondary and returned 67 punts for 773 yards. During his senior year (1990), Welborne set a single-season record for punt return yardage with 455. Welborne moved from wide receiver to defensive back after his freshman year and intercepted nine passes during his career. Played on three Big Ten championship teams. He was drafted by the Minnesota Vikings.

Dean Dingman, Offensive Guard

Strong and intimidating in the middle of the offensive line, Dingman from East Troy, Wis., was a two-time All-Big Ten selection who helped lead the Wolverines to a 10-2 record as a senior. Started 37 games of the 48 games the Wolverines played during his career and played both guard spots. The 1991 Gator Bowl MVP along with the entire offensive line, Dingman helped the Michigan offense on a record-setting 715 yards in total offense and a 35-3 victory over Mississippi. Played on three Big Ten championship teams. He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steeler.

Erick Anderson, Linebacker

Hard-nosed linebacker who will be remembered for his consistent tackling ability, Anderson became the first player to lead the team in tackles for four years. Michigan's first Butkus Award winner, Anderson registered 428 career tackles which placed him second on Michigan's all-time career tackles list. UPI and Football News tabbed the defensive team captain with All-American honors in 1991 and was also selected AP Big Ten Co-Defensive Player-of-the-Year. Participated in both the Japan Bowl and the East/West Shrine Game. Drafted by the Kansas City Chiefs.

Desmond Howard, Wide Receiver

Winner of the 1991 Heisman trophy, Howard's acrobatic catches made him one of the most electrifying players ever to play the game. At 5-9, 176 pounds, Howard became the first receiver in Big Ten history to lead the conference in scoring (90) as he set or tied five NCAA records and 12 single-season Michigan records. Voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates, the All-American set standards for most points scored (138), most touchdowns (23), and most consecutive games with a scoring catch (19). Won the Heisman by the second largest margin of victory in trophy's history; His 640 first place votes (85 percent) were the most ever for a Heisman winner. Recognized as Player-of-the-Year by receiving the Walter Camp Trophy and the Maxwell Award. The Big Ten Athlete-of-the-Year also captured UPI and AP Offensive Player-of-the-Year honors as well as being named the Dunlop Pro-Am Athlete-of-the-Year. Howard was a first round pick of the Washington Redskins.

Matt Elliott, Offensive Guard

Versatile offensive lineman who played all three interior line positions, starting in 35 of 48 games as a Wolverine. The Carmel, Ind., native garnered All-American honors his senior year and was named a UPI and AP All-Big Ten selection as well. Gator Bowl Co-MVP who helped lead Michigan to a single game bowl record of 715 yards total offense. Participated in post-season Senior Bowl. Drafted by the Washington Redskins.

Greg Skrepenak, Offensive Tackle

The largest player ever to wear the Maize and Blue, Skrepenak (6-6, 322), was a two time All-American selection and a four-year starter for the Wolverines. Set offensive line record with 48 consecutive starts. Hailing from Wilkes Barre, Pa., the offensive team captain was a finalist for both the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award. Gator Bowl Co-MVP. Skrepenak capped off brilliant career at Michigan by being named Big Ten Offensive Lineman-of-the-Year. Participated in post-season Senior Bowl. He was a second round draft pick by the Los Angeles Raiders.

Joe Cocozzo, Offensive Guard

Smart, strong, accountable offensive lineman, feared for his intimidating style of play. Earned All-Big Ten and All-America honors while leading the Wolverines to a 9-0-3 record as a senior. The Mechanicville, NY native started 32 of his last 33 games at Michigan and he played on five Big Ten Championship teams. Cocozzo participated in the Senior Bowl and he was a third round draft pick of the San Diego Chargers in 1993.

Chris Hutchinson, Defensive Tackle

Epitomized the definition of a peak performer. He achieved at a consistently high level on and off the field. Hutchinson started 38 of a possible 48 games for the Wolverines during his career. He was Big Ten Defensive Lineman of the Year in 1992, a three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection and an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winner. Set the single season record for sack yardage (99) while equalling the season sack record (11). The Houston, TX native finished second on the career sack list with 24 sacks for 188 yards. Enrolled in Michigan's Medical School upon graduation.

Derrick Alexander, Wide Receiver

One of the most prolific receivers in Michigan history. The 6-3, 190-pound Detroit native became the eighth Wolverine to amass over 1,500 career receiving yards and is one of only six Michigan players to catch over 100 passes. Alexander also ranks as one of five Wolverines to have over 1,000 career return yards. He is one of just two players in school history with four punt returns for touchdowns and was the first Wolverine to return punts for TDs in consecutive games. Alexander is one of 11 Michigan players and one of only three Wolverine receivers (along with Anthony Carter and Desmond Howard) to amass 3,000 career all-purpose yards. The two-time first-team All-Big Ten honoree had one of the best single game performances for an 'M' receiver in 1993 against Illinois. He caught seven passes for 188 yards (second highest yardage total in school history) and two touchdowns, including a 90-yarder, the longest reception in Michigan's storied football history. Alexander was picked in the first round of the 1994 NFL draft by the Cleveland Browns.

The Heisman Trophy

The John W. Heisman Trophy has been given to college football's outstanding player each season since 1935 by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York. The trophy, first known as the D.A.C. trophy was renamed in 1936 for Heisman, the first athletic director for the Downtown Athletic Club. Heisman played football at Penn and at Brown and later coached for 36 seasons, serving at nine different schools.

Two Michigan players (Tom Harmon-1940, and Desmond Howard-1991) have won the award and Wolverines have placed in the top ten in the Heisman voting in 19 of the 60 years the trophy has been presented. Two Wolverines (Harmon-1939, and Bob Chappuis-1947) have finished second in the voting, three Wolverines (Rob Lytle-1976, Rick Leach-1978, and Jim Harbaugh-1986) have finished third, and two others (Bob Timberlake-1964, and Anthony Carter-1982) have placed fourth. Carter placed among the top ten in his sophomore, junior and senior seasons, while Harmon, Ron Kramer (1955, '56) and Rick Leach (1977, '78) placed in the top ten twice during their Michigan careers.

Remy Hamilton Placekicker

The first placekicker in Michigan history to earn All-American status, Remy Hamilton was named as a Walter Camp first team All-American and the Associated Press along with the Football News tabbed him a second team All-American selection. A native of Boca Raton, FL, Hamilton emerged in 1994 and shattered several Michigan single-season kicking records. He broke single-season records for field goals made (25) and for field goals attempted (30). Hamilton also set Michigan's single season kick point record in 1994 with 101. He was a finalist for the Lou Groza Award, Hamilton led the Wolverines in scoring with 101 points and placed sixth on the all-time Michigan single-season scoring list. Hamilton became the first player in Michigan history to have three four-field goal performances in a single season (Notre Dame, Michigan State and Illinois). Highlighting the 1994 season was his season-long 42-yard field goal to beat Notre Dame, 26-24.

Ty Law Cornerback

A top-notch athlete. A 6-0, 201-pound Aliquippa, PA native, Ty Law became the first 'M' defensive back since Tripp Welborne to earn All-American honors. Law was chosen as a Walter Camp first team All-American and was selected by the Football News as a first team All-American. A three-year regular, Law made 31 starts in his career, including 27 consecutive regular season starts. Law had 19 career pass break-ups ranking him third on the Michigan all-time pass break-up list. Law also amassed 164 tackles and eight interceptions while wearing No. 22 for the Wolverines. A unanimous All-Big Ten selection by both coaches and media in 1993 and 1994, Law tied a career-game-best with 10 tackles against Boston College in the 1994 season opener (10 tackles against Ohio State in 1992). Law was a first round draft pick of the New England Patriots (23rd player selected) in the 1995 National Football League draft.

Michigan's All-Big Ten Team Selections

The University of Michigan's proud football tradition has produced more first-team All-Big Ten selections than any other. Over 215 Wolverine players have been named first-team all-conference since 1906 and 166 players have been picked as first-team All-Big Ten by either the coaches or media panel since 1947.

M MICHIGAN HONOR ROLL

BENNIE OOSTERBAAN

One of the greatest athletes ever to wear a Michigan uniform, Benjamin Gaylord "Bennie" Oosterbaan, showed his dedication to the Maize and Blue in many ways during his 30-plus years with the University.

Oosterbaan, one of only two three-time football All-Americans at Michigan (Anthony Carter was the other), was a three-sport letterman and earned a total of nine varsity letters. On the gridiron, he led the Big Ten in touchdowns with eight in 1925. The Michigan end became team captain in 1927, the same year he was honored with the 'M' MVP award.

An outstanding basketball player as well, Oosterbaan led the conference in scoring in 1928 when he was named All-American. And when the '28 basketball season came to a close, it was time for Oosterbaan to join the baseball team, where he led the Big Ten in hitting.

A true student athlete, he was awarded the Western Conference Medal of Honor for proficiency in scholarship and athletics as a senior. But when it came time to leave Michigan for other pursuits, Oosterbaan refused. Turning down several professional baseball and football offers, he remained as an assistant coach to Harry Kipke and Fritz Crisler for the next 20 years.

When he took over as head coach in 1948, Oosterbaan led the Wolverines to the National Championship in his first season. During his 11 years at the helm, Michigan earned three Big Ten titles and the 1951 Rose Bowl Championship.

The Muskegon native was later honored when his "#47" was retired by the University of Michigan.

From three-sport athlete to football head coach, Bennie Oosterbaan's contributions will forever be remembered by all Michigan fans.

MICHIGAN FOOTBALL AWARDS

Each year, nine special awards are given to players on the Michigan football team. The awards are the Louis B. Hyde Memorial Award, the John F. Maulbetsch Award, the Meyer Morton Award, the Frederick C. Matthaei Scholarship Award, the Dick Katcher Award, the Dr. Arthur D. Robinson Scholarship Award, the Hugh H. Rader, Jr. Memorial Award, and the Robert P. Ufer Bequest.

LOUIS B. HYDE MEMORIAL AWARD

Eagerly awaited at the end of each season is the team election of its "Most Valuable Player."

The award was established to perpetuate the fond memory of dedicated alumnus, Lou Hyde, who was a past President of "The Club," a Director of the Alumni Association and repeatedly chaired the vital Transportation Committee.

Lou received the rare distinction of being named an honorary "M" Club member. He was serving the U of M at the time of his death in 1960 as a member of the Board in Control of Intercollegiate Athletics.

MAULBETSCH AWARD

The John F. Maulbetsch Award is given to the freshman football candidate after spring practice on the basis of desire, character, capacity for leadership and future success both on and off the gridiron. It was established by Frederick C. Matthaei in 1954 in honor of the late John F. Maulbetsch, All-America half-back on the 1914 team.

MEYER MORTON AWARD

The Meyer Morton Award, established by the 'M' Club of Chicago in 1925, is given to the football player who shows the greatest development and most promise as a result of the annual spring practice. Morton, a 1912 Michigan graduate, was a lawyer in Chicago from 1915-48 and served as a Big Ten football official for 23 years. In fact, Morton was the referee in the famous 0-0 tie between Notre Dame and Army played at Yankee Stadium in 1946. A member of the Chicago 'M' Club, Morton traveled to Ann Arbor to present the award for many years, and the award was named in his honor after his death in 1948.

MATTHAEI AWARD

The Frederick C. Matthaei Award is given to the junior-to-be gridder who has displayed leadership, drive, and achievement on the athletic field and in the classroom. The award was established by Frederick C. Matthaei in 1968.

DICK KATCHER AWARD

The Dick Katcher Award is given to the outstanding defensive lineman or outside linebacker at the conclusion of each football season. The award was established by Dick Katcher in 1982.

ROGER ZATKOFF AWARD

The Roger Zatkoff Award was established in 1991 to be given to the outstanding linebacker at the conclusion of each football season. The award is named for Zatkoff, a three-year Michigan football letterwinner from the early 1950's.

DR. ARTHUR D. ROBINSON SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

The death of Dr. Arthur D. Robinson in 1966 stirred his many friends to contribute to a fund which annually rewards the leading senior-scholar on the University of Michigan football team.

Dr. Robinson served the U of M Club of Greater Detroit and his beloved University in just about every capacity imaginable. He was especially interested in "The Club's" scholarship program.

Between 1947 and 1966, the leading athlete-scholar on the Michigan team was given the George Cornell "Bubbles" Patterson Award.

HUGH H. RADER, JR. MEMORIAL AWARD

The award was established in 1982 to perpetuate the fond memory of dedicated alumnus Hugh Rader. It is awarded to the "Best Lineman" as selected each year by his coaches.

Hugh was a past president of "The Club," a past member of the Board in Control of Intercollegiate Athletics, a past Director of the Alumni Association, a Trustee of the Scholarship Fund, and member of the vital Transportation Committee. He was honored in 1979 when he was selected as one of Michigan's "Greatest Fans" by the Football Centennial Committee. His consecutive home and away streak of 350 ended in 1980 when he missed the OSU game in Columbus. Hugh also received the rare distinction of being named an Honorary 'M' Club member.

ROBERT P. UFER BEQUEST

This award is presented on behalf of Bob Ufer, the Voice of "Meechigan" football for 37 years. In a career that spanned five decades, Bob broadcast 362 straight games, which translates into 37% of all the games ever played by Michigan Stadium.

During his college career, Bob set eight Michigan track records, including a world record quarter-mile. Bob was also famous for his annual OSU-Michigan pep rallies at the Mud Bowl and was the keynote speaker for President Ford's presidential kickoff rally in 1976.

In fond memory of Bob, this scholarship is awarded to the senior football player who demonstrates the most enthusiasm and love for the University of Michigan.

M MICHIGAN AND THE BOWLS

1902 ROSE BOWL
Pasadena, California

January 1, 1902

MICHIGAN vs. STANFORD
Attendance: 8,000

A polo match as the sporting highlight of the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena had been satisfactory, but something more dramatic was needed in 1902. "Why not a football game?" offered one member of the committee, and immediately Tournament President James Wagner started a series of correspondence with the "best team in the West"—Fielding H. Yost's Michigan team.

Michigan was invited to play on January 1, 1902, against Stanford, champion of the "Pacific Coast Universities." The Wolverines left Ann Arbor on December 17 with temperatures below freezing and six inches of snow on the ground. Eight days later, Michigan arrived in Los Angeles and was greeted by 80-plus degrees and newspaper reports listing several reasons why Stanford should win.

New Year's morning found the Michigan team, outfitted in new uniforms, waving colorful Michigan banners, and riding a large carriage in the Rose Parade. Thousands jammed the parade route, and following the parade Pasadena experienced its largest traffic snarl ever as fans headed for the football grounds.

The city was a riot of color—mostly blue and gold, for by a strange coincidence, blue and gold were adopted as the year's official colors of the Tournament. Thus, blue and gold pennants were everywhere. The color combination so closely resembled Michigan's colors that some of the Stanford faithful, a bit miffed by what they thought was a show of support for their opponents, began to tear down the banners and streamers.

The crowd of 8,000 stormed Tournament Park, and the first 2,500 who arrived ran for the highest priced reserved seats. The rest, even those holding tickets to the reserved section, were forced to stand on the dusty sidelines throughout the contest.

The game opened with a blistering sun moving the temperatures into the mid-80's. The teams lined up at 2:57 p.m., and with Michigan defending the south goal, the Wolverines' Everett Sweeley kicked off to open the first bowl game.

Stanford appeared every bit as capable as the papers reported, turning back the powerful Michigan offense, time and again, early in the contest. In fact, the game's first score did not come until 23 minutes into the first half. After a series of short gains moved the ball to the Stanford 30, halfback Willie Heston broke loose on a naked bootleg and picked up 21 yards on the first "big" play in Rose Bowl history. Three plays later, fullback Neil Snow bullled through the tiring Stanford line from the six. Bruce Shorts added the PAT to give Michigan a 6-0 lead.

Soon after Sweeley booted a 20-yard field goal, Michigan's Chris Redden returned a weak Stanford punt 25 yards for a TD, giving the Wolverines a 17-0 halftime lead.

Under the sheer power of the Michigan eleven, Stanford's valiant defense began to crumble in the second half. The Wolverines proved relentless, scoring on nearly every possession.

With eight minutes remaining in the game,

1901 Michigan Football Team

Stanford captain Ralph Fisher approached the Wolverine bench and offered to concede; Michigan consented.

The 49-0 victory capped one of the most unbelievable seasons in college football history, Michigan had outscored its opponents, 550-0, winning 11 straight games. Willie Heston, too, made believers out of his West Coast critics. He gained 170 yards in 18 carries as the Wolverines recorded 527 yards on the ground.

The tournament association, though realizing a profit of 3,161.86, thought the wide difference in the score would make an annual game unappealing to spectators. The following year they replaced the football game with a chariot race, and it would be 16 years before the Rose Bowl would again feature a post-parade football game.

A Different Game

The brand of football played in the early 1900's differed greatly from that played today. At the first Rose Bowl, keep in mind that...

- the playing field was 110 yards long.
- touchdowns counted five points, field goals five, and conversions one.
- the game was not divided into quarters, but into two, 30-minute halves.
- a team had to make five yards in three downs.
- forward passes were not allowed.
- substitutions were used infrequently, as 11 men usually played the entire game.

MICHIGAN vs. SOUTHERN CAL
Attendance: 87,516

In 1947 the Wolverines rolled up nine consecutive victories, four of them shutouts, and won their first outright Big Ten title since the National Championship season of 1933.

Following Michigan's 21-0 blanking of Ohio State, quarterback Bob Chappuis and halfback Bump Elliott were named first team All-Americans, and Fritz Crisler was voted Coach of the Year. The Wolverines led the nation in total offense (412.7 yards/game) and best passing average (173.9 yards/game) that season. Chappuis was the Big Ten leader in total offense for the second year running and finished second to Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack in the Heisman Trophy balloting. Elliott, the squad's only two-way player, led the conference in scoring and was named both Michigan and Big Ten Most Valuable Player.

When the Wolverines arrived in Pasadena, they were 15 point favorites and Crisler felt it was necessary to call a team meeting to stifle the over-confidence that was running rampant among the squad. In the end, Crisler's worries were proven unwarranted. Ten minutes into the game, on Michigan's second possession, Jack Weisenburger spun across the line from the one to cap an 11 play, 64 yard drive and initiate the day's scoring. In the second quarter, Weisenburger gained another one-yard touchdown, and Chappuis jump-passed to Elliott from the 11 to give the Maize and Blue a 21-0 half-time lead.

In the second half, Weisenburger collected his third touchdown of the game and the Wolverines saw three TD passes from three different passers, including tosses of 18 yards from Chappuis, 45 yards from Hank Fonde, and 29 yards from Howard Yerges as Michigan rolled to a 49-0 victory. The score, identical to the one over Stanford in the first Rose Bowl, stood as Southern Cal's largest margin of defeat until 1966. In the game, Michigan shattered nine Rose Bowl records and accumulated 491 yards of offense while holding the Trojans to only 133. Jim Brieske's record of seven PATs still remains unbroken.

In a special Associated Press poll following the game, Michigan replaced Notre Dame as the 1947 National Champion by a 226 to 119 margin.

In 1950, the Wolverines struggled through the regular season, but won the final game at Ohio State to earn the right to travel to Pasadena. Michigan's 5-3-1 squad was slated to face the California Golden Bears, a 9-0-1 club rated fourth in the nation and making its third consecutive Rose Bowl appearance. The Bears were favored to win, and many of the 98,393 fans who filled the stadium had hopes of watching the Pacific Conference end its four-game losing streak.

On the second play of the game, California's Pete Schabarum ran around left end 73 yards into the end zone, only to see it nullified on an illegal motion penalty. The Bears pounded on the Wolverines defense until early in the second quarter when QB Jim Marinos threw a 39-yard scoring strike to Bob Cummings. Les Richter missed the extra point, and California led 6-0. Late in the half, the Bears had moved to the Michigan 11-yard line and appeared ready to bring one more score into the locker room, but the Wolverines had other plans, stopping Schabarum three yards short of the goal on fourth down.

At halftime, California held a 192-65 advantage in offensive yardage and a 10-2 edge in first downs, but the Wolverines instigated a new defensive formation during the intermission. Head coach Benny Oosterbaan told his troops that "victory is still ours," renewing the team's faith in Michigan tradition and spirit, and the Wolverines returned to the field primed for victory.

Michigan was held scoreless until the fourth quarter when team MVP Don Dufek ran four identical plays from the four-yard line, finally scoring on fourth-and-one. The Wolverines extended their lead later in the quarter as Dufek again scored, this time from seven yards out. Michigan completely reversed Cal's first half domination by out-distancing the Bears 15-2 in first downs and 226-52 in total yardage during the half as the Wolverines won their third Rose Bowl in as many tries, 14-6.

1965 ROSE BOWL

Pasadena, California

MICHIGAN	0	12	15	7	— 34
OSU	0	7	0	0	— 7

After finishing no higher than fifth in the Big Ten during the previous seven years, all the pieces finally fell into place for the 1964 Wolverines. Air Force and Navy were forced to the air in the first two games, throwing a combined total of 75 passes. Michigan then ran off six victories in seven Big Ten games, dropping a one-point contest to Purdue, and shutting out Northwestern and Ohio State. The Wolverines' 8-1 record earned them the conference championship, and the team headed to Pasadena, breaking a drought of 14 years.

After USC upset top-ranked Notre Dame in the regular-season finale, it appeared that the Trojans would be Michigan's New Year's Day opponent. However, the Pac Eight Conference instead ruled in favor of the Oregon State Beavers, who had tied Southern Cal for the conference lead. The fourth-ranked Wolverines were installed as 11-point favorites over the eighth ranked Beavers as Oregon State brought an 8-2 mark into the game.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Beavers broke open the scoring with a five-yard pass from Paul Brothers to Doug McDougall early in the second period. Steve Clark kicked the extra point, and Oregon State had a 7-0 start on their upset bid. Three possessions later, Wolverine tailback Mel Anthony broke free virtually untouched for 84 yards and the score. On the Wolverines' next possession, Carl Ward rambled 43 yards around right end to put Michigan in the lead for good. Bob Timberlake's pass to Ben Farabee was broken up in the end zone, but the Wolverines still held a 12-7 advantage going into the locker room.

Anthony paced the Michigan third quarter attack after recovering a blocked Beaver punt, and extending the Wolverine lead with one- and seven-yard scores. Timberlake added a 24-yard TD run down the sideline in the fourth quarter, to close the scoring and give Michigan a 34-7 triumph.

Anthony earned Player-of-the-Game kudos for his efforts that day, and the Wolverines raised their post-season record to four victories against no losses.

1970 ROSE BOWL

Pasadena, California

MICHIGAN	0	3	0	0	— 3
USC	3	0	7	0	— 10

In Bo Schembechler's debut at Michigan Stadium, the Wolverines outrushed Vanderbilt 367-55 en route to a 42-14 triumph, and a new era in Michigan football had begun. Heading into the season's final game, the 7-2 Wolverines were slated to meet the top-ranked and undefeated Ohio State Buckeyes. Michigan responded by pounding out 266 yards on the ground and 108 through the air while intercepting six Buckeye passes before the largest crowd ever to see a college football game up to that date. It also snapped OSU's 22-game win ning streak, 24-12, and earned the Big Ten's Rose Bowl berth.

Facing the Wolverines in Pasadena was the University of Southern California. The Trojans compiled a 9-0-1 record and were ranked fourth in the polls. USC, coached by John McKay, was led by Pac Eight rushing leader Clarence Davis. The 1970 game marked the fourth consecutive Rose Bowl appearance for the Trojans.

Fate was not with the Wolverines from the beginning of their California trip. While running in practice out on the coast, Glenn Doughty, Michigan's second-leading rusher, injured his knee and was forced to undergo surgery. Then, the night before the game, Schembechler suffered a heart attack which kept him off the sideline and in the hospital during the contest. Defensive coordinator Jim Young assumed the coaching responsibilities for the game, but the players were unable to shake off their discouragement by kickoff time.

Southern Cal opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 25-yard field goal by Ron Ayala. Michigan added a field goal of its own two possessions later as Tim Killian nailed one from 20 yards out, and the teams had a 3-3 deadlock at halftime.

On third down with six yards to go late in the third quarter, Trojan quarterback Jimmy Jones hit Bob Chandler 13-yards downfield. Chandler broke several Wolverine tackles, scampered another 20 yards, and gave USC its margin of victory. Michigan saw fourth quarter drives stall at the Trojan 13, nine, and finally the 38 as time ran out, and returned to Ann Arbor with its first post-season defeat ever.

By 1971, Bo had the foundation in place for a Big Ten dynasty. After stopping the Buckeyes, 10-7, in the regular season finale Michigan had completed its first undefeated and untied season since 1948 and prepared to meet Stanford in Pasadena.

Stanford entered the contest with an impressive 8-3 record despite the loss of Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunket to graduation the previous spring. John Ralston's Indians thrived on the talents of quarterback Don Bunce, and running back Jackie Brown.

Dana Coin made a 30-yard field goal in the second quarter to produce the only points scored by either team in the first half. When the gun sounded after 30 minutes, Michigan held a 3-0 edge as they left the soggy Rose Bowl turf for the locker room.

Stanford egressed from the locker room to start the third period and held the Wolverines inches short of the game's first touchdown with a dramatic goal line stand. The Indians gained control of the ball and marched down the field where soccer-style kicker Rod Garcia added a field goal of his own, this one from 42 yards away. Early in the fourth quarter, Michigan fullback Fritz Seyferth plunged across from the one-yard line, and the Wolverines regained the lead, 10-3.

Facing fourth down on their own 33-yard line, Stanford used a fake punt to spring Brown for a 31-yard gain. Several plays later, Brown again broke free, this time for 24 yards and the score that tied the contest at ten apiece. Minutes later, when Coin's 42-yard field goal attempt fell short, Indian Jim Ferguson caught and intended to return the ball, but Ed Shuttlesworth dropped him in the end zone to give Michigan two points on the safety and a 12-10 advantage. Following a Michigan punt the Indians took over on their 22-yard line, and Bunce proceeded to complete five of his next six passes to move his squad down the field. With 16 seconds remaining in the game, Ralston sent in Garcia for one final play. The kick sailed 31 yards straight over the crossbar, and Stanford claimed a narrow victory, 13-12.

Under pressure from the conference coaches, led by Michigan's Bo Schembechler, the Big Ten finally lifted their long-standing policy of limiting post-season games to only the Rose Bowl. As a consequence, once the Wolverines lost their only regular-season game to top-ranked Ohio State, Michigan accepted an invitation to meet the Oklahoma Sooners in Miami's Orange Bowl.

The fourth-ranked Wolverines left for Miami armed with Gordie Bell, who led the nation's second-leading rushing team with 121.4 yards per game, and under the guidance of freshman field general Rick Leach. Oklahoma came in as defending Associated Press National Champions despite making their first post-season appearance since 1972, due to two years of NCAA and Big Eight probation. The Sooner's 10-1 record placed them second in both wire-service polls, and they marked Michigan's first experience against a wishbone offense since meeting UCLA three years earlier.

The first quarter was a defensive battle, with the Wolverines putting together the only substantial drive, starting at the Michigan 5-yard line and stalling at the Oklahoma 38. Following Bob Wood's attempted 51-yard field goal, the Sooners opened the scoring with a successive 40-yard pass from Steve Davis to Tinker Owens and a 39-yard reverse by Billy Brooks for the score.

The Wolverines drove as far as the Oklahoma nine-yard line in the third quarter, before being thwarted by a pass interception in the end zone. On the first play of the fourth quarter, Davis ran 10 yards around the left end to increase the Sooner lead to 14-0. Michigan finally got on the scoreboard following an Oklahoma fumble on their own two. Bell carried it over on the next play, but Leach's two-point conversion attempt was stopped. The Wolverines were only able to make it as far as mid-field for the duration of the game, and the Sooners went on to a 14-6 victory.

Oklahoma was led by the defensive efforts of Leroy and Dewey Selmon (10 and 13 tackles, respectively) and, following Ohio State's 23-10 loss in the Rose Bowl to UCLA, was named National Champion in both polls. Leroy Selmon went on to become the first draft choice in the NFL college draft later that spring.

By defeating Ohio State, 22-0, in the regular season finale, Michigan posted its largest margin of victory in the series in 30 years and handed the Buckeyes their first shutout in 112 games, a streak that began in 1964. The Wolverines tied OSU for first place in the Big Ten with a 10-1 record, and earned their first Rose Bowl berth since 1971. At season's end, Michigan led the nation in total offense (448.1 yards per game), scoring offense (38.7 points), and scoring defense (7.2 points).

January 1, 1977

In Pasadena, the third-ranked Wolverines were slated to face the No. 2 Southern California, a team with equally impressive credentials. The Trojans stocked with players such as quarterback Vince Evans, running backs Ricky Bell and Charles White, linebacker Clay Matthews, and coached by John Robinson, the Trojans promised to provide Michigan with quite a challenge on New Year's Day.

It took until midway through the second quarter for either team to put points on the scoreboard. The Wolverines scored first when Rob Lytle smashed over the goal line from one yard out. Bob Wood's extra point attempt was blocked, and Southern Cal used the momentum to march 80 yards on the following drive, tying the score with Evans rolling in on a fourth-and-one play with 1:28 left in the quarter. The conversion was good, and USC held a 7-6 advantage at the half.

The game was returned to the defenses in the second half. The Wolverines tallied just four first downs, and the Trojans used a relentless ground game to grind their way deep into Michigan territory in the fourth quarter. White scored on a seven-yard run with three minutes to go, but the Wolverines made it close by charging back to the USC 17 before running out on downs in the closing seconds.

Bell, the top pick in the 1977 NFL draft, left the game early in the first quarter with a head injury and was replaced by the freshman White, who went on to win the Heisman Trophy three seasons later. The game also marked Lytle's last in a Wolverine uniform as he led all Michigan rushers with 67 yards to up his then school record to 3,317 yards.

margin heading into the Rose Bowl to face the University of Washington Huskies.

Michigan failed to get out of the gate quick enough and even a 20-point second half could not rescue the Wolverines. A low center snap resulted in a 13-yard loss on a fourth down punt and gave Washington field position early. Ten plays later, quarterback Warren Moon scored from the two yards out. A field goal and Moon's second TD put the Huskies up 17-0 at halftime.

Moon's 28-yard scoring pass to Spider Gaines after Washington had stopped Michigan on the Husky three-yard line appeared to put the game away in the third quarter, but Wolverine quarterback Rick Leach launched one of the finest aerial assaults in the history of this classic contest. First, he fired a Rose Bowl record TD pass of 76-yard TD pass to Curt Stephenson. Washington countered with a 18-yard field goal, but Leach completed four straight passes, and Russell Davis scored from the two. Later in the fourth quarter, Leach fired first down passes of 11 and 12 yards to Ralph Clayton, then connected with Stanley Edwards, filling in for the injured Harlan Huckleby, for 32 yards and a TD.

Leach led another dramatic drive to the Washington eight-yard line, but a diving interception by linebacker Michael Jackson stopped Michigan and preserved the 27-20 Washington win.

After shutting out the Fighting Illini of Illinois in the season opener, the Wolverines won nine of their next ten games, including their third straight victory over Ohio State, and qualified for their third Rose Bowl in as many years.

Michigan played one of its finest defensive games in years, but a combination of circumstances and a relentless Southern California ground attack lifted the Trojans to a 17-10 victory in the 65th annual Rose Bowl Classic in Pasadena. An intercepted pass returned to the Wolverine 16-yard line set up USC's first touchdown of the game, a Paul McDonald to Hoby Brenner pass covering nine yards.

Michigan later drove to the Trojan 21-yard line, but a dropped pass stalled the Wolverines' progress, and allowed Gregg Willner to put the first "Big Blue" points on the board with a 36-yard field goal in the second quarter. USC extended its lead moments later on one of the more controversial calls in Rose Bowl history. On second down at the Michigan three-yard line, Trojan tailback Charles White dove through the heart of the offensive line in an attempt to score. During the ensuing contact, White lost the ball and Wolverine linebacker Jerry Meter came up with an apparent fumble recovery on the one-yard line. However, the line judge determined that White had crossed the goal line before losing control of the ball and signalled for the touchdown that put USC up by 11. Late in the half, the Trojans intercepted a Rick Leach pass and set up a Frank Jordan field goal from 35 yards away to increase their lead to 17-3 at halftime.

It didn't take long after leaving the locker room for the Wolverines to narrow the score. Midway through the third period, Leach tossed a 44-yard scoring strike to tailback Roosevelt Smith to close within seven points. Michigan held the strong USC offense scoreless for the remainder of the game, but was unable to put more points on the board as the score stayed unchanged for the duration. Playing in his third straight Rose Bowl, Leach set career records for total plays (94), total yards running and passing (523), and most yards passing (452) in the New Year's game. Leach shared Most Valuable Player honors with USC's White.

"Bo Schembechler is looking up into football's valhalla and saying, 'Thank you, Fielding Yost, thank you, Fielding Yost for that one'.... They aren't even going to try the extra point. Who cares! Who gives a damn! I've never been so happy in all my cotton-pickin' 59 years." So said the Wolverines' all-time no. 1 cheerleader, Bob Ufer, describing the mayhem following "the greatest play in 100 years of Michigan football." Anthony Carter's dramatic, game-winning reception against Indiana was easily the season highlight of the 8-3 Wolverines as they headed to the Gator Bowl to oppose North Carolina's 7-3-1 Tar Heels.

Quarterback John Wangler opened the game with a 47-yard pass completion to Carter, but 20 yards in penalties took Michigan out of field goal range, giving the Wolverines a preview of events to come. Bryan Virgil booted a 20-yard field goal early in the second quarter and Wangler, hitting receivers at will, threw 53 yards to Carter for a 9-0 lead after Michigan missed the extra point. On the next series, Wangler was tackled by UNC linebacker Lawrence Taylor on a sprint out, suffering a severe knee injury, and effectively ending his playing time that night. Up to that point, he had already accumulated 203 yards through the air. North Carolina finally scored on a one-yard plunge by Doug Paschal late in the quarter, and trailed 9-7 at the half.

Midway through the third quarter, the Tarheels took control of the game, driving 97 yards in 15 plays behind the running of Amos Lawrence, and scoring on a 12-yard pass from Matt Kupec to Phil Farris. North Carolina added a field goal with 7:31 remaining in the game to move ahead 17-9. However, the Wolverines never gave up, and with 1:28 to go, backup quarterback B.J. Dickey, Wangler's replacement, connected with A.C. on a 30-yard bomb to bring the game to within two. In an attempt to tie, Dickey's pass to Carter in the end-zone failed, and Michigan fell short. Hindering the Wolverines throughout the game were two lost fumbles, two pass interceptions, the loss of Wangler, and 87 yards in penalties.

1981 ROSE BOWL

Pasadena, California

MICHIGAN	0	7	10	6	— 23
WASHINGTON	0	6	0	0	— 6

The Wolverines may have started slowly in 1980, but by October, nobody was able to stop them. Beginning with the Illinois game on October 25, Michigan put together a streak of 15 consecutive scoreless quarters, shutout Indiana, Wisconsin, and Purdue, won the Big Ten title outright for the first time since 1971, and took a string of 18 straight quarters without allowing a touchdown into the Rose Bowl to face the Washington Huskies.

The Huskies compiled more total yards against the Michigan defense, 374, than any team had all season, but the Wolverines continued their consecutive no-touchdown string, and Bo Schembechler won his first Rose Bowl in six tries.

Washington dominated the game early, and on its second drive, the Huskies reached the Michigan one-yard line. But the Wolverines then stonewalled tailback Toussiant Tyler on fourth down and took the momentum from Washington. Butch Woolfolk put Michigan in the lead with a six-yard TD burst near the half, and despite Chuck Nelson's two field goals, the Wolverines remained in command the rest of the way.

Ali Haji-Sheikh's 25-yard field goal capped a six-minute, 83-yard drive to open the second half, and John Wangler connected with Anthony Carter for a seven-yard score, widening the Michigan margin to 17-6 with three minutes remaining in the third quarter. From there, the Wolverine defense took over with Kieth Bostic forcing an interception and limiting the Huskies to 23 yards in total offense until the game's final minutes. Michigan clinched the victory on Stan Edwards' one-yard TD dive with four minutes remaining in the game to provide the final margin.

Butch Woolfolk's 182 yards rushing earned him game MVP honors, while Don Bracken's 73-yard punt in the first quarter set a Rose Bowl record. The season which had looked so bleak after a 1-2 beginning thus concluded with nine straight 'M' wins.

1981 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Houston, Texas

MICHIGAN	10	0	3	20	— 33
UCLA	0	0	7	7	— 14

In the game billed as a "mini-Rose Bowl", the 8-3 Wolverines came out smelling sweet on New Year's eve. Michigan's defense limited the powerful UCLA attack to 195 total yards and held the Bruins to just 33 yards on the ground. The Wolverines led the entire game, beginning with Ali Haji-Sheikh's 24-yard field goal, set up by Butch Woolfolk's 52-yard run. With one minute remaining in the first quarter, quarterback Steve Smith spotted Anthony

December 31, 1981

Carter behind the Bruin secondary, for a 50-yard scoring bomb that upped the lead to 10-0. Michigan dominated the rest of the half, yielding only 58 total yards to UCLA. But 12 penalties kept the Maize and Blue off the scoreboard the rest of the half.

The Bruins narrowed the gap to 10-7, scoring on their first possession of the third quarter, but the Wolverines responded immediately, marching 52-yards before Haji Sheikh kicked a 47-yard field goal, the longest of his career. UCLA again drove into Michigan territory, but two penalties and Winfred Carraway's sack of Bruin quarterback Tom Ramsey ended the march, and the Pacific 10 runners-up never again had a chance to take the lead. The Wolverines moved 74 yards to Woolfolk's one-yard TD run. Then after UCLA cut the lead to 19-14, drove 80 yards in seven plays with Smith scoring from nine yards out on the option play to clinch the victory. Reserve quarterback B.J. Dickey's touchdown run in the final minute iced the triumph.

Woolfolk closed his brilliant career at Michigan by gaining 186 yards rushing, bringing his four-year total to 3,861 and earning game MVP honors. Steve Smith's 152 passing yards gave him Michigan's single-season aerial record with 1,661 yards, as well as adding to his total offense mark. Anthony Carter grabbed six receptions for 127 yards, and the Wolverines left Houston looking forward to the new year.

Michigan dominated the Big Ten in 1982, rolling through its conference schedule unscathed and winning the title outright in the second-to-last game against Purdue. Even a loss to Ohio State in the regular season finale could not take the roses from the Wolverines as they prepared to face the UCLA Bruins in Pasadena. The game featured a rematch of the previous season's Bluebonnet Bowl participants, and gave the Maize and Blue an opportunity to avenge the 31-27 loss suffered at the hands of the Bruins earlier in the season. This contest, however, would be played in the Rose Bowl, a stadium UCLA had claimed as its home field for the 1982 regular season.

A one-yard plunge by Ramsey on UCLA's second drive put the Bruins up 7-0 in the first quarter, a lead they never relinquished. In the second quarter, Wolverine quarterback Steve Smith ran an eight-yard option for a first down, but took a vicious hit from Bruin free safety Don Rogers. Smith left the game with a separated shoulder and did not return. Junior Dave Hall, with seven completions in 14 attempts for the season, finished the game in admirable fashion, but his inexperience hurt the Wolverines.

Late in the second quarter, kicker John Lee gave UCLA a 10-0 lead with a 39-yard field goal. However, the Wolverines stormed back after the intermission and drove 55 yards for a touchdown. Hall passed the final yard to fullback Eddie Garrett in the third quarter to bring U of M within three points at 10-7.

On the next drive the Bruins took control with Ramsey leading the way, passing for 33 yards and running for 20 in an 80-yard TD drive. With UCLA up 17-7 and nine minutes left to play, the Wolverines took over deep in their own territory. Here Hall showed his inexperience by lobbing a pass into the hands of Bruin Blanchard Montgomery. The 230-pound linebacker galloped 11 yards into the end zone to seal the Wolverines' fate.

After Hall passed to fullback Dan Rice for a 1-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter, the score read 24-14 in UCLA's favor. Michigan could not muster another scoring drive, and UCLA took home the roses.

1984 SUGAR BOWL New Orleans, Louisiana

January 1, 1984

MICHIGAN	7	0	0	0	—7
AUBURN	0	0	3	6	—9

Buoyed by back-to-back shutouts of Michigan State and Northwestern and a last-second victory over Iowa, the 1983 Wolverines charged to a second-place finish in the Big Ten, suffering its only conference setback to the Illinois squad that went on to play in the Rose Bowl. By holding off a late Ohio State comeback bid in the season finale, the Wolverines raised their record to 9-2 and gained a trip to New Orleans to meet the Auburn Tigers in the Sugar Bowl.

Steve Smith led a powerful offensive attack early in the game during which Michigan held the ball for over nine minutes of the first quarter and gained 116 yards to the Tigers' 61. The Wolverines' second offensive drive in the game was highlighted by a 19-yard Smith to Triando Markray completion and 38 yards on four carries by Rick Rogers. Smith's four-yard keeper midway through the first quarter gave the Wolverines a lead they would keep for 52 minutes of the 60-minute contest.

Each team showed a strong defense for the remainder of the half, and Michigan took its 7-0 lead into the locker room.

Campbell attempted only two passes in the second half and handed off 42 times to backs Lionel James, Bo Jackson, and Tommy Agee, who together collected 306 yards on the ground.

While Michigan's offense was thwarted time and time again, the Tigers ran all over the tiring Wolverine defense, controlling the ball for over 23 minutes of the second half. After a 26-yard Don Bracken punt—one of eight in the game and a season high—Auburn marched 68 yards, all on the ground, to set up a 31-yard Al DelGreco field goal.

The Tigers got a break when Smith was hit as he released the ball and Auburn's Gregg Carr grabbed it at the Michigan 41-yard line. Seven plays later, DelGreco chalked up his second three-pointer, a 32-yarder.

After another Michigan punt, Auburn took over on its own 39-yard line. The Tigers ran a ball control offense, using 15 rushing plays and 7:21 off the clock in reaching the Wolverines' one-yard line with 27 seconds to play in the game. Michigan called a timeout,

MICHIGAN vs. BRIGHAM YOUNG
Attendance: 61,243

MICHIGAN	0	7	7	3	—17
BYU	0	10	0	14	—24

After upsetting top-ranked Miami in the season opener, Michigan's fortunes looked bright for 1984. But when quarterback Jim Harbaugh broke his arm against Michigan State, it took a great effort for the Wolverines to limp to a 6-5 record. Despite their less-than-spectacular season mark, Michigan found itself paired against no. 1 ranked Brigham Young in the Holiday Bowl. The Wolverines accepted the opportunity, and ended the season just how they had started—facing the nation's top-ranked team.

Aided by six Brigham Young turnovers and a blocked field goal attempt, Michigan held a 17-10 lead early in the fourth quarter. But BYU quarterback Robbie Bosco, hampered by an injured left knee and ankle suffered in the first stanza, led the Cougars to 80 and 83-yard TD drives to give BYU a 24-17 victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, BYU jumped on the scoreboard when Kelly Smith capped an 11-play, 80-yard drive with a five-yard TD run. The Wolverines knotted the score at 7-7 after Rick Rogers scampered in from five yards out with 1:13 left in the half. But Bosco led BYU down the field in the last minute, and Lee Johnson booted a 31-yard field goal giving the Cougars a slim 10-7 halftime lead.

Michigan went ahead late in the third quarter, moving 47 yards after Tim Anderson blocked Johnson's field goal attempt and Chris Zurbrugg threw a 10-yard TD pass to Bob Perryman. Early in the fourth quarter, Bob Bergeron pushed the Michigan lead to 17-10 with a 32-yard field goal. Then Bosco went to work, driving BYU for two late TDs—the last coming with just 1:23 to play—and the win.

In collecting its 24th consecutive victory, BYU put together some impressive offensive figures (483 yards in total offense, 32 first downs) and went on to claim the national championship.

MICHIGAN vs. NEBRASKA
Attendance: 72,454

MICHIGAN	3	0	24	0	—27
NEBRASKA	0	14	0	9	—23

In 1986, the surprising 9-1-1 Wolverines—equipped with the nation's top scoring defense—found themselves matched against Nebraska in the Fiesta Bowl.

After a 21-yard run by Jamie Morris set up a 42-yard field goal by Pat Moons to open the scoring, the Cornhuskers got rolling. Nebraska used 10 plays to move 74 yards for the touchdown that gave Nebraska a 7-3 lead early in the second quarter. McCathorn Clayton hit Doug DuBose in the endzone from five yards out for the score. The Cornhuskers added another tally when a 15-yard run by fullback Tom Rathman set up DuBose's second touchdown of the game, giving Nebraska a 14-3 halftime lead.

In the second half, an inspired Wolverine defense began forcing turn overs to help U-M climb back into contention. On their third play from scrimmage, Nebraska's DuBose fumbled, and Michigan's Jeff Akers recovered. A 19-yard run by Jamie Morris set up Gerald White's one-yard dive for a TD, pulling the Wolverines to within 14-10 early in the third quarter. Another fumble by Nebraska, this one by Clayton, was recovered by Michigan's Mark Messner on the next series, and White's 19-yard run set up a one-yard plunge by Harbaugh to give the Maize and Blue the lead at 17-14. The Wolverine defense forced Nebraska to punt on the next series, and Dave Arnold rushed in untouched to block his third punt of the season to set up a short Moons field goal. The Wolverines scored again on their next possession when a 14-yard run by Morris set up Harbaugh's second touchdown of the afternoon, giving Michigan a seemingly comfortable 27-14 lead.

The excitement was not quite finished, thanks to an elusive freshman quarterback for Nebraska. Steve Taylor moved the Cornhuskers 77 yards in four minutes to cut the Michigan lead to 27-21. With the Wolverines in a hole late in the game, Schembechler elected to take an intentional safety, and Nebraska was unable to mount a drive on its final possession.

The win gave Schembechler his third bowl victory in five years, and vaulted the Wolverines to the No. 2 spot (behind Oklahoma) in the final polls.

Attendance: 103,168

MICHIGAN	8	7	0	0	—15
ARIZONA ST.	0	13	6	3	—22

The Maize and Blue returned to the grass of the Rose Bowl after a four year drought to face seventh-ranked Arizona State, a team that had rolled to the PAC 10 title by running through its schedule unbeaten before slipping in their final game against Arizona.

Michigan made its first drive look easy. After Jim Harbaugh passed 24 yards to Greg McMurtry on the second play from scrimmage, the Wolverines quickly moved into scoring position. Jamie Morris took the handoff at the 18-yard line, broke two tackles, and smashed into the end zone. On the point-after attempt, the Sun Devils were caught when kicker Mike Gillette took the snap and passed to Gerald White in the end zone while the rest of the team remained huddled to the side. As the ecstatic Wolverine contingent cheered, the scoreboard flashed the score: Michigan 8, ASU 0.

Early in the second quarter, the Sun Devils' Kent Bostrom booted a 37-yard field goal. Michigan roared right back by powering the ball to the 2-yard line before Harbaugh plunged to paydirt. Gillette kicked the conversion, and Michigan led 15-3. After adding a 27-yard field goal, Arizona State used the last four minutes of the half to mount a 60-yard drive that commenced when Jeff Van Raaphorst passed to Bruce Hill for the Sun Devils' first touchdown. As the teams took to the locker room, the Wolverines held a 15-13 advantage.

Opening the second half, Arizona State launched an 80-yard drive. Van Raaphorst again found Hill in the end zone, and after the two-point conversion failed, Michigan trailed by four. The Wolverines only touched the ball twice in the entire quarter, and netted just 22 yards, all from Harbaugh's pass completion in the third quarter. With 14:16 to go in the game, Bostrom added a 25-yard field goal and Arizona State had all the points needed for the victory.

Despite the disappointment of the final game, the 1986 season was a good one for Michigan football. Wolverine fans were treated to the 32nd Big Ten title in school history, Bo Schembechler's 200th career victory and the passing of Fielding H. Yost as the winningest coach in Michigan history.

For the second time in his 19 year reign, Bo Schembechler would not be on the sidelines for a Michigan bowl game. Schembechler underwent quadruple heart bypass surgery in early December and offensive coordinator Gary Moeller was given the task of preparing the Wolverines.

The Crimson Tide took the opening kickoff and moved the ball to Michigan's 34-yard line, where they had to settle for a 51-yard Philip Doyle field goal. In the second quarter, Jamie Morris broke a tackle for a 25-yard touchdown run, giving the Wolverines their first lead of the game. On Michigan's next possession, Morris again broke a tackle, then ran over a defender for a 14-yard TD run and the Wolverines went into the locker room with a 14-3 half time lead.

Michigan began the second half where it left off as Morris broke loose for a 77-yard TD run, lifting U-M to a comfortable 21-3 margin. Following Morris' run, the Crimson Tide launched a 72-yard drive in just under five minutes that culminated in a 16-yard touchdown pass from Dunn to Howard Cross. After a Michigan punt, Alabama marched 85 yards capped by Bobby Humphrey's one-yard TD run, cutting the Wolverine's lead to five points with 13 minutes left in the game. Two more times Michigan's offense was held and Alabama was again able to drive against the Wolverine defense, this time for 79 yards, culminating in a 17-yard scoring run by Humphrey. Alabama's two-point conversion was successful and the Tide took the lead, 24-21, with just under five minutes remaining.

Facing fourth-and-three from the 20-yard line late in the fourth quarter, Brown lofted a 20-yard pass that John Kolesar pulled down in the corner of the end zone for a touchdown and Michigan's most exciting scoring drive of the season. In the game's waning moments, Alabama's desperation pass was intercepted by cornerback to seal a Wolverine win.

Jamie Morris' 234 yards rushing set a Hall of Fame Bowl record and Michigan bowl record. He also broke the Wolverines' single season rushing record with total of 1,703 yards and ended his career with 4,393 rushing yards, the third best in Big Ten History.

MICHIGAN	3	0	6	13	—22
USC	0	14	0	0	—14

Coming off one of the toughest Ohio State games in recent history, many questioned whether or not Michigan could withstand a team that led the Pac-10 in rushing defense, total defense, and was offensively led by Rodney Peete, the 1988 Heisman Trophy runner-up.

Michigan's first possession was highlighted by a 21-yard completion from Demetrius Brown to John Kolesar on the fourth play of the drive. U-M controlled the ball for 7:51 on 13 plays until it was stopped by the Trojan defense. Mike Gillette was called in to cap the drive with a 49-yard field goal with 4:07 remaining in the quarter.

At the beginning of the second quarter, the Trojan offense came to life. USC moved from its own 46-yard line to the Wolverine 22. Each side turned the ball over, however, before the Trojans scored the game's first touchdown on a one-yard run by Peete. USC began its second TD drive with 7:06 remaining in the half, ending with Peete's four-yard scoring run.

The opening minutes of the second half saw Brown's 22-yard scramble to the six, followed by his touchdown toss to Chris Calloway two plays later. U-M was unsuccessful on the two-point conversion, leaving the score at 14-9.

In the final minutes of the third quarter, the Michigan offense, led by running backs Tony Boles and Leroy Hoard, put together the longest drive of the game. The duo amassed 64 of the 92 yards gained by U-M in the drive. A 23-yard pass from Brown to Derrick Walker put the Wolverines on the one-yard line, and Hoard took it in for the score. Michigan again failed on the two-point try, leaving the Trojans just one point behind with plenty of time left in the final quarter.

With 5:28 left to play in the game, the Wolverines' sensed their third bowl victory in four years. On the very first play, Hoard exploded for a 61-yard run to the Trojan 9-yard line. On fourth-and-goal Hoard scored to give Michigan a seven point lead that became eight after Gillette's extra point with 1:57 remaining.

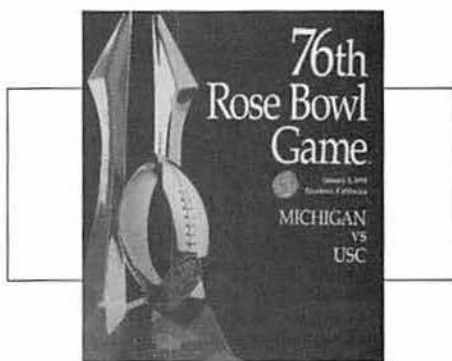

Peete then led the Trojans down the field in an attempt to tie the game, but linebacker John Milligan picked off an errant pass with 50 seconds remaining to secure a Wolverine win.

The victory gave Schembechler his second win in Pasadena and the Wolverines a 9-2-1 season record, finishing with a no. 4 national ranking by Associated Press.

MICHIGAN vs. SOUTHERN CAL
Attendance: 103,450

MICHIGAN	0	3	7	0	—10
USC	0	10	0	7	—17

Every Rose Bowl is a grand spectacle of the best college football has to offer, but the 1990 clash between Michigan and Southern California had added luster as it was the last game in Bo Schembechler's 27-year coaching career.

The first quarter was dominated by the defenses, as neither team was able to put any points on the scoreboard. USC opened the scoring in the second quarter on a one-yard touchdown run by quarterback Todd Marinovich. Michigan answered USC's score midway through the second quarter. Leroy Hoard ripped off a 46-yard run and Michael Taylor connected with Greg McMurtry for 20 yards to get down to the Trojan eight-yard line. J.D. Carlson's 19-yard field goal cut USC's lead to 7-3 with 6:28 left. The Trojans closed out the first half scoring on a 34-yard Quin Rodriguez field goal that pushed USC's halftime lead to 10-3.

The Wolverines played an inspired third quarter, limiting the Trojans to just 27 yards while scoring the tying touchdown. Michigan scored on their second drive of the quarter as Allen Jefferson scored from two yards out to tie the game at 10.

The game's pivotal play came on a fourth and two from the Michigan 46 with 12:00 left in the contest. On that play, Wolverine punter Chris Stapleton's fake punt gained 24 yards, but a holding penalty and a subsequent unsportsmanlike conduct penalty pushed Michigan back to its own 21 and eliminated the first down. Southern Cal took advantage of Michigan's misfortune, marching 75 yards in 13 plays for the game-winning TD.

Despite the Rose Bowl defeat, the Wolverines had their first 10 win season (10-2) since 1986, and earned their second consecutive outright Big Ten Championship. Bo Schembechler ended his coaching career as the winningest coach in Michigan football history with a 194-48-5 record.

MICHIGAN vs. MISSISSIPPI
Attendance: 68,927

MICHIGAN	7	7	21	0	—35
MISSISSIPPI	0	3	0	0	—3

With their thrilling, last-second victory over Ohio State, the Wolverines earned a share of the Big Ten Football Championship and a trip to Michigan's 16th consecutive post-season bowl game—the 1991 Gator Bowl.

After the teams exchanged early turnovers,

Michigan opened the scoring in the first quarter as Elvis Grbac threw deep down the right side of the field to Desmond Howard who caught the pass and sprinted into the end zone for a career-long 63-yard touchdown reception. J.D. Carlson's extra point gave Michigan a 7-0 lead with 1:04 left in the first quarter.

Mississippi scored its only points of the game in the second quarter as Brian Lee kicked a career-long and Gator Bowl record 51-yard field goal to trim the Ole Miss deficit to 7-3.

Following a 32-yard Howard return of the ensuing kickoff, Jon Vaughn sprinted around left end for a gain of 37 yards and a first down at the Rebel 31. Five plays later, Grbac threw seven yards to Jarrod Bunch giving the Wolverines' a 14-3 halftime lead. Grbac's touchdown pass, his 19th of the season, broke Jim Harbaugh's Michigan single season record for touchdown passes thrown (18 in 1985).

Early in the third quarter, Grbac threw a screen pass to Howard who eluded the Mississippi defense en route to a 50-yard touchdown reception. Carlson's extra point extended Michigan's lead to 21-3 with 10:53 left in the third quarter.

Later in the quarter, Ole Miss quarterback Tom Luke was intercepted by Todd Plate at the Michigan 37. After a three-yard Ricky Powers run and an 11-yard Grbac to Howard completion, the Wolverines had a first down on Ole Miss 49-yard line. On the next play, Powers blasted up the middle for a gain of 44 yards and a first down at the Rebel five. Jarrod Bunch pounded into the end zone on the next play, giving Michigan a comfortable 28-3 lead.

As the third stanza was nearing completion Michigan started at its own 30-yard line and moved to the Ole Miss 33 on runs of nine, 11 and 17 yards by Vaughn. On first down, Grbac hit Alexander over the middle for a 33-yard touchdown. That touchdown pass, Grbac's fourth of the game, broke a Michigan single bowl record, and gave the Wolverines a 35-3 lead with :31 seconds left in the third quarter. That closed the scoring, giving Michigan a resounding win.

The Gator Bowl capped a successful initial season for head coach Gary Moeller as his Wolverines finished the season with a 9-3 record. Additionally, the Gator Bowl served as a national showcase for several Wolverines: offensive linemen Dean Dingman, Tom Dohring, Greg Skrepenak, Matt Elliott, and Steve Everitt were named the game's Most Valuable Players for leading the offense to a Michigan single game record 715 total yards.

1992 ROSE BOWL Pasadena, California

January 1, 1992

MICHIGAN vs. WASHINGTON
Attendance: 103,566

MICHIGAN	0	7	0	7	—14
WASHINGTON	0	13	8	13	—34

With a fourth consecutive Big Ten title locked up the Michigan Wolverines ventured to Pasadena hoping to add a Rose Bowl title and possible national championship to their already impressive list of accolades. Thus far the 1991 season had seen Desmond Howard win the Heisman Trophy and Erick Anderson garner the first Butkus Award in school history. However, standing in the way of Gary Moeller's team, was the Washington Huskies, a team boasting the nation's number one ranked defense.

The game got off to an auspicious start for Michigan as Washington tailback Napoleon Kauffman returned the opening kickoff 38 yards out to the 50-yard line. After Bryant picked up four yards on a swing pass and another five on a run off tackle, the Huskies found themselves faced with a third and one situation. The Michigan defense quickly ended any Husky aspirations of a quick score when Ninef Aghakhan met Bryant at the line of scrimmage for no gain.

Michigan opened the game in typical fashion with runs of seven and four yards by Ricky Powers. Quarterback sacks on two of the next three plays forced Coach Moeller to call on the services of punter Eddie Azcona. Azcona's first of ten punts on the day came to rest at the Michigan 45.

Again the Huskies commenced another drive with excellent field position—and again the Michigan defense did their job. After a quick pass and two running plays moved the ball to the 19-yard line, senior safety Otis Williams intercepted Billy Joe Hobert's pass at the ten and returned the ball 36 yards out to midfield.

The Wolverines were only able to net three yards on their second possession of the game. Following a 26-yard Azcona punt, Washington found themselves starting a drive in their own territory for the first time in the game. The Huskies were unable to gain a single yard on any of their three plays from the Michigan 25. Desmond Howard's first punt return of the day, a 15-yard effort, gave the Wolverine offense the ball at their own 37-yard line.

With 6:03 remaining in the first quarter, Gary Moeller reached into his bag of tricks and came up empty. Elvis Grbac faked a reverse and threw deep over the middle for Howard. The pass was tipped by Shane Pahukoa and intercepted by Walter Bailey at the Washington nine.

The two teams traded punts before Washington's first scoring drive of the game began at their own 46-yard line. Two consecutive completions from Hobert to Aaron Pierce gave Washington a first down at the Michigan 40. After two incompletions, Hobert found Mario Bailey streaking down the right sideline for a 34-yard gain down to the Michigan six. With time running out in the first quarter, two rushing attempts at the endzone by Beno Bryant were stopped by Otis Williams and Ninef Aghakhan. On the first play of the second stanza, Hobert faked to Bryant and ran off left tackle for two yards and the touchdown. Travis Hanson's kick capped a 2:09 drive that gave Washington a 7-0 lead.

For the first time in the game Washington was forced to kickoff to Michigan...and Desmond Howard. Don James elected to keep the ball away from Howard by going with a short high kickoff. Yale VanDyne signaled for a fair catch inside the Michigan 45 and was subsequently interfered with. The 15-yard penalty advanced the ball out to the Husky 44 where Michigan promptly went to work. On first down Desmond Howard added another clip to his highlight film with a leaping, 35-yard reception over eventual NFL first round selection Dana Hall. Three plays later from the 9-yard line, Elvis Grbac connected with Walter Smith for the touchdown. Smith's first career touchdown and J.D. Carlson's PAT tied the game at seven.

Following the kickoff, Washington took possession of the ball at their 33-yard line with new signal-caller Mark Brunell behind center. Highlighted by Aaron Pierce's 26-yard reception, Brunell's first drive appeared to culminate with a 14-yard touchdown run by Jay Barry. However, a holding penalty nullified the score. Despite the setback to the 21-yard line, Washington took only two plays to garner a first down at the five. Travis Hanson capped a 6:17 drive with a 24-yard FG that gave Washington a 10-7 lead.

Washington's defense held Michigan in check on the next possession and gave their offense outstanding starting position at the Michigan 46. With Billy Joe Hobert back at quarterback, the Huskies took only five plays to march down to the 10-yard line. The drive stalled at the six when two Brunell passes to the endzone missed their mark. Washington extended their lead to a 13-7 margin when Hanson completed the eight play, 40-yard drive with a 23-yard FG.

Michigan was able to move the ball as far as their own 33-yard line on the next possession before three incompletions halted the drive. Desmond Howard sparked the short-lived drive with a 21-yard kickoff return and a 15-yard double reverse.

From their own 36-yard line the Washington offense started the next drive looking to score on their fourth consecutive possession. After two completions moved the ball out to the 41-yard line, it appeared Washington was going to add to their lead before the half ended. Facing a second down situation, Hobert looked downfield for Pierce but instead found Steve Morrison who intercepted the ill-advised pass.

With 1:28 remaining at the Washington 29, the Wolverines found themselves with the opportunity to take the lead. In what has to be considered the turning point of the game, Steve Emtmann dropped Elvis Grbac for a 12-yard loss. Three plays later the Wolverines were forced to punt from their own 44-yard line as time expired in the half.

Howard took the second half kickoff at the 18-yard line and returned it six yards out to the Michigan 24. Ricky Powers could only net one yard on two carries and a third down pass from Elvis Grbac advanced the Wolverines out to the 29-yard line. On fourth down, Eddie Azcona's punt sailed to the Washington 36, and Beno Bryant's 19-yard return gave the Huskies excellent field position at the Michigan 45.

Just as they did in the first half, the Michigan defense rose to the occasion and halted Washington's first scoring threat of the half. John Werdel's 36-yard punt came to rest at the eight-yard line. Michigan quickly emerged from the shadows of their own goal post as Tyrone Wheatley took a screen pass from Elvis Grbac and followed his blockers for a 19-yard gain. From the 27 yard line, Wheatley took the handoff from Grbac and went off right tackle for another 19 yards. What looked to be a promising drive came to a halt at the Michigan 46 as the Wolverines failed to gain any yardage on their next three plays.

The Huskies took only 4:25 to march 80 yards for their second touchdown of the game. Hobert completed a 5-yard TD toss to Mark Bruener and the two point conversion to Aaron Pierce.

Facing a 21-7 deficit, the Wolverines were again unable to manage a first down and were forced to punt. Excellent field position awaited the Washington offense again, with the ball resting on the Michigan 48. On the second play of the final quarter, Hobert gave a play-action fake and found Pierce in the back of the endzone for a 2-yard touchdown. Although the PAT sailed wide-right, the Wolverines still found themselves trailing 27-7.

Following Tyrone Wheatley's 10-yard return of the kickoff, Michigan started the next drive at their own 29 yardline. Michigan moved the ball out to the 38-yard line before an Elvis Grbac keeper on fourth and one was stopped for no gain. Washington took only six seconds to find the endzone again. Mark Brunell hit Mario Bailey streaking down the right side for the Huskies final score of the game.

Freshman Tyrone Wheatley provided a glimpse of the future for Maize and Blue faithful on the next drive, accounting for all but 22 of the 96 yards. On third and seven from the Wolverine 47-yard line, Wheatley found a seam in the left side of the line and outran the Washington defense for a 53-yard touchdown jaunt. J.D. Carlson ended his career with his 126th consecutive PAT to make the final score 34-14.

1993 ROSE BOWL

Pasadena, California

January 1, 1993

MICHIGAN vs. WASHINGTON
Attendance: 94,236

MICHIGAN	10	7	14	7	—38
WASHINGTON	7	14	10	0	—31

For the second consecutive season, the Michigan Wolverines and Washington Huskies celebrated the New Year together at the Rose Bowl. The Huskies were searching for an unprecedented third straight Rose Bowl victory, while the Wolverines were looking to revenge a 34-14 Rose Bowl defeat to Washington in 1992.

After stopping Washington on the game's first possession Michigan got the ball at its own 19-yard line following a 37-yard punt. On third and eight from the 21-yard line, Tyrone Wheatley followed guard Joe Cocozzo around left end for a 23-yard gain. The Wolverines made their second consecutive third down conversion on a nine-yard pass to Walter Smith. Michigan could advance only four yards on the next three plays and on fourth and six from the 24-yard line, Coach Gary Moeller called upon Peter Elezovic for a career long 41-yard field goal and Michigan took a 3-0 lead.

Washington began its second series at the 20-yard line after a touchback. On a third and six, Husky quarterback Mark Brunell scrambled 18 yards for a first down after being flushed out of the pocket by Buster Stanley. A 19-yard pass completion to Jason Shelly moved the Huskies into Michigan territory for the first time, down to the 39-yard line. On second down at the 36-yard line Brunell found tight end Mark Brunner for a 35-yard gain to the 1-yard line. Two plays later fullback Darius Turner halted any Michigan aspirations of a goal line stand, leaping over the line of scrimmage into the end zone for the first touchdown of the game and a 7-3 Husky lead.

Michigan took less than two minutes to get the lead back. Elvis Grbac found Tony McGee sprinting alone down the middle for a 49-yard touchdown. An Elezovic PAT finished a six-play, 69-yard drive that gave Michigan a 10-7 lead.

After the Wolverines regained possession at their own 41-yard line Michigan only needed two carries by Wheatley in 49 seconds to extend its lead. A three-yard run by Wheatley and an incomplete pass put the Wolverines in a third and seven situation at their own 44-yard line. On a draw-trap play, Wheatley sprinted untouched 56-yards for a touchdown to put the Wolverines up by 10, 17-7.

Washington retaliated in quick fashion, covering 74 yards in only four plays. On third down, Brunell stepped out of Stanley's diving tackle attempt, scrambled upfield to the 30-yard line and heaved the ball to Jason Shelley at the 5-yard line. As Shelley crossed the goal line, safety Corwin Brown stripped the ball which was recovered by cornerback Ty Law in the end zone. Officials ruled that the ball had already crossed the goal and the Huskies were back in the game at 17-14.

Michigan regained possession at their own 20-yard line following a touchback, but could not score. After a 34-yard punt the Huskies started at their own 30-yard line. Facing a third down and nine situation from the 31-yard line, Michigan elected to blitz. Brunell scrambled out of the pocket and found Damon Barry behind the Wolverine secondary for a 55-yard gain to the Michigan 14-yard line. Facing another third down and long situation (14 yards), Michigan blitzed and again Brunell came up with the big play, finding tight end Mark Bruener in the corner of the end zone to give Washington its first lead of the game, 21-17.

Michigan started the second half deep in its own territory, but it did not take long for the Wolverines to emerge from the shadows of their goal post. All-American Steve Everett opened up a hole in the interior of the Husky defensive line for Wheatley, who ran untouched 88-yards into the end zone. The run set a new Rose Bowl record and gave the Wolverines a 24-21 lead.

The celebration did not last long for Michigan. Kaufman took the kickoff inside the 10-yard line and returned it 47 yards before Dwayne Ware made a touchdown saving tackle at the Michigan 46-yard line. The Huskies took only 2:32 to regain the lead. The seven play, 46 yard drive was again keyed by Brunell. He had an 11-yard scramble on first down at the Michigan 30-yard line and then found Bruener at the 1-yard line. Kaufman then dove over the goal line on first down to put the Huskies back on top 28-24.

Two holding penalties stalled Michigan's next possession and gave the Huskies excellent field position. Stapleton was forced to punt out of his own end zone and Washington took over at the Michigan 35-yard line. Led by Stanley, Michigan's defense held Washington to a 44-yard field goal by Travis Hanson. The Huskies' final score of the game came at the 8:42 mark of the third quarter and put them up 31-24.

Following stalled drives by both teams, Alexander fielded John Werdell's punt at the Washington 41-yard line and found a seam up the middle, advancing all the way to the 13-yard line. An illegal procedure penalty on first down pushed Michigan back to the 18. Four plays later, Elezovic's 33-yard field goal attempt bounced off the left upright, leaving Michigan with no points despite gaining possession inside the Husky 15-yard line.

The big stand by the Washington defense appeared to give the Huskies momentum heading into the fourth quarter. However, the Michigan defense was equally up to the challenge and two plays later the game was tied. Kaufman took a pitch off the right side and fumbled. Despite playing with a broken hand, inside linebacker Bobby Powers managed to make the fumble recovery at the 24-yard line. On another draw play, Wheatley broke a tackle at the line of scrimmage and sprinted 24 yards to the end zone to tie the game at 31.

Washington got the ball back with 1:48 left in the third quarter and did not relinquish control until 10:38 remaining to play. Led by Mark Brunell, the Huskies used a well balanced attack, mixing five runs and five passes, to advance from their 27-yard line to the Michigan 5-yard line.

Brunell ran the option play to the short side on first down and was stopped for a one-yard gain by Chris Hutchinson and strong safety Shonte Peoples. Peoples again made the stop on second down, stopping Kaufman on a dive play for no gain. Kaufman took a pitch on third down and was met again by Peoples, this time for a one-yard loss. Led by Peoples' three consecutive tackles, the Michigan defense forced Washington to attempt a 22-yard field goal from the right hash mark. Husky kicker Hanson was unable to overcome the extreme angle, leaving the kick wide right. With 10:38 left to play Michigan gained possession at its own 20-yard line for the game winning drive.

On third and one from the 40-yard line, Moeller elected to run a play very similar to the one that produced Michigan's first touchdown. Grbac again found McGee open in the secondary, but this time he was dragged down at the goal line. Two more runs by Davis netted seven yards to the 15-yard line. Facing third and short, Grbac went back to McGee, who caught the ball at the 2-yard line and fell into the end zone to give Michigan a 38-31 lead.

Washington began their effort to tie the game at its own 32-yard line with 5:29 remaining and quickly moved the ball down to the Michigan 25-yard line. The Michigan defense again came up big when it counted. Propelled by Henderson's stop of Brunell behind the line of scrimmage on first down, the Wolverines stopped Washington from extending the series. After two incompletions, Brunell was stopped on fourth down by Dwayne Ware, two-yards short of the first down.

Michigan took over at the 17-yard line and moved the ball out to its 44, consuming over two minutes on the game clock. Powers picked up 30 yards on three carries before the Huskies forced Michigan to punt. Stapleton's punt was partially blocked by David Killpatrick, giving Washington excellent field position and the opportunity to tie the game. Washington took over at the Michigan 44-yard line with 1:03 remaining but could not advance the ball as four straight passes fell incomplete. Grbac downed the ball with 43 seconds to play to give Michigan its sixth Rose Bowl win.

Tampa, FL

MICHIGAN vs. NORTH CAROLINA STATE

January 1, 1994

Attendance: 52,649

MICHIGAN	0	21	21	0	—42
N.C. STATE	0	0	7	0	—7

The 1994 Hall of Fame Bowl opened the New Year's Day bowl festivities with an 11 a.m. kickoff in unusually wet conditions for the Tampa, FL site. By the time the rain subsided and the other New Year's Day bowl games were set to begin, Michigan was well on its way to a 42-7 trouncing of North Carolina State. Tyrone Wheatley was named the game's MVP after compiling 124 rushing yards on 18 carries, including touchdown runs of 26 and 18 yards.

After a scoreless first quarter, the second quarter began with Michigan starting from its own 20-yard line. The drive began with a delay of game penalty, but Wheatley soon followed with two strong runs of 13 and six yards for a first down. Following an incomplete pass and another Wolverine penalty, Todd Collins found Mercury Hayes for 18 yards and a first down. After a 6-yard run by Ed Davis and an 11-yard Wheatley scamper, Michigan was within striking range at the Wolfpack 27. Following a 1-yard drive on first down, Wheatley took a pitch from Collins on a sweep to the right and blazed down the sidelines for the game's first touchdown. Pete Elezovic's extra point gave the Wolverines a 7-0 lead with 11:10 to play in the half.

North Carolina State started its next drive on its own 30 and was forced to punt from the same spot four plays later. Fielding the kick at the Michigan 21-yard line, Derrick Alexander burst up the middle of the field unscathed, receiving key downfield blocks en route to a 79-yard touchdown. Alexander's punt return was the longest ever in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the longest by a Wolverine in a bowl game and the fourth punt return for a touchdown in Alexander's career, tying a Michigan record. After Elezovic's extra point, Michigan held a 14-0 advantage.

N.C. State began at its own 27 and moved the ball to the Michigan 18 before defensive back Deollo Anderson recovered a fumbled snap at the 'M' 15-yard line with 5:02 remaining in the half.

Michigan proceeded to put together its longest drive of the game, moving 85 yards on 13 plays. With just three seconds left before halftime, the Wolverines faced a fourth and 10 from the Wolfpack 31. After calling a timeout, Collins took the snap and found Amani Toomer in the right corner of the endzone for a thrilling 31-yard touchdown. Elezovic once again nailed the extra point to give Michigan a 21-0 halftime lead.

After Michigan's first drive of the second half stalled, N.C. State started from its own 20 and moved the ball 22 yards on three plays. On third down from its own 42-yard line, Wolfpack quarterback Terry Harvey's pass was picked off by Clarence Thompson, who raced down the left sideline for a 43-yard touchdown. Elezovic converted the PAT and Michigan had a commanding 28-0 lead with 11:05 remaining in the third quarter.

Looking for an offensive spark, N.C. State inserted quarterback Geoff Bender. Bender immediately converted, completing a 25-yard pass to Ryan Shultz. Facing third and 10 at the Michigan 48-yard line, Bender again responded with a 21-yard pass up the middle to Eddie Goines. With the ball at the Michigan 27, Bender dropped back to pass again, but was intercepted by linebacker Steve Morrison, who returned the ball 19 yards to the 41-yard line.

Michigan moved the ball quickly to the Wolfpack 18-yard line when Wheatley took the ball around left end into the endzone and into the Michigan record book. Wheatley's touchdown was the 35th rushing TD of his career, breaking Rick Leach's school record for career rushing TDs. It was also Wheatley's 40th career touchdown, tying him with Anthony Carter for the most career TDs by a Wolverine. Wheatley's score and the point after sealed the game as Michigan led 35-0 midway through the third quarter.

North Carolina State returned the ensuing kickoff 29 yards to their own 37-yard line. Bender passed the Wolfpack down to the Michigan 12-yard line and then completed a pass to Brian Fitzgerald for a touchdown with 4:53 to play in the third to put N.C. State on the scoreboard at 35-7.

After Michigan could not move the ball on its next drive, Chris Stapleton boomed a punt 60 yards into the endzone for a touchback. On the first play of N.C. State's drive, Ty Law picked off a deep pass from Bender at the Michigan 36. After guiding the offense down to the Wolfpack 16-yard line, Collins handed the ball off to co-captain Ricky Powers, who ran left for what proved to be Michigan's last score of the game for a commanding 42-7 lead with 3:13 left in the third.

The Michigan defense held North Carolina State to only 31 net yards on 14 offensive plays while the Wolverine offense ate up the clock with a solid ground attack in the fourth quarter. As a result, neither team scored in the final quarter and Michigan ran off the field with their second consecutive New Year's Day bowl victory.

THE MICHIGAN FOOTBALL HELMET

In 1938, Fritz Crisler assumed the role of head football coach and wanted something unmistakably different. In those days, all football teams wore dark uniforms—there were no "home" and "away" uniforms—and the legendary Crisler wanted a design to enable quarterbacks to distinguish their downfield receivers. And so Crisler designed the now-famous Michigan winged helmet.

M THE MICHIGAN ATHLETIC ENDOWMENT PROGRAM

The University of Michigan Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Michigan has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through athletic department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Michigan Athletic Endowment Program has established the following three endowment programs:

Schembechler Scholarships—Reflecting Bo's unwavering commitment to academic excellence and graduation of athletes, these endowments provide an individual with a full scholarship.

Yost Scholarships—In recognition of the man who set Michigan athletics on its course of excellence, these scholarships cover all tuition costs for a student-athlete.

Crisler Scholarships—Remembering the great man whose mind and motivation shaped collegiate athletics as we know it, these endowments cover all scholarship costs for an individual's summer term studies.

Nine scholarships have been established through the Michigan Athletic Endowment Program specifically for Michigan football team members. The scholarships and the 1995-96 recipient are listed.

KALVIN AND EILEEN GROVE SCHOLARSHIP

Kal and Eileen Grove have supported Michigan athletics both personally and financially for a number of years. Following graduation from Michigan, Kal has been a successful practicing attorney. His interest in Michigan has continued to grow over the years. He and Eileen have been familiar faces at Michigan contests, both home and away. Their respect for the integrity and pursuit of excellence of the athletic department has led them to endow a scholarship to be awarded to a player who exhibits a special degree of toughness and leadership on and off the field. Senior/Junior linebacker Jarrett Irons, The Woodlands, Texas, is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

DONALD R. SHEPHERD SCHOLARSHIP

A 1958 University of Michigan Business School graduate, Donald Shepherd has donated more than $4 million to the University since 1974. His latest commitment established the first scholarship endowment for the Michigan football program. A scholarship will be given in Shepherd's name each year to a student-athlete enrolled in a pre-professional or professional school. The bequest will be granted to a football player who could not have attended college without a scholarship. Senior/Junior defensive back Woody Hankins, Owasso, Okla., is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

LEO A. THOMAS SCHOLARSHIP

The Leo A. Thomas Scholarship was established in the will of his wife, Lucile, to pay all scholarship costs for a Michigan football player who demonstrates enthusiasm and commitment to the Michigan football program and the University as a whole. Mr. Thomas (B.A. Literature 1908) and his wife were enthusiastic and avid followers and supporters of Michigan football. This Schembechler scholarship serves as a lasting tribute to Mr. Thomas' commitment and dedication to the Michigan football family. As the Thomas's were residents of the Troy, Ohio area, individuals from this region will be given scholarship preference. Senior center Eric Wendt, Cincinnati, Ohio, is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

MILDRED S. AND MYRON S. STEINBERG; JOANN AND NED L. CHALAT, MD SCHOLARSHIP

Myron Steinberg was a great friend of the University of Michigan. Although he never graduated from the University of Michigan, he had a great love for the University, particularly the Athletic Department. This Schembechler Scholarship is for a football player who is a worthy upper-classman, preferably from the Detroit area. Senior defensive back Steve King, Riviera Beach, Fla., is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

U OF M CLUB OF ANN ARBOR SCHOLARSHIP

The U of M Club of Ann Arbor has endowed a scholarship to be awarded to a worthy football player. Through the functions of the club, money is raised to fulfill the club's desire to assist a player who displays the attributes to succeed in athletics and academics. Senior wide receiver Mercury Hayes, Houston, Texas, is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

ROBERT A. BAUMGARTNER SCHOLARSHIP

Bob Baumgartner was a starting guard on the 1969 Big Ten Championship team. He attended the Michigan Graduate Business School and began a successful career in the banking business. He continued to show his love and support for the University until his untimely death from cancer in 1993. With the support of his wife, Cheryl, Ken Mortensen, in concert with many of Baumgartner's former teammates and business associates, have established a scholarship to be awarded to a football player who exhibits the intelligence, character and toughness that Bob Baumgartner displayed. Senior/Junior offensive lineman Mark Bolach, Muskegon, Mich., is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

CARL A. KREAGER FAMILY SCHOLARSHIP

Carl Kreager was an offensive lineman for the University of Michigan from 1947-50. After a stint in professional football, he became a successful businessman in his home area of Lansing, MI. Carl is a trend setter in that he is the first former player to endow a football scholarship. He and his wife, Joannie, wish to afford other young men the opportunity to enjoy the experience of a Michigan education that proved so valuable to Carl. Senior tackle Mike Sullivan, East Lansing, Mich., is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

ROBERT N. AND MARION E. BEEBE SCHOLARSHIP

Bob and Marion Beebe are true followers of Michigan tradition. Bob, having graduated from Michigan Dental School, established a successful practice in the Flint area with the help of his wife Marion. Over the years, he followed Michigan athletics and upon retirement moved to Ann Arbor to be closer to Michigan football. Marion and Bob have expressed their loyalty and support by endowing a football scholarship to a student whose college career would be enhanced with financial assistance. Junior tailback Tshimanga Biakabutuka, Longueuil, Quebec, is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

U OF M CLUB OF GREATER DETROIT SCHOLARSHIP

The U of M Club of Greater Detroit, longtime supporters of Michigan athletics, has taken a lead in supporting Michigan football by establishing a Crisler Scholarship. The scholarship will be awarded to the Michigan football player who has demonstrated the leadership and integrity representative of a Michigan Man as a student, and one who can be counted on to continue his dedication to the University as an alumnus. Preference for this scholarship will be given to individuals who attended high school in the greater Detroit area and will be a senior following the summer term. Senior wide receiver Todd Richards, Reading, Mich., is the 1995-96 scholarship recipient.

M THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN MARCHING BAND

For the first time in five years the Michigan Marching Band takes the field under the direction of a new leader. Gary Lewis, director since 1990, gives way to former band assistant Jeff Grogan for the 1995 season. The band has undergone numerous changes since playing at its first football game in 1898 but one thing has remained the same — the reputation and tradition of excellence shown for nearly a century now.

Nothing excites the Michigan Stadium crowd more than the pregame performance when the band explodes out of the tunnel spilling a sea of Maize and Blue across the field before folding out to play the 'M Fanfare'. From there the band marches 40 yards upfield and back downfield while playing what march king John Phillip Sousa proclaimed the greatest fight song ever written, The Victors.

New halftime shows are prepared for every home game as the band performs a variety of original music arrangements and sophisticated marching maneuvers. During the games, the band keeps the 100,000-plus fans in the games with cheers including Michigan's well-known Let's Go Blue.

The band can be heard and seen away from stadium at Band-O-Rama, scheduled for Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Hill Auditorium and Dec. 2 at 2:30 p.m. in Crisler Arena. For those that wish to see even more, the percussion and flag sections perform on the steps of Revelli Hall approximately two hours before kickoff. The band rehearses Monday through Friday on Elbel Field from 4:15-6:15 p.m. during the fall.

The marching band continues to receive great exposure nationwide. Besides the six or seven home games a year, many of which are broadcast across the country, the band follows the football team for at least one road game a season. Last year's trip to the Holiday Bowl marked the 20th consecutive season that the band accompanied the team to a bowl game.

Throughout the years, the band has appeared in 15 Rose Bowls, two Gator Bowls, two Hall of Fame Bowls, two Holiday Bowls, the Orange Bowl, the Sugar Bowl, the Bluebonnet Bowl and the Fiesta Bowl. The marching band has also been featured in two Super Bowls and the World Series and has appeared on the Today Show, Good Morning America, Live with Regis and Kathie Lee and ESPN College Gameday. The band has also performed at Disney World, Disneyland, and the San Diego Zoo. Last year's trip included a stop at the U.S. Naval Station where the band formed its trademark block 'M' across the deck of the U.S.S. Kitty Hawk aircraft carrier.

The band maintains its long standing tradition of excellence with support from friends of the Michigan Marching Band — the Elbel Club. Over the past five years, the Elbel Club has provided the band with new sousaphones, trombones, horns, tenor saxophones, euphoniums and trumpets, a contribution towards new uniforms, which the band began wearing last season, funding for teaching assistant positions and a continually growing endowment fund.

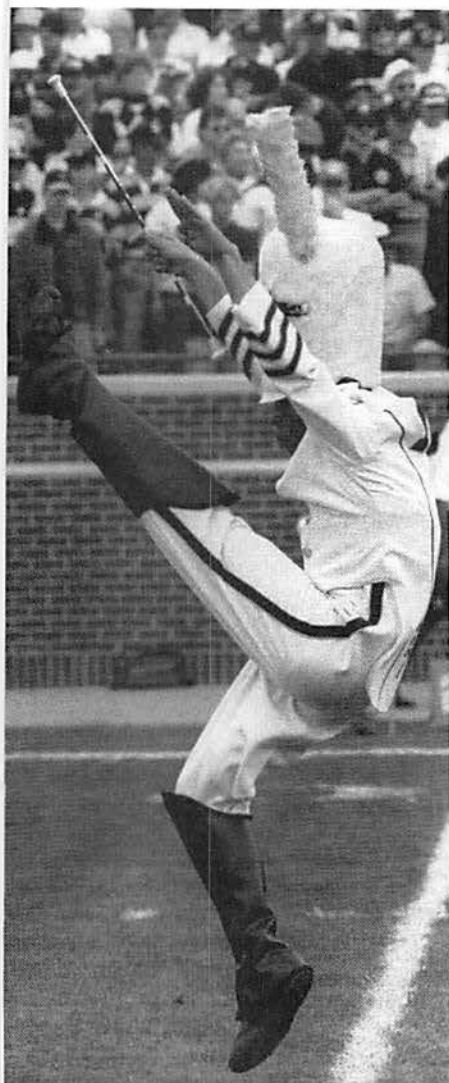

Long after the game or season ends, the Michigan Marching Band can still be heard with the purchase of A Saturday Tradition (released winter 1994) available on compact disc and cassette tape. A video tape, Take the Field, Vol. II, showcasing the 1985 through 1987 seasons, is also available. For t-shirts, sweatshirts and other band souvenirs as well as more information on the band, please write, Michigan Marching Band, Revelli Hall, 350 E. Hoover St., Ann Arbor, MI, 48104, or phone, (313) 764-0582.

DR. WILLIAM D. REVELLI

In 1935, Dr. William D. Revelli replaced Nicholas Falcone as Director of Bands, beginning the finest tradition of marching bands in the country. Dr. Revelli replaced the military drill with marching in step to the arrangement, an innovation that changed all marching bands. Later, in 1949, the Michigan Band played in Yankee Stadium, and then traveled to Pasadena to play at the Rose Bowl, earning them another 'first' and the title, "Transcontinental All-American Band."

M THE SONGS OF MICHIGAN

Varsity

Men of Michigan, on to victory,
Every man in every play;
Michigan expects her varsity to win today.
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
Win for Michigan

Varsity, down the field,
Never yield, raise high our shield.
March on to victory for Michigan
And the Maize and Blue, Oh, Varsity
We're for you,
Here for you, to cheer for you,
We have no fear for you,
Oh, Varsity.

THE VICTORS

Now for a cheer they are here, triumphant!
Here they come with banners flying,
In stalwart step they're nighing,
With shouts of vict'ry crying,
We hurrah, hurrah, we greet you now,
Hail!

Far we their praises sing
For the glory and fame they've bro't us
Loud let the bells them ring
For here they come with banners flying
Far we their praises tell
For the glory and fame they've bro't us
Loud let the bells them ring
For here they come with banners flying
Here they come, Hurrah!

Hail! to the victors valiant
Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
Hail! Hail! to Michigan
the leaders and best

Hail! to the victors valiant
Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
Hail! Hail! to Michigan,
the champions of the West!

We cheer them again
We cheer and cheer again
For Michigan, we cheer for Michigan
We cheer with might and main
We cheer, cheer, cheer
With might and main we cheer!

Hail! to the victors valiant
Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
Hail! Hail! to Michigan,
the champions of the West!

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
Yellow the stars as they ride through the night
And reel in a rollicking crew;
Yellow the field where ripens the grain
And yellow the moon on the harvest wain;
—Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Blue are the billows that bow to the sun
When yellow-robed morning is due.
Blue are the curtains that evening has spun
The slumbers of Phoebus to woo;
Blue are the blossoms to memory dear
And blue is the sapphire and gleams like a tear;

—Hail!

Hail to the ribbons that nature has spun;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Here's to the college whose colors we wear,
Here's to the hearts that are true!
Here's to the maid of the golden hair,
And eyes that are brimming with blue!
Garlands of bluebells and maize intertwine,
And hearts that are true and voices combine;

—Hail!

Hail to the college whose colors we wear;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

M THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Celebrating 100 years of Intercollegiate Athletics

A meeting of seven Midwest university presidents on January 11, 1895 at the Palmer House in Chicago to discuss the regulation and control of intercollegiate athletics, was the first development of what would become one of organized sports' most successful undertakings.

Those seven men, behind the leadership of James H. Smart, president of Purdue University, established the principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded. At that meeting, a blueprint for the control and administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first-known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies."

Eleven months after the presidents met, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House, and officially established the mechanics of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives", or "Big Ten Conference" or "Western Conference." Those seven universities were: University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin.

Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were later admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946 and Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added three years later in 1949. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents voted to make Pennsylvania State University the 11th member of the Conference.

Football and baseball were the most popular sports prior to 1900. Wisconsin won the first two football championships in 1896 and '97. Chicago claimed the first three baseball titles also beginning in 1896. The first "official" sponsored championship event was in outdoor track and field, held at the University of Chicago in 1901. Michigan won from amongst a field of nine teams competing at Marshall Field in Chicago.

Since then, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some became extremely popular - football and basketball, for example. Others, like boxing, fell by the wayside. After the first Conference champions were named in football and men's basketball, most of the existing men's championships began during the first 20 years of this century. Although women competed in unofficial Conference championships dating back to the 1970s, the first official Big Ten championships for women were sanctioned during the 1981-82 school year. Today the Big Ten sponsors 24 sports, 12 each for men and women.

During the 20th century, the Big Ten has seen many stages in the world of athletics: The crisis of rough play in college football in 1906, almost causing its demise; the "Golden Age of American Sport" in the 1920s, where the Big Ten played a major role with all-American heroes such as Red Grange and Bennie Oosterbaan; the emerging Olympic movement (which continues today) where Conference athletes like Jesse Owens and Mark Spitz dominated in such sports as track and swimming; the campus civil unrest of the 1960s, which profoundly affected collegiate athletics; the American fitness boom that began in the 1970s; the emergence of women in collegiate sports in the '80s, including such athletes as track star Suzy Favor; and the intercollegiate athletics reform movement led by university presidents. All this comes to mind when looking back upon the legacy of the Big Ten.

The office of the commissioner of athletics was created in 1922 "to study athletic problems of the various Western Conference universities and assist in enforcing the eligibility rules which govern

Big Ten athletics." Major John L. Griffith was appointed as the first commissioner and served in that position until his death in 1944. Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, former director of athletics at Northwestern, served from 1944 until he retired in 1961. Bill Reed, an assistant commissioner since 1951, succeeded Wilson until his death in 1971. Wayne Duke became the fourth Big Ten commissioner in 1971 and retired June 30, 1989. Duke was succeeded by current Commissioner James E. Delany on July 1, 1989.

Delany came to the Big Ten with a legal background that also includes having worked as an enforcement representative for the NCAA and served as the Ohio Valley Conference Commissioner for 10 years. Delany oversees the operation of the Big Ten Conference office and its 23-member staff that work out of the Conference office headquarters and meetings center in Park Ridge, Illinois. The Conference office building is 10 minutes from O'Hare International Airport and has been designed to fully service the needs of the Conference's 60-plus different committees, coaches and governance groups that hold over 125 meeting days per year.

From the Conference office headquarters, Delany and his staff manage more than 200 live television events (more than any other sports entity), provide legislative and compliance services to member institutions and their personnel, manage championships and inseason competitive schedules for 24 sports, provide staff services to over 400 coaching and administrative personnel on Big Ten campuses, and service the needs and interests of media and fans.

The 1995-96 school year marks the Big Ten's 100th anniversary. The Conference's history of accomplishments and contributions will be spotlighted, as well as its potential for future success. The anniversary year will provide an opportunity to commemorate the many ways in which the association of Conference member universities have provided opportunities for individuals and teams to contribute not just to the world of athletics but also to society in various different fields.

The Centennial celebration begins with "Big Ten Centennial Week," July 31 through August 2, 1995 in Chicago. The week's highlight will be the Centennial Gala Reception and Dinner at the Palmer House Hilton, where the Big Ten held its first meetings. Garrison Keilor, renowned author and humorist, National Public Radio personality and host of "Prairie Home Companion", will be the distinguished guest speaker for the Dinner. The 50th anniversary of the Big Ten's partnership with the Rose Bowl will also be observed with a celebrity golf outing. The week wraps up with the 24th annual Big Ten Kickoff Luncheon at the Chicago Marriott Downtown on August 2.

The celebration continues throughout the 1995-96 academic year as Big Ten institutions host special Centennial events on their own campuses. Some of these events will take place in conjunction with football games, Homecoming celebrations and other campus happenings.

February 8, 1996 is the actual date of the Big Ten Conference's 100th anniversary and a Conference-wide celebration is planned to honor the Conference's birth date. Celebration plans for that date are continuing to unfold.

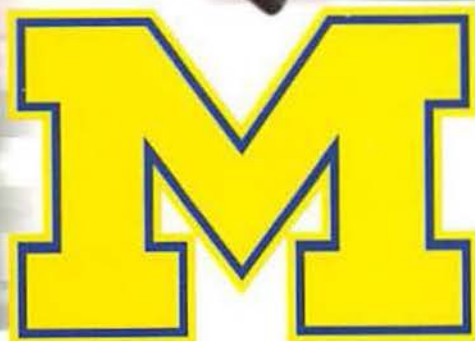

The Conference has undertaken many projects in preparation for the Centennial celebration. Throughout the year, the league will air television public service announcements, produce special publications, and present articles in alumni magazines, game programs and other school publications. In addition, the Centennial logo will appear on team uniforms and warmups, at campus athletic events and on Conference and institutional materials prior to and throughout the celebration. Commemorative merchandise, publications, artwork and video cassettes will be available to the public during Centennial period.

MICHIGAN AND THE NFL

With its outstanding football heritage, the University of Michigan has long been a source for the National Football League draft. Since the NFL's inaugural draft on Feb. 8, 1936, at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Philadelphia, 309 Michigan football players have been selected.

Michigan has had 30 first-round draft picks (tied for fourth-most among all collegiate teams), beginning with former All-American Tom Harmon and Forest Evashevski in the 1941 draft. Harmon was the first overall selection in 1941 after winning the Heisman Trophy. In 1995, three Wolverines were chosen in the first round: tailback Tyrone Wheatley by the New York Giants, defensive back Ty Law by the New England Patriots and offensive tackle Trezelle Jenkins by the Kansas City Chiefs.
